Mad Shadows New Canadian Library:

New Canadian Library Janet Friskney, 2015-05-07 In the mid 1950s much Canadian literature was out of print making it relatively inaccessible to readers including those studying the subject in schools and universities When English professor Malcolm Ross approached Toronto publisher Jack McClelland in 1952 to propose a Canadian literary reprint series it was still the accepted wisdom among publishers that Canadian literature was of insufficient interest to the educational market to merit any great publishing risks Eventually convinced by Ross that a latent market for Canadian literary reprints did indeed exist McClelland Stewart launched the New Canadian Library NCL series in 1958 with Ross as its general editor In 2008 the NCL will celebrate a half century of publication In New Canadian Library Janet B Friskney takes the reader through the early history of the NCL series focusing on the period up to 1978 when Malcolm Ross retired as general editor A wealth of archival resources published reviews and the NCL volumes themselves are used to survey the working relationship between Ross and McClelland as well as the collaborative participation of those who through the middle decades of the twentieth century were committed to studying and nurturing Canada's literary heritage To place the New Canadian Library in its proper historical context Friskney examines the simultaneous development of Canadian literary studies as a legitimate area of research and teaching in academe and acknowledges the NCL as a milestone in Canadian publishing history More Iov in Heaven: New Canadian Library Morley Callaghan, 1937 Women in Canadian Literature M. G. McClung, 1977 Canadian Books in Print. Author and Title Index ,1975 Patterns of Isolation in English Canadian Fiction John Moss, 1974 Private and Fictional Words (Routledge Revivals) Coral Ann Howells, 2014-08-07 First published in 1987 this is an introductory study of the most widely read Canadian women novelists of the 1970s and 1980s At its centre lies the question of how the search for a distinctive cultural identity relates to the need for a national cultural identity in the post colonial era Coral Ann Howells argues that Canadian women's fiction throughout the period of study represents how the Canadian cultural identity exceeds its geographical limits and those traditional structures of patriarchal authority need revision if women's alternative views are to be taken into account Including short biographical sketches and a complete list of the books published by the authors under discussion writers examined include Margaret Atwood Alice Munro and Margaret Laurence From Thirty Acres to Modern Times Jeannette Urbas, 1976 Dundurn Performing Arts Library Bundle — Theatre James Neufeld, Charles Foster, Mel Atkey, Martin Hunter, Sheila M.F. Johnston, Ward McBurney, 2013-12-26 This special bundle contains seven books that detail Canada's long and storied history in the performing arts We learn about Canada's early Hollywood celebrity movie stars Canadians vast contributions to successful international stage musicals the story of The Grand a famous theatre in London Ontario reminiscences from the early days of radio the history of the renowned Stratford Festival and a lavish history of the famous National Ballet of Canada Canada s performing artists blossomed in the twentieth century and you can learn all about it here Includes Broadway North Let's Go to The Grand Once Upon a Time in Paradise Passion to Dance Sky Train

The Oxford Anthology of Canadian Literature Robert Weaver, William Toye, 1973 Sex and Violence in the Canadian Novel John Moss, 1977 Interviews to Literature Jean Royer, 1996 Royer's role here is similar to a translator's where confidences and revelations from the artists he has talked to are translated into these texts he calls interviews to literature He polishes he evaluates he chooses he animates in short doing what a translator does to make the translated text into a reality in its own right separate from yet intimately linked to the original The texts here allow us to see the artists not only in their guarded moments when they make oft uttered statements they hope the world will read and appreciate but especially in their unguarded relaxed moments when we get a glimpse of the private person the inner being it is a privilege to discover Jean Royer has the gift of brilliantly showing us these moments and shaping them into unforgettable texts that remain in the mind as only literature can do Daniel Sloate Canadiana ,1990 Canadian Books in Print 2002 Edited by Butler Marian, Marian Butler, 2002-02 Containing more than 48000 titles of which approximately 4000 have a 2001 imprint the author and title index is extensively cross referenced It offers a complete directory of Canadian publishers available listing the names and ISBN prefixes as well as the street e mail and web addresses The Role of Woman in Canadian Literature Elizabeth McCullough,1975 1961, Canadian Library Canadian Books in Print .1990 Canadian Selection Alvan Bregman, Ontario.
