Drawing the Past, Volume 1 Dorian L. Alexander, Michael Goodrum, Philip Smith, 2022-01-04 Contributions by Lawrence Abrams Dorian L. Alexander Max Bledstein Peter Cullen Bryan Stephen Connor Matthew J. Costello Martin Flanagan Michael Fuchs Michael Goodrum Bridget Keown Kaleb Knobloch Christina M. Knopf Martin Lund Jordan Newton Stefan Rabitsch Maryanne Rhett and Philip Smith History has always been a matter of arranging evidence into a narrative but the public debate over the meanings we attach to a given history can seem particularly acute in our current age Like all artistic mediums comics possess the power to mold history into shapes that serve its prospective audience and creator both It makes sense then that history no stranger to the creation of hagiographies particularly in the service of nationalism and other political ideologies is so easily summoned to the panelled page Comics like statues museums and other vehicles for historical narrative make both monsters and heroes of men while fueling combative beliefs in personal versions of United States history Drawing the Past Volume 1 Comics and the Historical Imagination in the United States the first book in a two volume series provides a map of current approaches to comics and their engagement with historical representation The first section of the book on history and form explores the existence shape and influence of comics as a medium The second section concerns the question of trauma understood both as individual traumas that can shape the relationship between the narrator and object and historical traumas that invite a reassessment of existing social economic and cultural assumptions The final section on mythic histories delves into ways in which comics add to the mythology of the US Together both volumes bring together a range of different approaches to diverse material and feature remarkable scholars from all over the world
