What Glasses Are You Wearing?

How do you tend to guess or exaggerate? They change the way things are, don't they? Well, sometimes our brains see your glasses, and we can get tripped about the way things really are. Here are some common "glasses" our brains can wear, and the ways they can take up our things differently.

Something's the Positive
When your brain doesn't "trust" the good stuff!
If you do well on a test, you might think "I got lucky."
If you get a compliment, you might think "Oh, how kind is she that because that's my friend!"

Mind Reading
These glasses make you think you know what others are thinking. If a group of kids is over there laughing together, you might think "They are talking about me and laughing about my presentation!"

Catastrophizing
These glasses make you think that even small or random event problems are really problems. If you look a little out of focus, you might think "Everyone here thinks I'm stupid and I will spend the rest of my life alone!"

Black and White Thinking
When your brain looks only at extremes or "all or nothing". If you forget something for school, you might think "That's it, the whole day is ruined!"

Overgeneralization
Things only "count" in terms of big conclusions. If you make a mistake, you might think "I messed up everything!"

Mind Reading
These glasses make you think you know what others are thinking. If a group of kids is over there laughing together, you might think "They are talking about me and laughing about my presentation!"
