Maududi, 1976-01-01 Originally prepared for the World of Islam Festival held in London in 1976 this reprint maintains the quality of the original miniatures and text The work shows the history of Islamic science through beautiful illustrations Islamic Science Seyyed Hossein Nasr, 1976 The different aspects of Islamic culture Ahmad, Maqbul, Al-Hassan, Ahmad Youssef, Iskandar, Albert Z., UNESCO, 2002-12-31 Research into Islamic science and technology is still in its early stages but there is now sufficient material available for a preliminary study Volume IV is intended to fill a gap which deserves a major multi volume work Part I is a review of the history of science in Islam It deals with the contribution of Islamic civilization to mathematics astronomy and physics which have long been acknowledged but also advances made by Muslim scientists in the fields of cosmology geology and mineralogy zoology veterinary science and botany Traditional Islamic Environmentalism Tarik M. Qadir, 2013-09-16 This work examines the relevance of traditional Islamic thought and practices for a lasting solution to the current environmental crisis Qadir describes how Seyyed Hossein Nasr challenges Muslims to reclaim their traditional intellectual and Sufi heritage as powerful means toward a most thoughtful approach to the crisis In so doing Nasr urges us to take a critical look at the consequences of the worldviews generated by modern science and technology and offers bold solutions for a more caring relationship between man and nature The book argues that only a revival of the traditional worldview which perceives all entities of nature as signs of God can effectively respond to the crisis our planet faces The Underlying Religion Martin Lings, Clinton Minnaar, 2007-07-18 This is an anthology of 25 essays by the leading exponents of the perennialist school of comparative religious thought It aims to be the most accessible introduction yet to the perspective of the Perennial Philosophy Islamic Astronomy and Geography David A. King, 2022-02-13 This volume of 12 studies mainly published during the past 15 years begins with an overview of the Islamic astronomy covering not only sophisticated mathematical astronomy and instrumentation but also simple folk astronomy and the ways in which astronomy was used in the service of religion. It continues with discussions of the importance of Islamic instruments and scientific manuscript illustrations. Three studies deal with the regional schools that developed in Islamic astronomy in this case Egypt and the Maghrib. Another focuses on a curious astrological table for calculating the length of life of any individual. The notion of the world centred on the sacred Kaaba in Mecca inspired both astronomers and proponents of folk astronomy to propose methods for finding the qibla or sacred direction towards the Kaaba; their activities are surveyed here. The interaction between the mathematical and folk traditions in astronomy is then illustrated by an 11th century text on the qibla in Transoxania. The last three studies deal with an account of the geodetic measurements sponsored by the Caliph al Ma'mun in the 9th century; a world map in the tradition of the 11th century polymath al-Biruni; alas corrupted by careless copying; and a table of geographical coordinates from 15th century Egypt.

In Search of the Sacred Seyyed Hossein Nasr, Ramin Jahanbegloo, 2010-07-14. In this book a series of interviews offers an accessible, revealing human and intellectual biography of leading Islamic scholar Seyyed Hossein Nasr. Seyyed Hossein Nasr is one of the preeminent philosophers writing today. Sure to be a key resource for decades to come. In Search of the Sacred: A Conversation with Seyyed Hossein Nasr on His Life and Thought illuminates Nasr's experiences and shares his insights on topics from religion and philosophy to science and the arts. Based on a series of interviews, the book combines traditional autobiography with an exploration of the intellectual and spiritual trajectories of the author's thought during key periods of his life. In doing so, it presents a fascinating panorama not only of the life and ideas of one man but also of major events ranging from intellectual life in Iran during the Pahlavi period and the Iranian Revolution to some of the major religious and intellectual debates between Islam and modernism. Nasr writes that his whole life has been a quest for the sacred. This work connects that quest with some of the most important issues of the day: encounters between Islam and the West.

The Achievement of Genius Lawrence F. Allen, 2022-12-18. Who are the men and women drawn from all civilizations and historical epochs that have made the most original and long-lasting contributions to human progress? How can we, in concise and human terms, delineate the various achievements of the most important religious founders, philosophers, artists, prophets, scientists, mathematicians, leaders, and architects? A fitting pursuit for these distracting and confusing times would be a careful examination of the geniuses whose achievements are so original and creative that they are woven into the very fabric of our civilization. The goal of this book is not merely a study of the past. It also raises questions about the goal of human life and its amazing creative potentialities. If these achievements of ancient or recent times were possible in the conditions of isolation and hostility by the surrounding world, what even greater achievements are possible in the future? Is there something in these geniuses' lives and works that we can apply to our present dilemmas? It's certainly worth a closer look at the greatest geniuses in all of history.

presents eight papers about important historiographical issues as debated in the history of science in Islamicate societies the history of science and philosophy of medieval Latin Europe and the history of mathematics as an academic discipline Six papers deal with themes about the sciences in Islamicate societies from the ninth to the seventeenth centuries among them novelty context and decline Two other papers discuss the historiographical practices of historians of mathematics and other disciplines in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries The central argument of the collected papers is that in addition and beyond the study of scientific texts and instruments historians of science in Islamicate societies need to pay attention to cultural material and social aspects that shaped the scientific activities of the authors and makers of such texts and instruments It is pointed out that the diachronic de contextualized comparison between methods and results of scholars from different centuries regions and cultures often leads to serious distortions of the historical record and is responsible for the long term neglect of scholarly activities after the so called Golden Age The book will appeal in particular to teachers of history of science in Islamicate societies to graduate students interested in issues of methodology and to historians of science grappling with the unresolved problems of how think and write about the sciences in concrete societies of the past instead of subsuming all extant texts instruments maps and other objects related to the sciences under macro level concepts like Islam or Latin Europe CS 1114 The Making of Islamic Economic Thought Sami Al-Daghistani,2022-01-06 Interrogating the development and conceptual framework of economic thought in the Islamic tradition pertaining to ethical philosophical and theological ideas this book provides a critique of modern Islamic economics as a hybrid economic system From the outset Sami Al Daghistani is concerned with the polyvalent methodology of studying the phenomenon of Islamic economic thought as a human science in that it nurtures a complex plentitude of meanings and interpretations associated with the moral self By studying legal scholars theologians and Sufis in the classical period Al Daghistani looks at economic thought in the context of Shar a s moral law Alongside critiquing modern developments of Islamic economics he puts forward an idea for a plural epistemology of Islam s moral economy which advocates for a multifaceted hermeneutical reading of the subject in light of a moral law embedded in a particular cosmology of human relationality metaphysical intelligibility and economic subjectivity

History of Islamic Philosophy Oliver Leaman,Seyyed Hossein Nasr,2020-08-17 Islamic philosophy has often been treated as being largely of historical interest belonging to the history of ideas rather than to philosophical study This volume successfully overturns that view Emphasizing the living nature and rich diversity of the subject it examines the main thinkers and schools of thought discusses the key concepts of Islamic philosophy and covers a vast geographical area This indispensable reference tool includes a comprehensive bibliography and an extensive index
