His Head Ron Sobolewski:

In His Head Ron Sobolewski, 2015-12-15 Colerain Pike is generous talented intellectual attractive socially conscious and enjoys the company of women The only child of successful and wealthy professional parents He chose to accept being drafted into the U S Military during the Vietnam conflict Efforts to alter his situation by his connected parents were rejected Never married he relished his intimate relationships with four desirable women Each woman at some point ended their relationship with Colerain unilaterally Those four women remained in his head Mr Pike was unable to liberate himself from the power of their rejections Colerain killed those four women during a patterned serial process At each scene he intentionally left a clue that would always remain untraceable Through an unseen observer during his fourth killing he became an addiction in her head

Memory, Trauma, and Identity Ron Eyerman, 2019-04-09 This volume brings together Ron Eyerman's most important interventions in the field of cultural trauma and offers an accessible entry point into the origins and development of this theory and a framework of an analysis that has now achieved the status of a research paradigm This collection of disparate essays published between 2004 and 2018 coheres around an original introduction that not only provides a historical overview of cultural trauma but is also an important theoretical contribution to cultural trauma and collective identity in its own right The Afterword from esteemed sociologist Eric Woods connects the essays and explores their significance for the broader fields of sociology behavioral science and trauma studies
