Taras,Hwei Ming Wong,2022-12-30 This book provides the basics of student self assessment and implementation challenges and it offers practical solutions and examples for navigating the use of student self assessment in various subject disciplines in primary schools secondary schools and higher education It provides an informed approach for educators to understand the complexities and subtleties involved in implementing self assessment and how this might include and impact on teachers and students Involving students in assessment is not a new idea nor is student self assessment a new assessment tool in schools Despite the advantages and the necessity for including it in our pedagogic processes explicitly the use of student self assessment has been far from commonplace and consistent in classrooms schools and universities This book makes clear the choices of what how and why student self assessment is important and usable in the classroom This book is designed for educators at different levels and educational researchers It will provide food for thought for pre and in service teachers and school leaders who are interested in nurturing independent and self directed learners by involving students in the assessment process and maximising student learning through the use of student self assessment From GCSEs to EBCs

Great Britain. Parliament. House of Commons. Education Committee, 2013 The Government's plans for replacing GCSEs with new English Baccalaureate Certificates in some subjects is trying to do too much too fast Introducing several fundamental changes at the same time and to a tight timetable will jeopardise the quality of the reforms and may threaten the stability of the wider exam system GCSEs need significant improvements in order to restore public confidence in the exam system but the Government still needs to make the case that the GCSE brand is so discredited that it is beyond repair MPs are also concerned about the impact of the changes on subjects outside the English Baccalaureate where students will be taking GCSEs for some time to come according to the Government's plans The report also questions how well the Government's proposals will serve lower attaining pupils who are often the most disadvantaged There is no evidence that the proposed changes will help to tackle under achievement or narrow the attainment gap between the richest and poorest students any more effectively than GCSEs The Government is also called upon to re think its plans for a Statement of Achievement specifically for lower attaining pupils MPs agree that changes are needed to the way in which exams are run but they raise serious concerns about franchising subjects to exam boards The report is critical of the Government's decision to abolish some GCSEs before publishing the outcomes of the National Curriculum Review and its proposed changes to the school accountability system MPs also note the wide ranging stakeholder opposition to many of the Government's proposals
