In 2002 Frank Bidart published a sequence of poems Music Like Dirt the first chapbook ever to be a finalist for the Pulitzer Prize From the beginning he had conceived this sequence as the opening movement in a larger structure now with Star Dust finally complete Throughout his work Bidart has been uniquely alert to the dramatic possibilities of violence in this and in his sense of theater he resembles the great Jacobean dramatists It is no accident that Webster s plays echo in The Third Hour of the Night the brilliant long poem that dominates the second half of Star Dust Bidart locates in Benvenuto Cellini the speaker truest to his own vision Who better to speak of the drive to create not as reverie or pleasure or afterthought but as task and burden thwarted by the world In its scale sonorities extraordinary leaps and juxtapositions The Third Hour of the Night makes an astonishing counterbalance to the intense spare lyrics that precede it In this profound and unforgettable new book the dream beyond desire which now seems to represent human destiny is rooted in the drive to create a drive tormented at every stage by failure as the temporal being fights for its survival by making an eternal life Bidart is a poet of passionate originality and Star Dust shows that the forms of this originality continue to deepen and change as he constantly renews his contract with the idea of truth Dragonspeaker Chronicles Books 1-3 Patty Jansen, She has a dragon She s not afraid to use it The complete Dragonspeaker Chronicles series Nellie Dreessen is a kitchen maid in the palace of Regent Bernard of Saardam She has worked for two kings and two regents has seen two royal families murdered through magic has seen ghosts and demons and kept her head down like a good girl On her fiftieth birthday she receives her late father s diary which describes a magical item that is so evil it needs to be kept in the church crypt a box that contains dragon Problem is someone has stolen the box Regent Bernard holds a banquet for his eldest son s sixteenth birthday Distinguished guests come from far and wide Because she knows what the box looks like Nellie discovers it in a nobleman s luggage Removing the box from a thief s room is not stealing right Not if you intend to return it to the rightful owner the church But someone poisons the nobleman and everyone in the kitchen is a suspect Nellie s friend in the church advises Nellie to flee with the dragon box The
