The Heretic's Guide to Doctrine Daboniel Hereticus, 2020-03-19 This book is intended to open Christians minds up to other Christians and to help improve dialog between them It deals with where a lot of them are coming from doctrinally and the problems to be dealt with on both sides There is a core to all true Christians that should bind us but we cannot do that as long as we cannot be open with our differences and open minded enough to understand why some people believe what they do Mature Christians should be able to talk about the elephant in the room I am of the firm belief that if everybody was coming from the Bible with what they believed we would have a lot more agreement And the world would hate us all the more I certainly do not expect every Christian to agree with me on everything It is not for nothing I call myself Hereticus

The Oxford Handbook of Reasons and Normativity Daniel Star,2018-05-31 The Oxford Handbook of Reasons and Normativity maps a central terrain of philosophy and provides an authoritative guide to it Few concepts have received as much attention in recent philosophy as the concept of a reason to do or believe something And one of the most contested ideas in philosophy is normativity the ought in claims that we ought to do or believe something This is the first volume to provide broad coverage of the study of reasons and normativity across multiple philosophical subfields. In addition to focusing on reasons in ethics, epistemology, and the philosophy of mind, action, and language, the Handbook explores philosophical work on the nature of normativity in general. Topics covered include the unity of normativity, the fundamentality of reasons, attempts to explain reasons in other terms, the relation of motivational reasons to normative reasons, the internalist constraint, the logic and language of reasons and ought, connections between reasons, intentions, choices, and actions, connections between reasons, reasoning, and rationality, connections between reasons, knowledge, understanding, and evidence, reasons encountered in perception and testimony, moral principles, prudence, and reasons, agent relative reasons, epistemic challenges to our access to reasons, normativity in relation to meaning, concepts, and intentionality, instrumental reasons, pragmatic reasons for belief, aesthetic reasons, and reasons for emotions.
