people and why American motor vehicles now consume one eighth of the world's total oil production. But it doesn't have to be this way. The author proposes new ways for cities to regulate parking: namely, charge fair market prices for curb parking, use the resulting revenue to pay for services in the neighborhoods that generate it, and remove zoning requirements for off-street parking.

Effects of TOD on Housing, Parking, and Travel G. B. Arrington, Robert Cervero, Transit Cooperative Research Program, 2008 explores the demographics of transit-oriented development (TOD) residents and employers and their motives for locating in TODs. The report also examines the travel characteristics of residence before and after moving to a TOD and ways to increase transit ridership among these residents. In addition, the report reviews the potential effect of land use and design features on travel patterns, transit ridership, and the decision to locate in a TOD. Provided by publisher.
