The Origins of Visual Culture in the Islamic World Mohammed Hamdouni Alami, 2015-04-17 In tenth century Iraq a group of Arab intellectuals and scholars known as the Ikhwan al Safa began to make their intellectual mark on the society around them A mysterious organisation the identities of its members have never been clear But its contribution to the intellectual thought philosophy art and culture of the era and indeed subsequent ones is evident In the visual arts for example Hamdouni Alami argues that the theory of human proportions which the Ikhwan al Safa propounded something very similar to those of da Vinci helped shape the evolution of the philosophy of aesthetics art and architecture in the tenth and eleventh centuries CE in particular in Egypt under the Fatimid rulers With its roots in Pythagorean and Neoplatonic views on the role of art and architecture the impact of this theory of specific and precise proportion was widespread One of the results of this extensive influence is a historic shift in the appreciation of art and architecture and their perceived role in the cultural sphere The development of the understanding of the interplay between ethics and aesthetics resulted in a movement which emphasised more abstract and pious contemplation of art as opposed to previous views which concentrated on the enjoyment of artistic works such as music song and poetry And it is with this shift that we see the change in art forms from those devoted to supporting the Umayyad caliphs and the opulence of the Abbasids to an art which places more emphasis on the internal concepts of reason and spirituality Using the example of Fatimid art and views of architecture including the first Fatimid mosque in al Mahdiyya Tunisia Hamdouni Alami offers analysis of the debates surrounding the ethics and aesthetics of the appreciation of Islamic art and architecture from a vital time in medieval Middle Eastern history and shows their similarity with aesthetic debates of Italian Renaissance

In Synchrony with the Heavens, Volume 2 Instruments of Mass Calculation David King, 2005-06-01 This is the first investigation of one of the main interests of astronomy in Islamic civilization namely timekeeping by the sun and stars and the regulation of the astronomically defined times of Muslim prayer The study is based on over 500 medieval astronomical manuscripts first identified by the author now preserved in libraries all over the world and originally from the entire Islamic world from the Maghrib to Central Asia and the Yemen The materials presented provide new insights into the early development of the prayer ritual in Islam They also call into question the popular notion that religion could not inspire serious scientific activity Only one of the hundreds of astronomical tables discussed here was known in medieval Europe which is one reason why the entire corpus has remained unknown until the present A second volume also to be published by Brill deals with astronomical instruments for timekeeping and other computing devices

Aperiodic Crystals Siegbert Schmid, Ray L. Withers, Ron Lifshitz, 2013-04-19 Aperiodic Crystals collects 37 selected papers from the scientific contributions presented at Aperiodic 2012 the Seventh International Conference on Aperiodic Crystalsheld held in Cairns Australia 27 of September 2012 The volume discusses state of the art discoveries new trends and applications of aperiodic crystals including incommensurately modulated crystals composite crystals and quasicrystals from a wide range of different perspectives Starting with a general historical introduction to aperiodic crystals the book proceeds to examine the complex mathematics of aperiodic long range order as well as the theoretical approaches aimed at understanding some of the unique properties and mechanisms underlying the existence of aperiodic crystals The book then explores in detail such topics as complex metallic alloys modulated structures quasicrystals and their approximants dynamics disorder and defects in quasicrystals It concludes with an analysis of quasicrystal surfaces and their properties By describing the latest research and the progress made on the structure determination of aperiodic crystals and the influence of this unique structure on their physical properties this book represents a valuable resource to mathematicians crystallographers physicists chemists materials and surface scientists and even architects and artists interested in the fascinating nature of aperiodic crystals Translation in the Arab World

Adnan K. Abdulla,2020-12-29 The Translation Movement of the Abbasid Period which lasted for almost three hundred years was a unique event in world history During this period much of the intellectual tradition of the Greeks Persians and Indians was translated into Arabic a language with no prior history of translation or of science medicine or philosophy This book investigates the cultural and political conflicts that translation brought into the new Abbasid state from a sociological perspective treating translation as a process and a product The opening chapters outline the factors involved in the initiation and cessation of translational activity in the Abbasid period before dealing in individual chapters with important events in the Translation Movement such as the translation of Aristotle's Poetics into Arabic Abdullah ibn al Muqaffa's seminal translation of the Indian Persian Kalilah wa Dimna into Arabic and the translation of scientific texts Other chapters address the question of whether the Abbasids had a theory of translation and why despite three hundred years of translation not a single poem was translated into Arabic The final chapter deals with the influence of translation during this period on the Arabic language Offering new readings of many issues that are associated with that period informed by modern theories of translation this is key reading for scholars and researchers in Translation Studies Oriental and Arab Studies Book History and Cultural History

An Analysis of Yasser Tabbaa's The Transformation of Islamic Art During the Sunni Revival Bilal Badat,2018-02-21

Tabbaa's Transformation offers an innovative approach to understanding the profound changes undergone by Islamic art and architecture during the often neglected Medieval Islamic period Examining devices such as calligraphy arabesque muqarnas and stonework Tabbaa argues we propagated in a moment of confrontation and facilitated the re emergence of the Sunni Abbasid caliphate in a more orthodox image Tabbaa offers a timely and thought provoking alternative to conventional essentialist positivist and ethno narrative interpretations of Islamic art The Grove Encyclopedia of Islamic Art and Architecture: Mosul to Zirid Jonathan M. Bloom,Sheila Blair,2009 Deals with all aspects of Islamic art and architecture ranging from the Middle East to Africa to Central South and East Asia and includes entries on artists rulers writers ceramics sculpture metalwork painting calligraphy textiles and more Provided by publisher
