Islam's Quantum Question Nidhal Guessoum, 2010-10-30 In secular Europe the veracity of modern science is almost always taken for granted Whether they think of the evolutionary proofs of Darwin or of spectacular investigation into the boundaries of physics conducted by CERN's Large Hadron Collider most people assume that scientific enquiry goes to the heart of fundamental truths about the universe Yet elsewhere science is under siege In the USA Christian fundamentalists contest whether evolution should be taught in schools at all And in Muslim countries like Tunisia Egypt Pakistan and Malaysia a mere 15 per cent of those recently surveyed believed Darwin's theory to be true or probably true This thoughtful and passionately argued book contends absolutely to the contrary not only that evolutionary theory does not contradict core Muslim beliefs but that many scholars from Islam's golden age to the present adopted a worldview that accepted evolution as a given Guessoum suggests that the Islamic world just like the Christian needs to take scientific questions quantum questions with the utmost seriousness if it is to recover its true heritage and integrity In its application of a specifically Muslim perspective to important topics like cosmology divine action and evolution the book makes a vital contribution to debate in the disputed field of science and religion

Islam's Encounter with Modern Science Taner Edis, 2023-12-07 Within Muslim populations debates about the compatibility between science and religion tend to be framed by the long standing competition between modernizing reformers particularly westernizers and theological conservatives Much like their liberal Christian counterparts reformers propose to embrace technical knowledge and reinterpret traditional beliefs undermined by modern science Conservatives are more open to challenging the content of science especially when science appears to support materialist views Islamists promote an alternative non western style of modernity nurturing a more pious professional class that contrasts with westernized elites By scientific standards westernizers appear to have the upper hand especially as conservative apologetics is drawn toward distortions of science such as creationism or fruitless attempts to Islamize science But conservatives can also point to some success in defusing tensions between scientific and religious institutions without adopting the full secularization of science seen in post Christian countries

American Journal of Islam and Society (AJIS) - Volume 40 Issues 1-2 Adrien Chauvet,Louay Fatoohi,Murie Hassan,Tammy Gaber,Martin Nguyen,Carimo Mohamed,Betania Kartika,H. Science and Religion Yves Gingras,2017-09-05 Today we hear renewed calls for a dialogue between science and religion why has the old question of the relations between science and religion now returned to the public domain and what is at stake in this debate To answer these questions historian and sociologist of science Yves Gingras retraces the long history of the troubled relationship between science and religion from the condemnation of Galileo for heresy in 1633 until his rehabilitation by John Paul II in 1992 He reconstructs the process of the gradual separation of science from theology and religion showing how God and natural theology became marginalized in the scientific field in the eighteenth and nineteenth centuries In contrast to the dominant trend among historians of science

Gingras argues that science and religion are social institutions that give rise to incompatible ways of knowing rooted in different methodologies and forms of knowledge and that there never was and cannot be a genuine dialogue between them. Wide ranging and authoritative this new book on one of the fundamental questions of Western thought will be of great interest to students and scholars of the history of science and of religion as well as to general readers who are intrigued by the new and much publicized conversations about the alleged links between science and religion. Religious Beliefs and Knowledge Systems in Africa Toyin Falola, Nicole Griffin, 2021-09-21 Key to African studies is understanding the knowledge systems of the continent and her diaspora. The representation and understanding of Africa are dependent on the observer's definition of knowledge. Afrocentric knowledge is comprised of a collection of political, religious, and indigenous belief systems. Religious Beliefs and Knowledge Systems in Africa begins with deconstructing the Western philosophy of knowledge before defining and exploring the epistemic disciplines of Africa. It transcends postcolonial critique through an Afrocentric approach to knowledge divided into three key themes. The first of these is the African worldview exploring knowledge through eldership, witchcraft, and divination. This is followed up by kingship ideology and epistemologies exploring discussing how politics, religion, and belief shape African society. Finally, the world religion chapter examines Christianity, Islam, and Pentecostalism in their impact on African ways of knowing. This book calls to action new fields of study in universities encouraging a greater understanding of African ways of knowing through more nuanced disciplines. The SAGE Encyclopedia of Higher Education Miriam E. David, Marilyn J. Amey, 2020-05-21 Higher Education is in a state of ferment. People are seriously discussing whether the medieval ideal of the university as being excellent in all areas makes sense today given the number of universities that we have in the world. Student fees are changing the orientation of students to the system. The high rate of non-repayment of fees in the UK is provoking difficult questions about whether the current system of funding makes sense. There are disputes about the ratio of research to teaching and further discussions about the international delivery of courses. British Muslims Philip Lewis, 2018-05-15 An innovative study of Brown as a Scottish Catholic writer with a truly international reach. Juridical Perspectives between Islam and the West Federico Lorenzo Ramaioli, 2024-01-01 This comparative philosophy of law book aims at formulating a new analytical approach to the Islamic legal tradition based on juridical categories, a concept that facilitates comprehension and understanding of juridical phenomena. Building upon legal comparativism and legal pluralism, this project intends to avoid bias caused by universalizing Western categories when analyzing foreign juridical notions which inevitably results in the miscomprehension of non-Western ideas and institutions. Unlike existing literature, this project will not focus on substantive comparisons between normative contents but on the juridical perspectives that helped to shape the Islamic and Western legal orders. The book focuses on the most relevant juridical questions regarding the Islamic and Western legal perspectives such as the different visions regarding juridical spatiality, the role of human reason, and the relationship between law, man, and the divinity. While contributing to legal philosophy this work intends also to develop and define a new interdisciplinary approach aiming to provide a starting point for novel analyses in research fields such as legal comparativism legal pluralism and constitutional law Finally by formulating a new interdisciplinary approach it will provide a foundational discussion of a continuously evolving subject that will never be exhaustively explored As such it aims at broadening scholarly reflections on the relationship between the West and Islam eventually placing these concepts within a suitably comprehensive and contextualized framework Published in cooperation with gLAWcal Global Law Initiatives for Sustainable Development Hornchurch Essex United Kingdom The World in His Hands Christopher Lee Bolt,2019-04-17 From the moment we wake until the time we go to sleep we are bombarded by the benefits of science in the practical elements of everyday life Electricity lights hot showers breakfast cereals clothing cars cell phones roads security systems computers communications traffic lights climate control and entertainment are just a sampling of the many benefits of science In addition to technological advances medicine and agriculture progress with science as well Even educational political and marketing strategists invoke science to substantiate their claims Science dominates the collective Western mindset and we regard it with the utmost respect Yet society remains generally religious even though science and religion are frequently thought of as being at odds with one another How do we reconcile the two Christians are taught to believe that God is in control of everything including the natural elements But how does God relate to physical laws Is God in control of the world or laws of nature Could both views be correct This book examines the Christian doctrine of divine providence and its implications for the laws of nature and the problem of induction before contrasting secular and Islamic approaches to these same topics

The Oxford Handbook of Qur'anic Studies Mustafa Shah,M. A. S. Abdel Haleem,2020-04-28 The Qur'an is the foundational sacred text of the Islamic faith Traditionally revered as the literal word of God its pronouncements and discussions form the bedrock of Islamic beliefs and teachings Notwithstanding its religious pre eminence and the fact that it is the sacred text for over one billion of the world's Muslims the Qur'an is also considered to be the matchless masterpiece of the Arabic language Its historical impact as a text can be discerned in all aspects of the heritage of the Arabic literary tradition Over recent decades academic engagement with the Qur'an has produced an impressive array of scholarship ranging from detailed studies of the text's unique language style and structure to meticulous surveys of its contents concepts and historical contexts The Oxford Handbook of Qur'anic Studies is an essential reference and starting point for those with an academic interest in the Qur'an It offers not only detailed reviews of influential subjects in the field but also a critical overview of developments in the research discourse It explores the tradition of Qur'anic exegesis and hermeneutics making it a comprehensive academic resource for the study of the Qur'an No single volume devoted to such a broad academic survey of the state of the field currently exists

Agents of God Jeffrey Guhin,2021 Based on a year and a half of ethnographic observation and interviews with teachers and students at four high schools in the New York City area two of them Sunni Muslim and two Evangelical Christian sociologist Jeffrey Guhin argues that these schools use politics gender sex and the internet to separate themselves from the rest of America a country they view as both a promise and a threat In examining these boundaries he describes how the schools use scripture prayer and science as a means of maintaining their authority over the students' lives

It Keeps Me Seeking Andrew Briggs,Hans Halvorson,Andrew Steane,2018-09-05 Here is a fresh look at how science contributes to the bigger picture of human flourishing through a collage of science and philosophy richly illustrated by the authors' own experience and personal reflection They survey the territory of fundamental physics machine learning philosophy of human identity evolutionary biology miracles arguments from design naturalism the history of ideas and more The natural world can be appreciated not only for itself but also as an eloquent gesture a narrative and a pointer beyond itself Our human journey is not to a theorem or a treatise but to a meeting which encompasses all our capacities In this meeting science is the means to find out about the structure of the physical world of which we are a part not a means to reduce ourselves and our fellow human beings to mere objects of scrutiny and still less a means to attempt the utterly futile exercise of trying to do that to God We have intellectual permission to be open to the notion that God can be trusted and known The material world encourages an open hearted reaching out to something more with a freedom to seek and to be received by what lies beyond the scope of purely impersonal descriptions and attitudes      Religion and the Sciences of Origins Kelly James Clark, 2014-05-21 This concise introduction to science and religion focuses on Christianity and modern Western science the epicenter of issues in science and religion in the West with a concluding chapter on Muslim and Jewish Science and Religion This book also invites the reader into the relevant literature with ample quotations from original texts
