Atmospheres of Violence Eric A. Stanley, 2021-09-03 Advances in LGBTQ rights in the recent past marriage equality the repeal of Don't Ask Don't Tell and the expansion of hate crimes legislation have been accompanied by a rise in attacks against trans queer and or gender nonconforming people of color In Atmospheres of Violence theorist and organizer Eric A Stanley shows how this seeming contradiction reveals the central role of racialized and gendered violence in the United States Rather than suggesting that such violence is evidence of individual phobias Stanley shows how it is a structuring antagonism in our social world Drawing on an archive of suicide notes AIDS activist histories surveillance tapes and prison interviews they offer a theory of anti trans queer violence in which inclusion and recognition are forms of harm rather than remedies to it In calling for trans queer organizing and worldmaking beyond these forms Stanley points to abolitionist ways of life that might offer livable futures

Doing Time in the Depression Ethan Blue, 2014-11-22 As banks crashed belts tightened and cupboards emptied across the country American prisons grew fat Doing Time in the Depression tells the story of the 1930s as seen from the cell blocks and cotton fields of Texas and California prisons state institutions that held growing numbers of working people from around the country and the world overwhelmingly poor disproportionately non white and displaced by economic crisis Ethan Blue paints a vivid portrait of everyday life inside Texas and California s penal systems

Each element of prison life from numbing boredom to hard labor from meager pleasure in popular culture to crushing pain from illness or violence demonstrated a contest between keepers and the kept From the moment they arrived to the day they would leave inmates struggled over the meanings of race and manhood power and poverty and of the state itself In this richly layered account Blue compellingly argues that punishment in California and Texas played a critical role in producing a distinctive set of class race and gender identities in the 1930s some of which reinforced the social hierarchies and ideologies of New Deal America and others of which undercut and troubled the established social order He reveals the underside of the modern state in two very different prison systems and the making of grim institutions whose power would only grow across the century
