The Postcolonial Gramsci Neelam Francesca Rashmi Srivastava, Baidik Bhattacharya, 2012 The importance of Antonio Gramsci's work for postcolonial studies can hardly be exaggerated and in this volume contributors situate Gramsci's work in the vast and complex oeuvre of postcolonial studies. Specifically, this book endeavors to reassess the impact on postcolonial studies of the central role assigned by Gramsci to culture and literature in the formation of a truly revolutionary idea of the nation, a notion that has profoundly shaped the thinking of both Frantz Fanon and Edward Said. Gramsci, as Iain Chambers has argued, has been instrumental in helping scholars rethink their understanding of historical, political, and cultural struggle by substituting the relationship between tradition and modernity with that of subaltern versus hegemonic parts of the world. Combining theoretical reflections and reinterpretations of Gramsci, the scholars in this collection present comparative geo-cultural perspectives on the meaning of the subaltern, passive revolution, hegemony, and the concept of national popular culture in order to chart out a political map of the postcolonial through the central focus on Gramsci.

Genealogies for the Present in Cultural Anthropology Bruce M. Knauff, 2013-09-13 In the wake of tensions between modern and postmodern sensibilities, what larger directions now emerge in cultural anthropology? In this major work, Bruce Knauff takes stock of important recent initiatives in cultural and critical theory. By combining critical reviews and ethnographic engagements with fresh readings of major figures and approaches, the work develops a larger vantage point for considering the dispersing influence of practice theories, postmodernism, cultural studies, postcolonial studies, modern post-positive feminism, and multicultural criticisms.

Across 19 major thinkers from the 19th to the 21st century, the second edition of this comprehensive collection introduces readers to the process of thinking through rich cultural fields such as fashion with the help of social and cultural theory and thinking through social and cultural theory with the help of fashion. Each chapter guides you through the work of a major thinker and considers their historical context, the role of fashion within their theory, how their theoretical frameworks apply to contemporary fashion studies, and the strengths and limitations of their approach. Featuring new chapters on key theorists: Edward Said, bell hooks, Frantz Fanon, and W. E. B. Du Bois, this new edition prepares readers to question and diversify the field of fashion. A revised introduction resituates theories in relation to each other and reflects on changing approaches to fashion studies, while revisions to existing chapters equip readers with the most up-to-date critical perspectives and developments in fashion and fashion theory.

In Counterpoint Kristine Suna-Koro, 2017-05-01 What does postcoloniality have to do with sacramentality? How do diasporic lives and imaginaries shape the course of postcolonial sacramental theology? Neither postcolonial theorists nor sacramental theologians have hitherto sought to engage in a sustained dialogue with one another In this trailblazing volume Kristine Suna Koro brings postcolonialism diaspora discourse and Christian sacramental theology into a mutually critical and constructive transdisciplinary conversation Dialoguing with thinkers as diverse as Edward Said and Gayatri Spivak as well as Francis D Sa S J Martin Luther Mayra Rivera and John Chrysavgis the author offers a postcolonial retrieval of sacramentality through a robust theological engagement with the postcolonial notions of hybridity contrapuntality planetarity and Third Space While exploring the methodological potential of diasporic imaginary in theology this innovative book advances the notion of sacramental pluriverse and of Christ as its paradigmatic crescendo within the sacramental economy of creation and redemptive transformation In the context of ecological degradation In Counterpoint argues that it is vital for the postcolonial sacramental renewal to be rooted in ethics as a uniquely postcolonial fundamental theology

At the Edges of Liberalism

Steven E. Aschheim, 2012-05-15 The essays in this volume seek to confront some of the charged meeting points of European especially German and Jewish history All in one way or another explore the entanglements the intertwined moments of empathy and enmity belonging and estrangement creativity and destructiveness that occurred at these junctions These encounters typically unfolded within an uneasy continuum of conflict and co operation conformity and resistance refashioning or maintaining personal and collective dimensions of identity Clearly they never allowed for the luxury of indifference Yet it would be wrong to present meetings of this kind as exclusively confrontational as stark either or choices Life at the junctions may be vulnerable and insecure but it can also yield fresh angles of perception and new opportunities If these boundary situations generated a modicum of friction confusion and anxiety and at times even murderousness they also produced new alliances and friendships creative projects and novel fusions and formations of identity In exploring these dramatic moments in history Steven Aschheim provides valuable new insights into the history of Europe Israel and global Judaism
