Wozniak, Kurt W. Fischer, 2014-02-04 In this volume leading developmentalists address the question of how children's thinking develops in context by drawing on the theories of Vygotsky Gibson and Piaget Analyses of the ecology and the dynamics of behavior have become popular emphasizing the particulars of people acting in specific environments and the many complex factors of human body and mind that contribute to action and thought This volume brings together many of the current efforts to deal with development in this richly ecological dynamic way The research reported demonstrates that recent years have produced major shifts in approach Activities are studied as they naturally occur in everyday contexts Children's active construction of the world around them is treated as fundamentally social in nature occurring in families with peers and in cultures Behavior is studied not as something disembodied but within a rich matrix of body emotion belief value and physical world Behavior is analyzed as changing dynamically not only over seconds and minutes but over hours days and years Burlington Magazine for Connoisseurs Robert Edward Dell, Charles John Holmes, Harold Child, Lionel Cust, Roger Fry, 1916 To-day , 1923
