Season to Taste Caroline J. Smith, 2023-05-18, 2024 Honorable Mention Recipient for the Emily Toth Award for the Best Single Work by One or More Authors from the Popular Culture Association. Between 2000 and 2010, many contemporary US American women writers were returning to the private space of the kitchen, writing about their experiences in that space, and then publishing their memoirs for the larger public to consume. Season to Taste: Rewriting Kitchen Space in Contemporary Women's Food Memoirs explores women's food memoirs with recipes in order to consider the ways in which these women are rewriting this kitchen space and renegotiating their relationships with food. Caroline J. Smith begins the book with a historical overview of how the space of the kitchen and the expectations of women associated with it have shifted considerably since the 1960s. Better Homes and Gardens, as well as the discourse of the second-wave feminist movement, tended to depict the space as a place of imprisonment. The contemporary popular writers examined in Season to Taste, such as Ruth Reichl, Kim Sun-e, Jocelyn Delk Adams, Julie Powell, and Molly Wizenberg, respond to this characterization by instead presenting the kitchen as a place of transformation. In their memoirs and recipes, these authors reinterpret their roles within the private sphere of the home as well as the public sphere of the world of publishing, whether print or digital publication. The authors examined here explode the divide of private/feminine and public/masculine in both content and form, and complicate the genres of recipe writing, diary writing, and memoir. These women writers, through the act of preparing and consuming food, encourage readers to reconsider the changing gender politics of the kitchen The Third Thursday Community Potluck Cookbook Nancy Vienneau, 2014-06-24 Time at the table with good food in reach fosters community The recipes collected in this cookbook fulfill that promise drawing close a diverse assemblage of Nashville folk who understand how potlucks deliver both sacrament and sustenance When professional cook and author Nancy Vienneau started a casual potluck celebrating good food and goodwill she had no idea it would be going strong five years later The ever changing group of diverse people who attend have one thing in common a dedication to good food As a result every month a non scripted parade of seasonally inspired dishes appears In The Third Community Potluck Cookbook Vienneau shares recipes such as Roasted Tomato Goat Cheese Tart Me me s Chocolate Cake Chicken Baked with Fresh Plums Acorn Squash with Southern Sorghum and Pecans Crowder Pea Salad Pimiento Cheese with Farmstead Cheddar These dishes draw on ingredients from the participants own gardens their neighbors yards or the farmers market Like a sourdough starter made from flour yeast and water this simple get together has grown into a lively rich event full of interesting folks and food These meals celebrate their provenance and their history The Third Community Potluck Cookbook provides glorious dishes heartfelt stories plus tips and ideas for starting your own community potluck Did someone say it s Thursday Unpalatable Carrie Helms Tippen, 2025-01-15 The cookbook genre is highly conventional with an orientation toward celebration and success From glossy photographs to heartwarming stories and adjective rich ingredient lists the cookbook tradition primes readers for pleasure Yet the overarching narrative of the region is often one of pain loss privation exploitation poverty and suffering of various kinds While some cookbook writers go to great lengths to avoid reminding readers of this painful past others invoke that pain as a marker of southern authenticity Still others use stories of southern suffering as an opportunity to make space for reconciliation reparation or apology for past wrongs In Unpalatable Stories of Pain and Pleasure in Southern Cookbooks author Carrie Helms Tippen attempts to understand the unique rhetorical situation of the southern cookbook as it negotiates a tension between the expectations of the genre and the prevailing metanarratives of the southern experience one focused on pleasure and the other rooted in pain Through an analysis of commercially published southern cookbooks from the 1990s to the present Tippen examines the range of rhetorical purposes and strategies writers have employed some of which undermine the reality of a painful past and cause harm or violence and others which serve as tools for truth and reconciliation Will Write for Food Dianne Jacob, 2021-05-25 Do you love both food and writing and want to know the secrets of bestselling cookbook authors successful food bloggers and freelance writers Noted journalist and writing instructor Dianne Jacob combines over 20 years of experience to teach you how to take your passion from the plate to the page With tips for crafting your best work getting published and turning your passion into cash Jacob will transform you from starving artist into well fed writer Whether you ve been writing for years or are just starting out this updated edition of Will Write for Food offers what you need to know to succeed and thrive including A new chapter on how to create a strong voice
