Hate Crimes Revisited Americas War On Those Who Are Different:

Hate Crimes Revisited Jack Levin, Jack McDevitt, 2002-09-13 The authors of Hate Crimes The Rising Tide of Bigotry and Bloodshed 1993 take another look at the subject Particular attention is paid to violence based on nationality and country of origin which appears to be on the rise following the terrorist attacks of September 11 Levin and McDevitt both Northeastern U argue that hate crimes hurt not only the victim but damage society as a whole Annotation copyrighted by Book News Inc Portland OR

Hate Crimes Revisited Jack Levin, Jack McDevitt, 2009-03-25 Hate crimes violence aimed at individuals because they are members of a particular group were once considered the rare illegal actions of a small but vocal assortment of extremists who thrived on hating minorities No more In this new book by two of the country's leading experts on hate crimes published ten years after their classic book of the same name these most recognized authorities and media commentators reinterpret this scourge of our generation hatred based on race religion sexual orientation ethnicity gender and even citizenship In the aftermath of the worst act of terrorism in this country's history the bombing of the World Trade Center on September 11 2001 the authors probe the causes and characteristics of such acts of hatred and most vitally their consequences for all of us

Proof, Evidence and Hate Crime Tshepo Bogosi Mosaka, 2025-07-18 Proof is the property of a disputed fact being established inferentially from an extant fact This book explicates the structural components of this phenomenon in the context of hate crimes across various jurisdictions around the world It departs from the orthodox conception of evidence and proof as being a general value neutral or non normative and epistemic subject and offers a relativistic conception of this area of law The core argument is that proof is both semantically and methodologically determined by three conditions of materiality process and probativity This argument is then justified by the context specific application of this relativistic theory of proof to hate crimes This theoretical application of proof is sustained throughout the book using multiple examples and illustrations of hate crimes around the world The discussion both at the level of proof and hate crimes while focusing on the grounds of race religion and ethnicity specifically is framed in jurisprudential cross jurisdictional and interdisciplinary terms The book will be of interest to academics and researchers working in the areas of criminal law legal philosophy and procedural law

The Measurement of Hate Crimes in America Frank S. Pezzella, Matthew D. Fetzer, 2020-10-23 Using data from the Uniform Crime Reporting Hate Crime Statistics Program and the National Crime Victimization Survey this brief highlights the uniqueness of hate or bias crime victimization It compares these to non bias crimes and delineates the situational circumstances that distinguish bias from non bias offending The nuances of under reporting shed light on bias group and victim reasons for not reporting By examining measurement issues associated with data collection systems this brief helps explain why eighty nine percent of participating law enforcement agencies report zero hate crimes each year It describes patterns and trends in reporting the volume of general bias motivations and specific bias types as the most prevalent hate crime offense types and most likely victims and offenders With recommendations to address issues in measurement and under reporting including an action plan by the Enhance the Response to Hate Crimes Advisory Committee and the International Association of Chiefs of Police a best practice model by the Oak Creek Police Department and other promising law enforcement reporting models this brief provides an increasingly critical resource for law enforcement practitioners and researchers dealing with hate crimes Victims of Crime Robert C. Hunting Season Mirta Ojito, 2013-10-15 Ojito has done truth an invaluable service Extraordinary Junot Diaz author of The Brief Wondrous Life of Oscar Wao 2014 International Latino Awards Finalist A Pulitzer Prize winning journalist uncovers the true story of an immigrant s murder that turned a quaint village on the Long Island shore into ground zero in the war on immigration In November 2008 37 year old Marcelo Lucero an unassuming worker at a dry cleaner's and an undocumented Ecuadorean immigrant was attacked and murdered by a group of teenagers as he walked the streets of the Long Island village of Patchogue accompanied by a childhood friend. The attackers were out hunting for beaners. Some of the kids later confessed that chasing, harassing and assaulting defenseless beaners, their slur for Latinos, was part of their weekly entertainment. In recent years, Latinos have become the target of hate crimes as the nation wrestles with swelling numbers of undocumented immigrants. Public figures fan the flames and advance their careers by spewing anti-immigration rhetoric. In death, Lucero became a symbol of everything that was wrong with our broken immigration system: fewer opportunities to obtain travel visas to the United States, porous borders, a growing dependency on cheap labor and the rise of bigotry. Drawing on firsthand interviews and on the ground reporting, journalist Mirta Ojito has crafted an unflinching portrait of one community struggling to reconcile the hate and fear underlying the idyllic veneer of their all-American town. With a strong commitment to telling all sides of the story, Ojito unravels the engrossing narrative with objectivity and insight, providing an invaluable look at one of America's most pressing issues. Reminds us how we might think of each other and how we treat all of our neighbors, whether or not they look like us. This is our human story. Wes Moore, author of The Other Wes Moore. Social Issues in Living Color Arthur W. Blume, 2017-02-16. Offering fresh and exciting approaches to solving global problems, this book creatively views challenging social issues through the lens of racial and ethnic psychology. As the demographic makeup of the American population continues to evolve, understanding and addressing the psychological needs of ethnic minorities in the United States becomes more important to the overall health and well-being of society. This three-volume set is the first publication to explicitly tackle social issues from the perspective of racial and ethnic psychology. It uniquely presents racial and ethnic psychological perspectives on topics such as media, criminal justice, racism, climate change, gender bias and health and mental health disparities. Volume one introduces readers to the basic scientific concepts of racial and ethnic minority psychology and then examines the intersectionality of race, ethnicity, gender and sexual orientation. It also addresses how race and ethnicity affect communication styles, leadership styles and media. The second volume discusses the experiences of individuals within racial and ethnic minorities, including overt racism, covert racism and colonialism, and addresses how ethnic minority psychology plays a role in our educational system, poverty, global climate change and sustainability. The third volume covers ethics in health and research, considers the causes of health and mental health disparities and identifies diversity initiatives that can improve the health and well-being of all citizens, not just racial and ethnic minority citizens. Digital Criminology Anastasia Powell, Gregory Stratton, Robin Cameron, 2018-06-14. The infusion of digital technology into contemporary society has had significant effects for everyday life and for everyday crimes. Digital Criminology: Crime and Justice in Digital Society is the first interdisciplinary scholarly investigation extending beyond traditional topics of cybercrime, policing and the law to consider the implications of digital society for public engagement with crime and justice movements. This book seeks to connect the disparate fields of criminology, sociology, legal studies politics media and cultural studies in the study of crime and justice Drawing together intersecting conceptual frameworks Digital Criminology examines conceptual legal political and cultural framings of crime formal justice responses and informal citizen led justice movements in our increasingly connected global and digital society Building on case study examples from across Australia Canada Europe China the UK and the United States Digital Criminology explores key questions including What are the implications of an increasingly digital society for crime and justice What effects will emergent technologies have for how we respond to crime and participate in crime debates What will be the foundational shifts in criminological research and frameworks for understanding crime and justice in this technologically mediated context What does it mean to be a just digital citizen How will digital communications and social networks enable new forms of justice and justice movements Ultimately the book advances the case for an emerging digital criminology extending the practical and conceptual analyses of cyber or e crime beyond a focus foremost on the novelty pathology and illegality of technology enabled crimes to understandings of online crime as inherently social Twitter DigiCrimRMIT
