Governing Agrobiodiversity Plant Genetics And Developing Countries Global Environmental Governance:

Governing Agrobiodiversity Dr Regine Andersen, 2013-03-28 Plant genetic diversity is crucial to the breeding of food crops and is therefore a central precondition for food security. Diverse genetic resources provide the genetic traits required to deal with crop pests and diseases as well as changing climate conditions. Plant genetic diversity is also essential for traditional small scale farming and is therefore an indispensable factor in the fight against poverty. However, the diversity of domesticated plant varieties is disappearing at an alarming rate while interest in the commercial use of genetic resources has increased in line with bio technologies followed by demands for intellectual property rights. This important book contributes to our understanding of how international regimes affect the management of plant genetic resources for food and agriculture in developing countries. It identifies entry points to shape a better governance of agrobiodiversity and provides the first comprehensive analysis of how the international agreements pertaining to crop genetic resources affect the management of these vital resources for food security and poverty eradication in developing countries. Governing Agrobiodiversity Regine Andersen, 2008 Governing Agrobiodiversity Regine Andersen, 2016-04-22 Plant genetic diversity is crucial to the breeding of food crops and is therefore a central precondition for food security. Pattberg, Fariborz Zelli, 2015-11-27 The Encyclopedia of Global Environmental Governance and Politics surveys the broad range of environmental and sustainability challenges in the emerging Anthropocene and scrutinizes available concepts, methodological tools, theories and approaches as well as overlaps with adjunct fields of study. This comprehensive reference work, written by some of the most eminent academics in the field, contains 68 entries on numerous aspects across 7 thematic areas including concepts and definitions, theories and methods, actors, institutions, issue areas, cross-cutting questions and overlaps with non-environmental fields. With this broad approach, the volume seeks to provide a pluralistic knowledge base of the research and practice of global environmental governance and politics in times of increased complexity and contestation. Providing its readers with a unique point of reference as well as stimulus for further research, this Encyclopedia is an indispensable tool.

for anyone interested in the politics of the environment particularly students teachers and researchers      Global Governance of Genetic Resources Sebastian Oberthür, G. Kristin Rosendal, 2013-10-30 This book analyses the status and prospects of the global governance of Access Benefit Sharing ABS in the aftermath of 2010's Nagoya Protocol to the Convention on Biological Diversity CBD The CBD's initial 1992 framework of global ABS governance established the objective of sharing the benefits arising from the use of genetic resources fairly between countries and communities Since then ABS has been a contested issue in international politics not least due to the failure of effective implementation of the original CBD framework The Nagoya Protocol therefore aims to improve and enhance this framework Compared to the slow rate of progress on climate change it has been considered a major achievement of global environmental governance but it has also been coined a masterpiece of ambiguity This book analyses the role of a variety of actors in the emergence of the Nagoya Protocol and provides an up to date assessment of the core features of the architecture of global ABS governance This book offers a central resource regarding ABS governance for those working on and interested in global environmental governance This is achieved by focusing on two broad themes of the wider research agenda on global environmental governance namely architecture and agency Furthermore individual chapter contributions relate and link ABS governance to other prominent debates in the field such as institutional complexes compliance market based approaches EU leadership the role of small states the role of non state actors and more Partly due to its seeming technical complexity ABS governance has so far not been at the centre of attention of scholars and practitioners of global environmental governance In this book care is taken to provide an accessible account of key functional features of the governance system which enables non specialists to gain a grasp on the main issues involved allowing the issue of ABS governance to move centre stage and be more fully recognised in discussions on global environmental governance      Global Energy Governance in a Multipolar World Dries Lesage, Thijs Van de Graaf, 2016-04-22 Multipolar governance permits a number of important states to have significantly more economic and political clout than others but among them there is hardly any hierarchy The new energy challenge with its intricate socio economic ecological and international political considerations is a multi dimensional multi level and multi actor issue that requires a minimum of central political steering because neither the invisible hand of the market nor unilateral or bilateral power politics are capable to bring about sustainable solutions Global Energy Governance in a Multipolar World investigates the relationship between the emergence of a multipolar world order and the enormous challenges of global energy governance that the world is facing in the 21st century It reflects on fundamental questions such as how the main consuming countries can avoid conflict over scarce resources how they will cooperate to bring about open energy markets energy conservation and efficiency and how they can promote renewable energy sources      Transformative Novel Technologies in Global Environmental Governance Florian Rabitz, 2023-09-07 Transformative Novel Technologies are potential gamechangers in confronting environmental crises but effective governance is essential      The

Intergovernmental Platform on Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services (IPBES) Marie Hrabanski, Denis Pesche, 2016-10-04 Twenty years after the Convention on Biological Diversity CBD entered into force the founding of the Intergovernmental Platform on Biodiversity and Ecosystem Services IPBES in 2012 was the outcome of a long process of setting biodiversity issues at the top of the global environmental agenda With contributions from more than a dozen well renowned researchers in political science law and sociology this book analyzes IPBES functioning and challenges in terms of the knowledge selection process and actors involved The book reveals that through its conceptual framework IPBES promotes a pluralistic view of nature that calls for a broadening of the disciplinary frontiers It combines natural science and social science research and also includes indigenous and local knowledge IPBES is considered to represent the institutionalization of a permanent knowledge assessment on biodiversity and is often referred to as an IPCC success story constituting a new stage in global environmental governance In analyzing the knowledge selection process for IPBES decision making the book better situates IPBES within the biodiversity and global governance domain It ultimately argues that the establishment of IPBES provides a new opportunity to coordinate the different international conventions CBD RAMSAR CITES etc and initiatives international assessment of marine biology scientific programs funding etc

Moving Health Sovereignty in Africa Andrew F. Cooper,Hany Besada,2016-04-15 Today s era of intense globalization has unleashed dynamic movements of people pathogens and pests that overwhelm the static territorial jurisdictions on which the governance provided by sovereign states and their formal intergovernmental institutions is based. This world of movement calls for new ideas and institutions to govern people's health above all in Africa where the movements and health challenges are the most acute. This book insightfully explores these challenges in ways that put the perspectives of Africans themselves at centre stage. It begins with the long central and still compelling African health challenge of combating the pandemic of HIV/AIDS. It then examines the global governance responses by the major multilateral organizations of the World Bank and the World Trade Organization and the newer informal flexible democratically oriented ones of the Group of Eight. It also addresses the compounding health challenge created by climate change to assess both its intensifying impact on Africa and how all international institutions have largely failed to link climate and health in their governance response. It concludes with several recommendations about the innovative ideas and institutions that offer a way to closing the great global governance gaps and thus improving Africans' health and that of citizens beyond.
