Sample Book Insights: 1. The part of us that creates is childlike. It is filled with awe, alert to new experiences and mesmerized by the sensory wonders of our environment. For adults, this often leads to impatience or pressure to learn something quickly. 2. It is important to be gentle with yourself, especially in the early days of a transition. As you answer simple questions to build your memoir, you will begin to discover new interests, desires, and direction. 3. When we are children, we are naturally open to exploration. Our early memories are specific, and we often find there are clues there to our true passions if we are willing to search for them. 4. To help you remember important events in your life, divide your age by twelve. This is the number of years you will cover each week in your memoir exploration. You can expand on any memory that evokes emotion or create another memory that is inspired by the first.
