Information Age Journalism Journalism In An International Context:

Network Journalism Ansgard Heinrich, 2011-04-26 Drawing on current theoretical debates in journalism studies and grounded in empirical research Heinrich here analyzes the interplay between journalistic practice and processes of globalization and digitalization She argues that a new kind of journalism is emerging characterized by an increasingly global flow of news as well as a growing number of news deliverers Within this transformed news sphere the roles of journalistic outlets change They become nodes arranged in a dense net of information gatherers producers and disseminators The interactive connections among these news providers constitute what Heinrich calls the sphere of network journalism

Foreign Correspondents and International Newsgathering Colleen Murrell, 2014-11-27 This book reveals that fixers local experts on whom foreign correspondents rely play a much more significant role in international television newsgathering than has been documented or understood Murrell explores the frames through which international reporting has traditionally been analysed and then shows that fixers who have largely been dismissed by scholars as logistical aides are in fact central to the day to day decision making that takes place on the road Murrell looks at why and how fixers are selected and what their significance is to foreign correspondence She asks if fixers help introduce a local perspective into the international news agenda or if fixers are simply People Like Us PLU Also included are in depth case studies of correspondents in Iraq and Indonesia

Political Communication in the Arabian Gulf Countries Adnan Jasim Bumetea,2013-07-25 This book represents the first systematic study of aspects of political communication in the Arabian Gulf region one of the most important areas in the Middle East It explores the relationship between the governments and the press first through an examination of international and national political news coverage in the Gulf press and second through an analysis of factors influencing selection of these news stories The research examines one principal Arabic language newspaper from each of the six Arabian Gulf countries Al Ayam Bahrain Al Rai Al Aam Kuwait Oman Oman Al Sharq Qatar Al Riyadh Saudi Arabia and Al Bayan UAE The analysis shows a culturally specific pattern of media model distinct from that in the West or other areas in the world This pattern can be understood through three government press models First the loyalist press model prevailing in Oman Qatar Saudi Arabia and the UAE in which a high level of government influence is seen and the press is supportive and in line of the government Second the diverse press model which exists in Kuwait and is characterized by a press with relative freedom and diversity Third the transitional press model which describes the condition in Bahrain manifested with a mixed system of governmental control and elements of press freedom As this pattern still exists this book is important for decision makers politicians media communicators research centers journalism schools media investors and newspapers industry to understand the media industry in this strategic area in the world

Reporting Thailand's Southern Conflict Phansasiri Kularb,2016-02-12 Since 2004 Thailand s southern border provinces have been plagued by violence There are a wide array of explanations for this violence from the revival of Malay nationalist movements and the influence from the global trend of radical Islam to the power play among the regional underground crime syndicates politicians and state authorities The disparate interpretations signal the dynamic and complex discursive contention of this damaging and enduring conflict and this book looks at how this is played out in the Thai media and with what possible consequences In analysing the southern conflict coverage the book presents the deficiencies in news coverage as produced by four news organisations of different natures across a seven year review period and discusses the professional practices that hinder journalism from serving as a fair arena for healthy and rational democratic debates Based on in depth interviews with news workers it argues that Thai journalism is not always monolithic and static as shown in the discursive shifts in news content the variations of journalistic practices and news workers disparate stances on the conflict The book goes on to highlight the less immediately apparent difficulties of political conflict reporting such as the subtle patterns of intimidation and media manipulation as well as the challenges of countering socially prevailing hegemonic beliefs in Thai society Exploring the political contingencies and socio cultural influences at play this book provides an in depth study of journalism s role in politics in Thailand and is of interest to students and scholars of Southeast Asian Politics Media Studies and Peace and Conflict Studies

Media Ethics and Global Justice in the Digital Age Clifford G. Christians, 2019-03-21 Presents a new theory of media ethics that is explicitly international

European Foreign Conflict Reporting Emma Heywood, 2017-07-14 This book explores the state of European foreign conflict reporting by public sector broadcasters post Cold war and post 9 11 It compares the values of three television news providers from differing public systems BBC s News at 10 Russia s Vremya and France 2 s 20 Heures The book examines how these three news providers have reported and broadcast the ongoing Israeli Palestinian conflict which pre dates both the change in East West relations and the events of 9 11 In doing so the work identifies and analyses the role of public and state aligned broadcasters and illustrates how certain news values are consistently prioritised by the broadcasters and the effect this has on how news stories are portrayed The book is divided into two parts Part I focuses on 2006 to 2008 and provides a detailed quantitative overview of the broadcasters news values Part II provides an update of the analysis by examining coverage of the war in Gaza 2014 and discusses the findings from audience research into perceptions of this latter war This book explains that not only do hierarchies in news values exist in foreign conflict reporting but that they are never arbitrary and can be explained in part by the structure of the broadcasters and by events occurring within or associated with the reporting country resulting in nationally differentiated perceptions of conflict throughout the world This book will be of much interest to students of media studies war and conflict studies Middle East politics and international relations in general
