The Spartan Way Nic Fields,2013-02-28 One of the best books about the ancient world I ve ever read lively and informative Toy Solder Model Figure For a period of some 200 years Sparta was acknowledged throughout the Greek world as the home of the finest soldiers Xenophon called them the only true craftsmen in matters of war In this book Nic Fields explains the reasons for this superiority how their reputation for invincibility was earned and deliberately manipulated and how it was ultimately shattered The Spartan Way examines how Spartan society through its rigid laws and brutal educational system was thoroughly militarized and devoted to producing warriors suited to the intense demands of hoplite warfare professional killers inculcated with the values of unwavering obedience and a willingness to fight and die for their city The role of Spartan women as mothers and wives in shaping the warrior ethic is considered as are the role of uniform and rigorous training in enhancing the small unit cohesion within the phalanx and the psychological intimidation of the enemy The final chapters chart the course of Sparta s successes through the period of the Persian and Peloponnesian Wars through the Corinthian and Theban wars of the fourth century BC which culminated with the shattering military defeats at Leuctra and 2nd Mantinea and the years of her decline with the Spartans as a source of mercenaries for the wars of other states Includes maps

Constructing the Coens Allen Redmon,2015-02-02 The films of Ethan and Joel Coen have been embraced by mainstream audiences but also have been subject to intense scrutiny by critics and cinema scholars Movies such as Barton Fink The Hudsucker Proxy and Raising Arizona represent the filmmakers postmodern tendencies a subject many academics have written about at length But is it enough to reduce their features as expressions of postmodernism or are there other ways of viewing their work not only their individual films but their entire output as a collective whole In Constructing the

Coens From Blood Simple to Inside Llewyn Davis Allen H Redmon looks beyond the postmodern sensibilities of every film written and directed by the Coens to find an unexpected range of recurring ideas expressed in and about contemporary film In this volume Redmon tackles all of the films in the Coen brothers canon by examining among other topics narrative coherence in The Man Who Wasn't There intertextuality in No Country for Old Men and sexuality in Burn after Reading and O Brother Where Art Thou Additional chapters look at their films through the prisms of gender studies adaptation studies and a constructivist sensibility weaved throughout their work Considering the whole of the Coens output as well as many of the topics being discussed in contemporary film studies this book challenges viewers to reexamine their initial responses to these movies By engaging both the familiar and foreign elements in each film Constructing the Coens will appeal to fans of the brothers cinema but also to students and scholars of film theory adaptation studies queer theory and gender studies
