Trials of Labour Brian E. Burtch,1994 Brian Burtch looks at contemporary midwifery practice in Canada and the role of the state in shaping and defining that practice He examines the qualifications of midwives and discusses their legal status the legacy of competition between nurses and midwives and the impact of legal actions concerning midwifery practice He emphasizes the pivotal role of the state in supporting midwifery and discusses the difficulties created by increasing interest in midwifery among expectant women and the social forces that inhibit the establishment of a self governing midwifery profession

Blessed Events Pamela E. Klassen,2021-06-08 Blessed Events explores how women who give birth at home use religion to make sense of their births and in turn draw on their birthing experiences to bring meaning to their lives and families Pamela Klassen introduces a surprisingly diverse group of women in their own words while also setting their birth stories within wider social political and economic contexts In doing so she emerges with a study that disrupts conventional views of both childbirth and religion by blurring assumed divisions between conservative and feminist women and by taking childbirth seriously as a religious act Most American women who have a choice give birth in a hospital and request pain medication Yet enough women choose and advocate unmedicated home birth and do so for carefully articulated reasons social resistance among them to constitute a movement Klassen investigates why women whose religious affiliations range from Old Order Amish to Reform Judaism to goddess centered spirituality defy majority opinion the medical establishment and sometimes the law to have their babies at home In considering their interpretations including their critiques of the dominant medical model of childbirth and their views on labor pain she examines the kinds of agency afforded to or denied women as they derive religious meanings from childbirth Throughout she identifies tensions and affinities between feminist and traditionalist appraisals of the symbolic meaning of birth and the power of women What does home birth a woman centered movement working to return birth to women s control mean in practice for women s gender and religious identities Is this supreme valuing of procreation and motherhood constraining or does it open up new realms of cultural and social power for women By asking these questions while remaining cognizant of religion s significance Blessed Events challenges both feminist and traditionalist accounts of childbearing while broadening our understanding of how religion is lived in contemporary America

Childbirth and Authoritative Knowledge Robbie E. Davis-Floyd, Carolyn Fishel Sargent, 2023-04-28 This benchmark collection of cross cultural essays on reproduction and childbirth extends and enriches the work of Brigitte Jordan who helped generate and define the field of the anthropology of birth The authors focus on authoritative knowledge the knowledge that counts on the basis of which decisions are made and actions taken highlights the vast differences between birthing systems that give authority of knowing to women and their communities and those that invest it in experts and machines Childbirth and Authoritative Knowledge offers first hand ethnographic research conducted by anthropologists in sixteen different societies and cultures and includes the interdisciplinary perspectives of a social psychologist a sociologist an epidemiologist a staff member of the World Health Organization and a community midwife Exciting directions for further research as well as pressing needs for policy guidance emerge from these illuminating explorations of authoritative knowledge about birth This book is certain to follow Jordan s Birth in Four Cultures as the definitive volume in a rapidly expanding field This title is part of UC Press s Voices Revived program which commemorates University of California Press s mission to seek out and cultivate the brightest minds and give them voice reach and impact Drawing on a backlist dating to 1893 Voices Revived makes high quality peer reviewed scholarship accessible once again using print on demand technology This title was originally published in 1999 This benchmark collection of cross cultural essays on reproduction and childbirth extends and enriches the work of Brigitte Jordan who helped generate and define the field of the anthropology of birth The authors focus on authoritative knowledge the kn

Birth Justice Rodante Waal, 2025-10-01 Reproductive injustice is an urgent global problem We are faced with the increased criminalization of abortion higher maternal and neonatal mortality rates for people of color and more and more research addressing the structural nature of obstetric violence In this collection of essays the cause of reproductive injustice is understood as the institutionalized isolation of potentially pregnant people making them vulnerable for bio and necropolitical disciplination and control The central thesis of this book is that reproductive justice must be achieved through a radical reappropriation of relationality in reproductive care to safeguard the access to knowledge and care needed for safe bodily self determination Through empirical research as well as decolonial feminist midwifery and Black theory reproductive justice is reimagined as abolitionist care grounded in the abolition of authoritative obstetric institutions state control of reproduction and restrictive abortion laws in favor of community practices that are truly relational

At Work in the Field of Birth Margaret MacDonald, 2007 At Work in the Field of Birth is an ethnographic study of midwifery in Canada in the wake of its historic transition from the margins as a grassroots social movement devoted to low tech woman centered care to a regulated profession within the public health care system In January 1994 after decades of lobbying by midwives and their supporters the province of Ontario recognized midwifery as a profession for the first time in more than a century Through stories about becoming and being a midwife and stories about receiving midwifery care this book describes how fundamental tenets of midwifery philosophy and practice the meaning of tradition natural birth and home birth and the place of medical technology in midwifery are being reworked by the practical and ideological challenges of midwifery's new place within the formal health care system MacDonald presents contemporary midwifery as a complex cultural system in which nature and tradition emerge as dynamic rather than essentialized social categories of meaning and experience Antropologia n. 12 I.

Maffi, 2010 Questo numero di Antropologia curato da Irene Maffi intende proporre una riflessione intorno alla nascita intesa nella sua complessità culturale sociale politica e economica in quanto evento che occupa una posizione centrale nel modo in cui una società concepisce e organizza se stessa allo scopo di garantire la propria esistenza e la propria continuità nel tempo La nascita permette di pensare alle articolazioni tra passato presente e futuro e al senso attribuito ai processi di dare la vita e venire al mondo Poiché la nascita un evento cruciale per i singoli individui così come per tutta la collettività il modo di definirla e di organizzarla sono altamente significativi di più ampi e articolati arrangiamenti simbolici e pratici L'analisi sviluppata dagli articoli contenuti in questo volume si iscrive a pieno titolo all'interno dell'antropologia della nascita una sotto-disciplina nata negli anni Settanta in contemporanea all'emergenza della riflessione femminista e mira a mettere in luce gli aspetti pragmatici e nello stesso tempo simbolici e politici elaborati e messi in pratica dal sistema biomedico nella gestione della nascita
