Models of Proposal Planning & Writing Jeremy T. Miner, Kelly C. Ball-Stahl, 2016-05-09 This book is an essential weapon for anyone looking for funding in the extremely competitive grant-seeking world. It explains how and why to approach both public and private sponsors with not just information but persuasion for the best chance for success. How do you present the right balance of logic, emotion, and relationship awareness to make a persuasive proposal? What is THE most important thing to do before submitting a proposal to increase your odds for funding success? What portion of the proposal must be stressed even when it has a low point value assigned to it in the reviewer's evaluation form? How can a site visit make or break the fate of a meticulously prepared application? Models of Proposal Planning Writing, Second Edition, answers all these critical questions and more for grantseekers, documenting how to write a proposal that will persuade a sponsor to invest in your projects and organization and just as importantly, explaining why a properly persuasive application puts forth a seamless argument that stands the test of reason, addresses psychological concerns, and connects your project to the values of the sponsor. The book's comprehensive annotations provide practical information that walks readers step by step through a logical, integrated process of planning and writing persuasive proposals.

Program Evaluation for Social Workers Richard M. Grinnell, Peter Gabor (Sociologist), Yvonne A. Unrau, 2016 First published in 1994, this text is designed to be used by graduate-level social work students in courses on evaluation and program design. Over the course of 20 years and 6 editions, the goals of the book have remained the same: to prepare students to participate in evaluative activities within their organizations, to prepare students to become critical producers and consumers of professional evaluative literature, and to prepare students for more advanced evaluation courses and texts.

Grinnell Gabor and Unrau aim to meet these objectives by presenting a unique approach that is realistic practical applied and user friendly While a majority of textbooks focus on program level evaluation some recent books present case level evaluation methods but rely on inferentially powerful but difficult to implement experimental baseline designs This text assumes that neither of these approaches adequately reflects the realities of the field or the needs of students and beginning practitioners Instead Program Evaluation for Social Workers offers a blend of the two that demonstrates how they can complement one another The integration of case level and program level approaches provides an accessible adaptable and realistic framework for students to more easily grasp and implement in the real world Microcomputers for
