Islam and the Veil Theodore Gabriel, Rabiha Hannan, 2011-04-21 This volume is centred around the theme of veiling in Islam and provides multifarious aspects of the discussion regarding veiling of Muslim women especially in the West. The issue of veiling has been intensively debated in Western society and has implications for religious liberty, inter communal relationships and cultural interaction. Islam and the Veil seeks to generate open and objective discussion of this highly important though controversial subject with contributions from distinguished scholars and academics including female practitioners of Islam. This subject has inflamed passions and generated heated debate in the media in recent years particularly in the West. This book aims to look at the historical background, theological and social factors underlying the veiling of women in Islam. Such discussion will provide the reader with a well balanced and unbiased analysis of this important aspect of Islamic practice.

Islam on Campus Alison Scott-Baumann, Mathew Guest, Shuruq Naguib, Saria Cheruvallil-Contractor, Aisha Phoenix, 2020-10-16 Islam on Campus explores how Islam is represented, perceived and lived within higher education in Britain. It is a book about the changing nature of university life and the place of religion within it. Even while many universities maintain ambiguous or affirming orientations to religious institutions for reasons to do with history and ethos, much western scholarship has presumed higher education to be a strongly secularizing force. This framing has resulted in religion often being marginalized or ignored as a cultural irrelevance by the university sector. However, recent times have seen higher education increasingly drawn into political discourses that problematize religion in general and Islam in particular as an object of risk. Using the largest data set yet collected in the UK, this book explores university life and the ways in which ideas about Islam and Muslim identities are produced, experienced, perceived, appropriated and objectified. It asks what role universities and Muslim higher education institutions play in the production, reinforcement and contestation of emerging narratives about religious difference. This is a culturally nuanced treatment of universities as sites of knowledge production and contexts for the negotiation of perspectives on culture and religion among an emerging generation. It demonstrates the urgent need to release Islam from its official role as the othered, the feared.

When universities achieve this we will be able to help students of all affiliations and of none to be citizens of the campus in preparation for being citizens of the world

Christians' and Muslims' Responses to the COVID-19 Pandemic in Nigeria Afis A. Oladosu, Abdulrazaq Kilani, Samuel Okanlawon, 2024-06-24 This collection of essays attempts to speak to the past as it does the future It engages the dialectics in Christians and Muslims responses to the COVID 19 pandemic from theological philosophical sociological and gender perspectives The interdisciplinary approach became a necessity based on the realization that beyond the high fatalities that resulted from the pandemic people s responses to it were as eclectic as were their existential realities This volume is particularly unique because it yields space to Christianity and Islam and presents the trajectories in their practitioners response to the pandemic The authors historicize theorize and theologize these responses and present exemplar templates of coping mechanisms for religious institutions and people faced with unconventional situations bordering on religious ideals The book is a valuable resource for scholars religious leaders historians health practitioners and faith based organizations on strategies to adopt for future pandemics

Un-Veiling Dichotomies Giorgia Baldi, 2021-09-27 This book analyzes the implication of secular liberal values in Western and human rights law and its impact on Muslim women It offers an innovative reading of the tension between the religious and secular spheres The author does not view the two as binary opposites Rather she believes they are twin categories that define specific forms of lives as well as a specific notion of womanhood This divergence from the usual dichotomy opens the doors for a reinterpretation of secularism in contemporary Europe This method also helps readers to view the study of religion vs secularism in a new light It allows for a better understanding of the challenges that contemporary Europe now faces regarding the accommodation of different religious identities For instance one entire section of the book concerns the practice of veiling and explores the contentious headscarf debate It features case studies from Germany France and the UK In addition the analysis combines a wide range of disciplines and employs an integrated comparative and inter disciplinary approach The author successfully brings together arguments from different fields with a comparative legal and political analysis of Western and Islamic law and politics This innovative study appeals to students and researchers while offering an important contribution to the debate over the role of religion in contemporary secular Europe and its impact on women s rights and gender equality

Islam in British media discourses Laurens de Rooij, 2020-05-09 Media reporting on Islam and Muslims commonly relate stories about terrorism violence or the lack of integration with western values and society Yet there is little research into how non Muslims engage with and are affected by these news reports Inspired by the overtly negative coverage of Islam and Muslims by the mainstream press and the increase in Islamophobia across Europe this book explores the influence of these depictions on the thoughts and actions of non Muslims Building on extensive fieldwork interviews and focus groups Laurens de Rooij argues that individuals negotiate media reports to fit their existing outlook on Islam and Muslims Non Muslim responses to these reports de Rooij argues are not only re productions of local and personal contextuality but are co dependent and co

Extremism, Free Speech and Counter-Terrorism Law and Policy Ian Cram, 2019-03-27 This edited collection addresses a number of free speech vs security concerns that are engaged by counter terrorism law and policy makers across a number of liberal democracies and explores the delicate balance between free speech and the censoring of views that promote hatred or clash with fundamental democratic values It does this by looking at the perspectives and level of disagreement between those who consider today's counter terrorism and extremism strategies to be a soft and liberal approach and those who believe these strategies disproportionately impact freedom of expression and association and non violent political dissent The contributors include academics practicing lawyers and think tank analysts who examine whether universities and schools incubators of violent radicalism and debate and whether the views of extremist speakers and hate preachers need to be censored Outside the UK critical discussion of the regulation of counter terrorism extremism and free speech in other liberal democracies is also offered This book will be of great interest to researchers and practitioners with interests in extremism terrorism civil rights and freedom of speech      Managing Spoiled Identity Beata displaced How in the aftermath of these displacements did they remake their communities Shenila Khoja Moolji highlights women s critical role in this rebuilding process and breaks new ground by writing women into modern Ismaili history Rebuilding Community tells the story of how Ismaili Muslim women who fled East Pakistan and East Africa in the 1970s recreated religious community jamat in North America Drawing on oral histories fieldwork and memory texts Khoja Moolji illuminates the placemaking activities through which Ismaili women reproduce bonds of spiritual kinship from cooking for congregants on feast days and looking after sick coreligionists to engaging in memory work through miracle stories and cookbooks Khoja Moolji situates these activities within the framework of ethical norms that more broadly define and sustain the Ismaili sociality Jamat and religious community more generally is not a given but an ethical relation that is maintained daily and intergenerationally through everyday acts of care By emphasizing women s care work in producing relationality and repairing trauma Khoja Moolji disrupts the conventional articulation of displaced people as dependent subjects

Beyond Accommodation Jennifer Selby,Amelie Barras,Lori G. Beaman,2018-09-01 Problems of integration failed political participation and requests for various kinds of accommodation seem to dominate the research on minority Muslims in Western nations Beyond Accommodation offers a different perspective showing how Muslim Canadians successfully navigate and negotiate their religiosity in the more mundane moments of their lives Drawing on interviews with Muslims in Montreal and St John s Selby Barras and Beaman examine moments in which religiosity is worked out They critique the model of reasonable accommodation which has been lauded internationally for acknowledging and accommodating religious and cultural differences The authors suggest that it disempowers religious minorities by implicitly privileging Christianity and by placing the onus on minorities to make requests for accommodation The interviewees show that informal negotiation occurs all the time scholars however have not been paying attention This book advances a new model for studying the navigation and negotiation of religion in the public sphere and presents an alternative picture of how religious difference is woven into the fabric of Canadian society
