

Establishing a Limited Government

The framers' main goal in crafting the Constitution was to create a system of limited government. They knew that absolute power often leads to the abuse of rights. On the other hand, they also knew that a lack of governmental power could result in chaos and instability.

The limited government envisioned in the Constitution is based on six guiding principles:

- (1) Popular Sovereignty
- (2) Rule of Law
- (3) Separation of Powers—Checks and Balances
- (4) Federalism
- (5) Independent Judiciary
- (6) Individual Rights

Popular Sovereignty

This principle means that power resides in the will of the people. The framers understood that making people the source of power is the best assurance that government will act in the people's interest.

The Constitution supports popular sovereignty through republicanism, or the idea that people elect leaders to a governing body of citizens.

Give an example of popular sovereignty in your own words:  voting for President

The Rule of Law

This principle requires that the American people and their government abide by a system of laws. This is another way to ensure that power is limited and not used in an arbitrary manner.

Give two examples of rule of law in your own words: President follows the same laws and my drivers license is legal in other states

Separation of Powers—Checks and Balances

The Constitution divides power in the national government among the three principal branches.

This separation of powers was a key component in the framers' vision of limited government.

In the framers' view, separating the powers of government among the three branches would ensure that no one branch could dominate. The framers took this principle a step further by inserting provisions in the Constitution that would allow each branch to check, or limit, the power of each of the other branches. This system of checks and balances can be seen in many parts of the Constitution.

Explain in your own words how the Congress checks the power of the President when making a treaty:

The President has the power to make a treaty, but the treaty must be approved by the Senate by a 2/3 vote.

Explain how the President and Congress can check and balance each other's power when the President vetoes a bill passed by Congress.

The President can veto a bill passed by Congress. However, Congress can override a Presidential veto by a 2/3 vote in both houses.
