

Guided Democracy

- In 1957 Sukarno established guided democracy to “save” the country.
 - A national advisory council was established composed of representative groups, e.g., peasants, workers, the military.
 - A “cooperating parliament” was established in place of the elected parliament. Opinion could be expressed but votes were not taken. The goal was to govern by deliberation and consensus.

Masters of Political Science Donatella Campus, Gianfranco Pasquino, 2009-09-01 For a while now political science as a discipline has been big enough in terms of the number of academics and analytically mature enough to justify reflections on and reviews of its achievements In fact there is no lack of general handbooks dictionaries and state of the art assessments as well as reflective journals such as the ECPR's own European Political Science which are useful in helping us to understand and evaluate where we currently are and where we might still need to go The focus of these texts however is on particular concepts themes research areas institutions or behaviour What they rarely do is indulge in a critical reflection on the political scientists themselves especially those who are commonly accepted as having made the most significant contributions to the growth of their discipline This book fills an important gap in the growing reflective literature on the political science discipline it consists of a series of objective profiles of the Masters of Political Science written by political scientists who have read and studied their work and who are therefore in a position to evaluate the nature of their contributions The Masters Robert Dahl Anthony Downs David Easton S E Finer Samuel P Huntington Juan J Linz Seymour Martin Lipset Giovanni Sartori Sidney Verba Aaron Wildavsky Hans Morgenthau Masters of Political Science was originally published in Italian by il Mulino Publishing House

Evolution of constitutionalism in the selected states of Central and Eastern Europe Krzysztof Prokop, 2010 Television, Nation, and Culture in Indonesia Philip Kitley, 2014-07-31

The culture of television in Indonesia began with its establishment in 1962 as a public broadcasting service From that time through the deregulation of television broadcasting in 1990 and the establishment of commercial channels television can be understood Philip Kitley argues as a part of the New Order's national culture project designed to legitimate an idealized Indonesian national cultural identity But Professor Kitley suggests that it also has become a site for the contestation of elements of the New Order's cultural policies Based on his studies he further speculates on the increasingly significant role that television is destined to play as a site of cultural and political struggle

The Candidate's Dilemma Elisabeth A. Kramer, 2022-06-15 In The Candidate's Dilemma Elisabeth Kramer tells the story of how three political candidates in Indonesia made decisions to resist engage in or otherwise incorporate money politics into their electioneering strategies over the course of their campaigns As they campaign candidates encounter pressure from the institutional rules that guide elections political parties and voters and must also negotiate complex social relationships to remain competitive For anticorruption candidates this context presents additional challenges for building and maintaining their identities Some of these candidates establish their campaign parameters early and are able to stay their course For others the campaign trail results in an avalanche of compromises each one eating away at their sense of what constitutes moral and acceptable behavior The Candidate s Dilemma delves into the lived experiences of candidates to offer a nuanced study of how the political and personal intersect when it comes to money politics anticorruptionism and electoral campaigning in Indonesia
