

Guide to the Comprehensive Exam in History

When are comps offered?

Comps are given twice a year: in the spring on the first Friday after the Martin Luther King holiday, and in the fall, on the Friday after Labor Day.

How long do comps take?

Comps are scheduled to last from 8 a.m. to 5 p.m. You will need most of this time, so be prepared to spend the day.

What should I bring with me?

Water, snacks, and writing utensils (if you want to jot notes on the exam paper). You will be provided with a secure laptop. We will serve you lunch around noon.

Where is the exam given?

Usually the exam is held in either the history department lounge or the department's small conference room. If the location is changed, you will be informed.

What if I physically cannot write for eight hours?

If you can document this disability with a doctor's note, you may take the exam under the auspices of Student Support Services. Note that these arrangements must be made at least two weeks in advance of the exam. This is true for any student who requires a special accommodation, whether for physical or learning disability.

What is the format of the exam?

You will be given three questions from the list of ten given out in advance. (If you did not receive or have lost your list, please see the grad program coordinator at once. They are also on our website.) You must answer two of these. Questions should be answered in essay or narrative form, but you are free to jot down notes or make an outline.

What should my answers look like?

Both of your answers should explicitly draw upon relevant historical works where possible. They should cover the broad span of history (from the colonial era to at least the 1980s for American history; and either from ancient to 1517 or from 1517 until at least the post-WWII era for European history). They should demonstrate a strong command of the historical content, while making an argument that answers the question based on historical evidence. Answers should also address historiographical developments.
