Kinetic Landscapes Archaeological Project Surveying:

Kinetic Landscapes Bleda S. Düring, Claudia Glatz, 2016-01-29 This book presents the results of the Cide Archaeological Project an archaeological surface survey undertaken between 2009 2011 in the coastal Black Sea district of Cide and the adjacent inland district of Senpazar Kastamonu province Turkey The Making of Empire in Bronze Age Anatolia

Claudia Glatz, 2020-11-12 This book reconsiders the concept of empire and examines the processes of imperial making and undoing in Hittite Anatolia c 1600 1180 BCE Asia Minor in the Long Sixth Century Ine Jacobs, Hugh Elton, 2018-10-18 Asia Minor is considered to have been a fairly prosperous region in Late Antiquity It was rarely disturbed by external invasions and remained largely untouched by the continuous Roman Persian conflict until very late in the period was apparently well connected to the flourishing Mediterranean economy and as the region closest to Constantinople is assumed to have played an important part in the provisioning of the imperial capital and the imperial armies When exactly this prosperity came to an end the late sixth century the early middle or even later seventh century remains a matter of debate Likewise the impact of factors such as the dust veil event of 536 the impact of the bubonic plague that made its first appearance in AD 541 542 the costs and consequences of Justinian's wars the Persian attacks of the early seventh century and eventually the Arab incursions of around the middle of the seventh century remains controversial The more general living conditions in both cities and countryside have long been neglected The majority of the population however did not live in urban but in rural contexts Yet the countryside only found its proper place in regional overviews in the last two decades thanks to an increasing number of regional surveys in combination with a more refined pottery chronology Our growing understanding of networks of villages and hamlets is very likely to influence the appreciation of the last decades of Late Antiquity drastically Indeed it would seem that the sixth century in particular is characterized not only by a ruralization of cities but also by the extension and flourishing of villages in Asia Minor the Roman Near East and Egypt This volume's series of themes include the physical development of large and small settlements their financial situation and the proportion of public and private investment Imperial provincial and local initiatives in city and countryside are compared and the main motivations examined including civic or personal pride military incentives and religious stimuli The evidence presented will be used to form opinions on the impact of the plague on living circumstances in the sixth century and to evaluate the significance of the Justinianic period Archaeology of Mountain Landscapes Arnau Garcia-Molsosa, 2023-10-01

Mountains contain a rich and diverse set of remnants left by human societies They have been inhabited since prehistory and have been transformed by human activity during prehistorical and historical times and that history defines mountain landscapes as we know them today Archaeology of Mountain Landscapes contains twenty contributions by forty one specialists currently researching mountain areas in the Americas Asia and Europe The different case studies address the subject diachronically ranging from prehistory to modern times and employ a variety of methodological strategies including archaeological surveys and excavation paleoenvironmental studies and historical and ethnographical research This volume demonstrates how multidisciplinary archaeological fieldwork is radically changing our vision of mountain landscapes Viewing mountain landscapes as archaeological documents contributes to our understanding of the history of mountain environments and offers new archaeological datasets to use in the interpretation of human societies Taken together the essays collected here offer a comprehensive view of current research and suggest new directions for future study

Hittite Landscape and Geography Mark Weeden, Lee Z. Ullmann, 2022-05-20 In Hittite Landscape and Geography Mark Weeden and Lee Ullmann have gathered 28 specialist authors to present an up to date account of research on the Geography of Late Bronze Age Anatolia second half of the second millennium BC using information both from cuneiform texts and from archaeological excavation and survey The study of texts and archaeology require different specialisms This is the first time an attempt has been made to present a co ordinated monograph length view of Hittite geography since 1959 and the first time that any work has tried to balance archaeological and textual data for the same geographical areas The result is a foundational research tool which will put scholarship on Hittite Geography on a firm footing for the future

Contextualizing Pompeiopolis Lâtife Summerer, Peri Johnson, Julia M. Koch, 2025-08-18 After the Pontic Kingdom s defeat and northern Anatolia s integration into the Roman Empire in 64 63 BCE the region experienced an urban transformation The victorious Pompey founded Pompeiopolis as one of seven new cities This book publishes seminal fieldwork conducted at Pompeiopolis 2006 2016 with comparative studies on Roman cities that lays the groundwork for future research on the development of urban landscapes in the Roman East

The Archaeology of Anatolia Volume II Sharon R. Steadman, 2018-07-27 This second volume in the Archaeology of Anatolia series offers reports on the most recent discoveries from across the Anatolian peninsula Periods covered span the Epipalaeolithic to the Islamic and sites and regions range from the western Anatolian coast to Van as well as the southeast Also included here are both reviews of recent work at ongoing excavations and data retrieved from the last several years of survey projects This series presents a forum in which scholars report their most recent data to a global audience allowing for productive engagement with others working in and near Anatolia Published every two years The Archaeology of Anatolia Recent Discoveries Series is an invaluable vehicle through which working archaeologists may carry out their most critical task the presentation of their fieldwork and laboratory research in a timely fashion

Lithic Studies: Anatolia and Beyond Adnan Baysal, 2022-03-31 This volume aims to show networks of cultural interactions by focusing on the latest lithic studies from Turkey Greece and the Balkans bringing to the forefront the connectedness and techno cultural continuity of knapped and ground stone technologies

Tios/Tieion on the Southern Black Sea in the Broader Context of Pontic Archaeology Gocha R. Tsetskhladze, Şahin Yıldırım, 2023-12-21 Several papers focus on Tios the Acropolis the lower city and coin finds Its place in ancient geography cartography is considered before moving on to the indigenous inhabitants of the surrounding area the immediate and greater region then the Turkish Black Sea region and outwards to the western northern and eastern shores of the Black Sea The Archaeology of Byzantine Anatolia Philipp Niewohner, 2017-03-17

The volume propounds a new understanding of the hitherto enigmatic medievalization of the Roman empire provides English presentations of foreign language research and promises to serve as an essential compendium that may help to establish Anatolian archaeology more widely in academic curricula worldwide The Oxford Handbook of Mesolithic Europe, 2025-01-13
Research into the Mesolithic has recently undergone important transformations making it one of the most dynamic fields of archaeological research today These changes are the result of a combination of factors new and exciting discoveries the impact of innovative scientific methods and the introduction of fresh interpretative approaches Situated within a long period defined by significant environmental demographic and social change the European Mesolithic period provides key insights to answer the big questions in archaeology including the deep history of migration diversity and adaptation It also provides resources for elucidating answers to complex questions about human relationships diet economy and identity New theoretical approaches to the Mesolithic in Europe have expanded research into new areas such as lived experience ritual cosmology art identity the body and human animal relationships These new research questions have added important nuance and provided a more complete understanding of the period With contributions from leading scholars in the field and from across the continent The Oxford Handbook of Mesolithic Europe provides the first comprehensive overview of the rich archaeology of Mesolithic Europe Chapters on different European regions as well as neighboring areas in North Africa and the Middle East provide a synoptic view with thematic chapters examining the lived experience of different kinds of landscapes and adaptations different forms of technology and aspects of Mesolithic life death ritual cosmology and art The volume highlights both the significance of interdisciplinary research for the field and the importance of combining perspectives and approaches when studying the deep past The Routledge Handbook of the Byzantine City Nikolas Bakirtzis, Luca Zavagno, 2024-01-31
The Byzantine world contained many important cities throughout its empire Although it was not urban in the sense of the word today its cities played a far more fundamental role than those of its European neighbors This book through a collection of twenty four chapters discusses aspects of and different approaches to Byzantine urbanism from the early to late Byzantine periods It provides both a chronological and thematic perspective to the study of Byzantine cities bringing together literary documentary and archival sources with archaeological results material culture art and architecture resulting in a rich synthesis of the variety of regional and sub regional transformations of Byzantine urban landscapes Organized into four sections this book covers Theory and Historiography Geography and Economy Architecture and the Built Environment and Daily Life and Material Culture It includes more specialized accounts that address the centripetal role of Constantinople and its broader influence across the empire Such new perspectives help to challenge the historiographical balance between margins and metropolis and also to include geographical areas often regarded as peripheral like the coastal urban centers of the Byzantine Mediterranean as well as cities on islands such as Crete Cyprus and Sicily which have more recently yielded well excavated and stratigraphically sound urban sites The Routledge Handbook of the Byzantine City provides both an overview and detailed study of the Byzantine city to specialist scholars students and enthusiasts alike and therefore will appeal to all those interested in Byzantine urbanism and society as well as those studying medieval society in general

The Chobanids of Kastamonu Bruno De Nicola,2024-02-06 This book provides a novel approach to the history of medieval Anatolia by analysing political religious and cultural developments in the region of Kastamonu during the reign of the Chobanid dynasty c 1211 1309 During the 13th century the Chobanids consolidated a local dynasty in western Anatolia a borderland between Islam and Christianity becoming cultural actors patronising the production of religious scientific and administrative works in the Persian language These works though surviving today in manuscript form have received little attention in modern historiography The book therefore attends to this gap in the research incorporating a detailed study of texts by little known authors from the time The book explores the relationship between Islam and the Chobanid dynasty in the context of the wider process of Islamisation in medieval Anatolia hypothesising that Turkmen dynasties played a fundamental role in this process of Islamisation and acculturation The Chobanids of Kastamonu then offers an in depth study of a Turkmen local dynasty that achieved political autonomy financial independence and cultural patronage in medieval Anatolia vis vis the main political powers of the time Attentive to religious diversity state formation and processes of transculturation in medieval Anatolia the book is key reading for scholars of Middle Eastern history and Islamic studies The Open Access version of this book available at <http://www.taylorfrancis.com> has been made available under a Creative Commons CC BY 4 0 license

The Archaeology of Anatolia, Volume IV Sharon R. Steadman,Gregory McMahon,2021-12-13 This fourth volume in the Archaeology of Anatolia series offers reports on the most recent discoveries from across the Anatolian peninsula Periods covered span the Epipalaeolithic to the Medieval Age and sites and regions range from the western Anatolian coast to Van and on to the southeast The breadth and depth of work reported within these pages testifies to the contributors dedication and love of their work even during a global pandemic period The volume includes reviews of recent work at on going excavations and data retrieved from the last several years of survey projects In addition a State of the Field section offers up to the moment data on specialized fields in Anatolian archaeology

The Danubian Lands between the Black, Aegean and Adriatic Seas Gocha R. Rethinking Late Neolithic and Early Chalcolithic Architecture in Central Anatolia Jana Anvari,2021 This book evaluates the epistemology by which archaeology has translated the architectural record at Late Neolithic and Early Chalcolithic 6500 5500 BC sites in central Anatolia into interpretations of social organisation The first part of the book provides a summary of existing knowledge on the study region architecture in particular The second part conducts a content analysis of 284 publications and systematically maps and critiques the archaeological discourse around Late Neolithic and Early Chalcolithic architecture and social organisation As a by product of this discussion the book also provides an exploration of how people in central Anatolia during this period used architecture to create communities In the tradition of reflexive archaeology the main purpose of this book is to critically evaluate past research practices to contribute to their improvement It seeks to improve the research tools to understand the Late Neolithic and Early Chalcolithic as important transformative time periods in Anatolian prehistory that influenced the further course of southwest Asian and European prehistory for example by initiating development towards social stratification

Science in the Study of Ancient Egypt Sonia Zakrzewski,Andrew Shortland,Joanne Rowland,2015-12-22 Science in the Study of Ancient Egypt demonstrates how to integrate scientific methodologies into Egyptology broadly and in Egyptian archaeology in particular in order to maximise the amount of information that might be obtained within a study of ancient Egypt be it field museum or laboratory based The authors illustrate the inclusive but varied nature of the scientific archaeology being undertaken revealing that it all falls under the aegis of Egyptology and demonstrating its potential for the elucidation of problems within traditional Egyptology

Raunds Area Survey Stephen Parry,2006 The Raunds Area Survey forms part of the Raunds Area Project a major programme of archaeological research into landscape development in Northamptonshire and the wider midland region of England The Project includes extensive open area excavations of early prehistoric ritual and burial monuments beside the River Nene Iron Age and Roman settlement at Stanwick and Saxon and medieval settlement in north Raunds and West Cotton as well as complementary landscape historical and biological studies A series of monographs are planned to cover each aspect of the study The present volume gathers the results of a detailed fieldwalking survey cropmark analysis magnetometer surveys and excavations accompanied by allied environmental and documentary researches to provide a dynamic picture of landscape development The study considers the distribution of worked flint scatters and has identified favoured locations for prehistoric activity A model for the gradual intensification of settlement and land use throughout the Iron Age and Roman period including greater exploitation of the Boulder Clay plateau is suggested Good survival of early middle Saxon pottery in the plough soil indicates that settlement at this time was mostly confined to the flanks of the Nene valley and tributary streams The Survey aided by documentary research complements the open area excavations and provides a comprehensive model for the creation and early development of villages and open fields From West to East

Scott D. Stull, 2015-04-01 This volume is a collection of current work in medieval archaeology mainly as it is practiced in North America with a comprehensive view rather than a local or regional perspective allowing scholars from different regions access to research from across the medieval world It includes chapters from well established professors and up and coming scholars The majority of the papers came from the first annual conference in medieval archaeology held at the State University of New York at Cortland in 2013 This conference gave those located in North America who were interested in medieval archaeology both of Europe and the Mediterranean world a chance to see what the latest developments were in the discipline This volume includes both methodological and theoretical approaches such as integrating remote sensing with laser scanning or exploring the definition of ethnicity chapters include Viking Vinland castles in Ireland and England several Byzantine and Islamic era sites in the eastern Mediterranean and various other topics ranging from a church in Hungary to the social construction of the medieval diet
