This amalgam of traditions has emerged to serve the Internet's voracious appetite for video stories. Videojournalism is written for the new generation of backpack journalists. The solo videojournalist must find a riveting story, gain access to charismatic characters who can tell their own tales, shoot candid clips, expertly interview the players, record clear, clean sound, write a script with pizzazz and finally edit the material into a piece worthy of five minutes of a viewer's attention. Videojournalism addresses all of these challenges and more, never losing sight of the main point: telling a great story. This book, based on extensive interviews with professionals in the field, is for anyone learning how to master the art and craft of telling real short-form stories with words, sound and pictures for the Web or television. The opening chapters cover the foundations of multimedia storytelling and the book progresses to the techniques required to shoot professional video and record high-quality sound and market the resulting product. Videojournalism also has its own website; go to just one URL and find all the stories mentioned in the book. You also will find various how-to videos on the site. To keep up with the latest changes in the field, such as new cameras, new books, new stories or editing software, check the site regularly and like www.facebook.com/KobreGuide. Brain Food Guide Jenny Smith, AI, 2025-02-27 Unlock your cognitive potential with Brain Food Guide, a comprehensive exploration of how nutrition impacts brain health.
