An Examination of the Singular in Maimonides and Spinoza Norman L. Whitman,2020-08-14 This book presents an alternative reading of the respective works of Moses Maimonides and Baruch Spinoza It argues that both thinkers are primarily concerned with the singular perfection of the complete human being rather than with attaining only rational knowledge Complete perfection of a human being expresses the unique concord of concrete activities such as ethics politics and psychology with reason The necessity of concrete historical activities in generating perfection entails that both thinkers are not primarily concerned with an escape to a metaphysical realm of transcendent or universal truths via cognition Instead both are focused on developing and cultivating individuals concrete desires and activities to the potential benefit of all This book argues that rather than solely focusing on individual enlightenment both thinkers are primarily concerned with a political life and the improvement of fellow citizens capacities A key theme throughout the text is that both Maimonides and Spinoza realize that an apolitical life undermines individual and social flourishing

Marie-Theres Wacker,2016-04-01 Baruch and the Letter of Jeremiah are among the so called deuterocanonical books of the Bible part of the larger Catholic biblical canon Except for a short article in the Women s Bible Commentary no detailed or comprehensive feminist commentary on these books is available so far Marie Theres Wacker reads both books with an approach that is sensitive to gender and identity issues The book of Baruch with its reflections on guilt of the fathers with its transformation of wisdom into the Book of God s commandments and with its strong symbol of mother and queen Jerusalem offers a new and creative digest of Torah writings and prophets but seems to address primarily learned men The so called Letter of Jeremiah is an impressive document that unmasks pseudo deities but at the same draws sharp lines between the group s identity and the others using women of the others as boundary markers
