The Violence of the Biblical God L. Daniel Hawk, 2019-01-08 How can we make sense of violence in the Bible Joshua commands the people of Israel to wipe out everyone in the promised land of Canaan while Jesus commands God's people to love their enemies How are we to interpret biblical passages on violence when it is sanctioned at one point and condemned at another The Violence of the Biblical God by L Daniel Hawk presents a new framework solidly rooted in the authority of Scripture for understanding the paradox of God's participation in violence Hawk shows how the historical narrative of the Bible offers multiple canonical pictures for faithful Christian engagement with the violent systems of the world

Testament of Abraham Dale C. Allison, 2013-08-26 This first verse by verse commentary on the Greek text of the Testament of Abraham places the work within the history of both Jewish and Christian literature It emphasizes the literary artistry and comedic nature of the Testament brings to the task of interpretation a mass of comparative material and establishes that although the Testament goes back to a Jewish tale of the first or second century CE the Christian elements are much more extensive than has previously been realized The commentary further highlights the dependence of the Testament upon both Greco Roman mythology and the Jewish Bible This should be the standard commentary for years to come

Our God Loves Justice W. Travis McMaken, 2017-11-01 Helmut Gollwitzer was a direct heir of the theological legacy of the great Protestant theologian Karl Barth More than any of Barth's other interpreters Gollwitzer embraced and extended the sociopolitical impulses and implications within Barth's theology In this Gollwitzer embodies a salient and necessary alternative in the American context of increasingly intertwined theological and political discourses This volume the first book length study of Gollwitzer available in English provides a helpful introduction to the life theology and political thought of this crucial theologian and public intellectual
