Growing Eco Communities Practical Ways To Create Sustainability:

Growing Eco-communities Jan Martin Bang, 2007 In his first book Ecovillages Jan Bang explained at the principles and practice of setting up a sustainable community including difficult decisions about management design and architecture farming and food water sewage energy sources and economics Growing Eco Communities looks at what comes next Groups aren't fixed by those earlier decisions and directions they grow and develop and not always in expected directions Jan Bang here provides a comprehensive overview of the different changes that groups can undergo and offers experienced advice on how to handle particular situations As in Ecovillages the book is anchored by numerous case studies of real life communities and how they've dealt with change There are sections on The Pioneering Phase including everybody does everything and decisions over dinner through the Maturity and Stability Phase including Procedures for new members and the rule of law and I want my own room to Old Age including the professionals take over the next generation and dynasty Throughout the author addresses practical issues of flexibility self sufficiency neighbours technology spirituality and money among others This is a candid inspiring and practical book which should be essential reading for anyone involved in a community or non residential group club or association

Eco-Homes Doctor Jenny Pickerill, 2016-01-15 It is widely understood that good affordable eco housing needs to be at the heart of any attempt to mitigate or adapt to climate change This is the first book to comprehensively explore eco housing from a geographical social and political perspective It starts from the premise that we already know how to build good eco houses and we already have the technology to retrofit existing housing Despite this relatively few eco houses are being built Featuring over thirty case studies of eco housing in Britain Spain Thailand Argentina and the United States Eco Homes examines the ways in which radical changes to our houses such as making them more temporary using natural materials or relying on manual heating and ventilation systems require changes in how we live As such it argues it is not lack of technology or political will that is holding us back from responding to climate change but deep rooted cultural and social understandings of our way of life and what we expect our houses to do for us

Space, Power and the Commons Samuel Kirwan, Leila Dawney, Julian Brigstocke, 2015-10-23 Across the globe political movements opposing privatisation enclosures and other spatial controls are coalescing towards the idea of the commons As a result struggles over the commons and common life are now coming to the forefront of both political activism and scholarly enquiry This book advances academic debates concerning the spatialities of the commons and draws out the diverse materialities temporalities and experiences of practices of commoning Part one Materialising the Commons focuses on the performance of new geographical imaginations in spatial and material practices of commoning Part two Spaces of Commoning explores the importance of the turn from commons to commoning bringing together chapters focusing on the doing of commons and how spaces materials bodies and abstract flows are intertwined in these complex and excessive processes Part three An Expanded Commons explores the broader registers and spaces in which the concept of the commons is at stake and highlights how and where the commons can open new areas of action and research Part four The Capture of the Commons questions the particular interdependence of the commons and enclosure assumed within commons literature framed by the concept of neoliberalism Providing a comprehensive introduction to the diverse ways in which ideas of the commons are being conceptualised and enacted both throughout the social sciences and in practical action this book foregrounds the commons as an arena for political thought and sets an agenda for future research Spiritual and Visionary Communities Professor Timothy Miller,2013-03-28 Exploring religious and spiritual intentional communities active in the world today Spiritual and Visionary Communities provides a balanced introduction to a diverse range of communities worldwide Breaking new ground with its focus on communities which have had little previous academic or public attention the authors explore a part of contemporary society which is rarely understood Communities studied include Israeli kibbutzim Mandarom the Twelve Tribes The Farm and the Camphill movement Written from a range of perspectives this collection includes contributions from members of the groups themselves former members and academic observers and as such will offer a unique and invaluable discussion of religious and spiritual communities in the U S Europe and beyond Spiritual and Visionary Communities Timothy Miller,2016-04-01 Exploring religious and spiritual intentional communities active in the world today Spiritual and Visionary Communities provides a balanced introduction to a diverse range of communities worldwide Breaking new ground with its focus on communities which have had little previous academic or public attention the authors explore a part of contemporary society which is rarely understood Communities studied include Israeli kibbutzim Mandarom the Twelve Tribes The Farm and the Camphill movement Written from a range of perspectives this collection includes contributions from members of the groups themselves former members and academic observers and as such will offer a unique and invaluable discussion of religious and spiritual communities in the U S Europe and beyond Permaculture Craig Gibsone,Jan Martin Bang,2015-06-22 Permaculture design as divine creative activity Permaculture looks for the patterns embedded in our natural world as inspirations for designing solutions to the many challenges we are presented with today It is a philosophical spiritual and practical approach to the use of the land integrating microclimate functional plants animals soils water management and human needs into intricately connected highly productive systems In essence permaculture uses observation as basis for creating sustainable and effective human settlements The authors discuss the components Earthshare Fairshare and Peoplecare with a specific emphasis on the spiritual aspects of the design process Topics range from soil and plants energy sources and house design to alternative economics group process governance and spiritual nurturing and enquiry Examples of existing permaculture structures from around the world most notably from the Findhorn Community Eco Village bring the concepts to life First hand accounts of how people got started on their permaculture project lend a personal touch The first book to look at the spiritual aspects as well as the practical implementation of permaculture design Nothing to Prove Seamus Bradley,2012-08-20 The adoption and acceptance of a competitive capitalist mentality has been central in framing a singular and misleading interpretation of the world. However, it need not be so. It is up to each of us to begin to shape our immediate surroundings towards the society we wish to see into the future. We have nothing to prove. The Ecologist, 2008. Environmental Science Daniel D. Chiras, 2006. Completely updated the seventh edition of Environmental Science enlightens students on the fundamental causes of the current environmental crisis and offers ideas on how we as a global community can create a sustainable future. Advances in Ecopolitics Liam Leonard, 2008-01-01. Advances in Ecopolitics includes a range of publications which each discuss a significant element in the environmental theory which now represent an important aspect of sustainable living. Creating Sustainable Community Programs Mark R. Daniels, 2001-02-28. Public opinion polls consistently reveal the lack of confidence, disillusionment and mistrust that citizens feel toward government. Daniels and his contributors believe that the relationship between citizens and their governments can be changed by facilitating greater citizen collaboration with government, particularly through local sustainable programs. As the case studies show, often sustainable community programs are created through grassroots movements that are initiated and managed by citizens themselves, bringing them in contact with their local elected and appointed officials. Unlike traditional programs that are administered by local officials on behalf of their citizens, once sustainable community programs are created, citizens administer their own programs in collaboration with local officials. The case studies look at a variety of sustainable programs primarily in the United States that help to deal with issues such as recycling, transportation, microcredit, site redevelopment, pollution, health care and hunger. Creating Sustainable Community Programs is the first book on sustainable programs that is intended for an audience of public administration scholars, researchers and students as well as practitioners who are searching for ways to change the relationship between citizens and their governments. Green Careers in Building and Landscaping: Professional and Skilled Jobs Peterson's, 2011-04-01. As part of Peterson's Green Careers in Building and Landscaping, this eBook offers detailed information on various careers in the following building design and construction, installation, operations, commercial, industrial, landscaping, policy analysis, advocacy, regulatory affairs. Globalization and Corporate Citizenship: The Alternative Gaze Malcolm McIntosh, 2017-09-08

The theory and practice of corporate citizenship and CSR have many alternative perspectives to the business as usual gaze The essays in this volume encapsulate the essence of these alternative ideas and embrace the idea that progressive ways and means of this century do not lie in mainstream capitalist thinking These pieces ask critical questions about the way we see the relationship between capitalism business models and society a subject not often discussed in non academic literature

Globalization and Corporate Citizenship: The Alternative Gaze features contributions and new analysis from Klaus M Leisinger Chris Laszlo David Cooperrider Simon Zadek Sandra Waddock and others This title is one of a two volume set a collection of seminal and thought provoking essays drawn from the Journal of Corporate Citizenship's archive accompanied by new analysis and reflection from the original authors Written by some of the most widely recognized academic and business pioneers and leaders of the corporate responsibility and global sustainability movement the volumes make essential reference texts for anyone interested in the radically awakening new global political economy

Terms for Endearment Jem Bendell, 2017-09-08

Business and NGOs are seen by many to be locked in a perpetual war of values and ideologies What this book demonstrates is that the war has moved on Many companies are now engaging with their stakeholders even those with which they have traditionally had antagonistic relationships as part of their strategies for improved social and environmental performance With contributions from an outstanding and diverse group of experts from business consultancy research institutes NGOs and academia Terms for Endearment investigates the how and why of these new collaborations and provides concrete examples of business working with stakeholder pressure for sustainable development The book forcibly argues the notion of organizations of civil society setting the standards for business behaviour in the 21st century For those companies that choose not to pursue high standards of social and environmental performance confrontation with NGOs must be expected with negative consequences for sales costs and social capital i.e. the bottom line Terms for Endearment therefore presents business with both a threat and opportunity as we move closer to establishing a social basis for global economic activity
