Mad Matters A Critical Reader In Canadian Mad Studies:

Mad Matters Brenda A. LeFrançois, Robert Menzies, Geoffrey Reaume, 2013 In 1981 Toronto activist Mel Starkman wrote An important new movement is sweeping through the western world The mad the oppressed the ex inmates of society s asylums are coming together and speaking for themselves Mad Matters is the first Canadian book to bring together the writings of this vital movement which has grown explosively in the years since With contributions from scholars in numerous disciplines as well as activists and psychiatric survivors it presents diverse critical voices that convey the lived experiences of the psychiatrized and challenges dominant understandings of mental illness The connections between mad activism and other liberation struggles are stressed throughout making the book a major contribution to the literature on human rights and anti oppression

Mad Matters Robert J. Menzies, Geoffrey Reaume, Brenda A. LeFrançois, 2013 Mad Studies Reader Bradley Lewis, Alisha Ali, Jazmine Russell, 2024-09-30 The last few years have brought increased writings from activists artists scholars and concerned clinicians that cast a critical and constructive eye on psychiatry mental health care and the cultural relations of mental difference With particular focus on accounts of lived experience and readings that cover issues of epistemic and social injustice in mental health discourse the Mad Studies Reader brings together voices that advance anti sanist approaches to scholarship practice art and activism in this realm Beyond offering a theoretical and historical overview of mad studies this Reader draws on the perspectives voices and experiences of artists mad pride activists humanities and social science scholars and critical clinicians to explore the complexity of mental life and mental difference Voices from these groups confront and challenge standard approaches to mental difference They advance new structures of meaning and practice that are inclusive of those who have been systematically subjugated and promote anti sanist approaches to counter inequalities prejudices and discrimination Confronting modes of psychological oppression and the power of a few to interpret and define difference for so many the Mad Studies Reader asks the critical question of how these approaches may be reconsidered resisted and reclaimed This collection will be of interest to mental health clinicians students and scholars of the arts humanities and social sciences and anyone who has been affected by mental difference directly or indirectly who is curious to explore new perspectives

Mad Studies: The Basics Merrick Daniel Pilling, 2025-05-19 Mad Studies The Basics provides an introductory account of a field that emerged from and must remain grounded within community knowledge activism and the perspectives of those who have experienced madness and mental health systems It is a concise text that introduces the field through an exploration of some origins of Mad Studies as well as two interrelated queries what does Mad Studies help us understand and what does Mad Studies help us do This exploration reveals that Mad Studies is an interdisciplinary intersectional and multi vocal field that demands different answers to the very meaning of the beliefs behaviours and bodymind experiences that are currently characterized as being indicative of mental illness At the heart of Mad Studies is a liberationist desire to resist transform and abolish the systems that create marginalization and implement responses to madness that are grounded in the collective knowledge of those deemed Mad This book shows that the contributions of Indigenous Black racialized queer and trans people must be understood as central to and already embedded within Mad Studies and activism rather than as add ons expansions or efforts to make Mad Studies more inclusive It will be of interest to all scholars and students of disability studies social work gender studies education health sciences sociology and psychology as well as practitioners in mental health care and those with lived experience of madness and mental health systems

Routledge International Handbook of Critical Mental Health Bruce Cohen, 2017-09-22 The Routledge International Handbook of Critical Mental Health offers the most comprehensive collection of theoretical and applied writings to date with which students scholars researchers and practitioners within the social and health sciences can systematically problematise the practices priorities and knowledge base of the Western system of mental health With the continuing contested nature of psychiatric discourse and the work of psy professionals this book is a timely return to theorising the business of mental health as a social economic political and cultural project one which necessarily involves the consideration of wider societal and structural dynamics including labelling and deviance ideological and social control professional power consumption capital neoliberalism and self governance Featuring original essays from some of the most established international scholars in the area the Handbook discusses and provides updates on critical theories of mental health from labelling social constructionism antipsychiatry Foucauldian and Marxist approaches to critical feminist race and queer theory critical realism critical cultural theory and mad studies Over six substantive sections the collection additionally demonstrates the application of such theoretical ideas and scholarship to key topics including medicalisation and pharmaceuticalisation the DSM global psychiatry critical histories of mental health and talk therapy Bringing together the latest theoretical work and empirical case studies from the US the UK Australia New Zealand Europe and Canada the Routledge International Handbook of Critical Mental Health demonstrates the continuing need to think critically about mental health and illness and will be an essential resource for all who study or work in the field

Madness, Violence, and Power Andrea Daley, Lucy Costa, Peter Beresford, 2019-01-01 Madness Violence and Power A Critical Collection disengages from the common forms of discussion about violence related to mental health service users and survivors which position those users or survivors as more likely to enact violence or become victims of violence Instead this book seeks to broaden understandings of violence manifest in the lives of mental health service users survivors push current considerations to explore the impacts of systems and institutions that manage abnormality and to create and foster space to explore the role of our own communities in justice and accountability dialogues This critical collection constitutes an integral contribution to critical scholarship on violence and mental illness by addressing a gap in the existing literature by broadening the violence lens and inviting an interdisciplinary conversation that is not narrowly biomedical and neuro scientific Public

Participation in Health Care: Exploring the Co-Production of Knowledge Gill Green,Annette Louise Boaz,Maria Clasina Stuttford,2020-01-28 Queer and Trans Madness Merrick Daniel Pilling,2022-03-20 This book urges those invested in social justice for 2SLGBTQ people to interrogate the biomedical model of mental illness beyond the diagnoses that specifically target gender and sexual dissidence In this first comprehensive application of Mad Studies to queer and trans experiences of mental distress Pilling advances a broad critique of the biomedical model of mental illness as it pertains to 2SLGBTQ people arguing that Mad Studies is especially amenable to making sense of queer and trans madness Based on empirical data from two qualitative research studies this book includes analyses of inpatient chart documentation from a psychiatric hospital and interviews with those who have experienced distress Using an intersectional lens Pilling critically examines what constitutes mental health treatment and the impacts of medical strategies on mad queer and trans people Ultimately Queer and Trans Madness Struggles for Social Justice explores the emancipatory promise of queer and trans madness advocating for more resources to respond to crisis and distress in ways that are non coercive non carceral and honour autonomy as well as interdependence within 2SLGBTQ communities Mental Health Social Work Reimagined Ian Cummins,2019-04-17 Taking a critical and radical approach this book calls for a return to mental health social work that has personal relationships and an emotional connection between workers and those experiencing distress at its core The optimism that underpinned the development of community care policies has dissipated to be replaced by a form of bleak managerialism Neoliberalism has added stress to services already under great pressure and created a danger that we could revert to institutional forms of care This much needed book argues that the original progressive values of community care policies need to be rediscovered updated and reinvigorated to provide a basis for a mental health social work that returns to fundamental notions of dignity and citizenship Critical Inquiries for Social Justice in Mental Health Marina Morrow,Lorraine Halinka Malcoe,2017-01-01 An exceptional showcase of interdisciplinary research Critical Inquiries for Social Justice in Mental Health presents various critical theories methodologies and methods for transforming mental health research and fostering socially just mental health practices Marina Morrow and Lorraine Halinka Malcoe have assembled an array of international scholars activists and practitioners whose work exposes and disrupts the dominant neoliberal and individualist practices found in contemporary mental research policy and practice The contributors employ a variety of methodologies including intersectional decolonizing indigenous feminist post structural transgender queer and critical realist approaches in order to interrogate the manifestation of power relations in mental health systems and its impact on people with mental distress Additionally the contributors enable the reader to reimagine systems and supports designed from the bottom up in which the people most affected have decision making authority over their formations Critical Inquiries for Social Justice in Mental Health demonstrates why and how theory matters for knowledge production policy and practice in mental health and it creates new imaginings of decolonized and democratized mental health systems of abundant community centred supports and of a world where human differences are affirmed

Anarchist Perspectives for Social Work

Alexander W. Sawatsky, 2024 This book seeks to rigorously and specifically engage with anarchist theory and find application to social work fields of practice and social work theory

Recovery, Mental Health and Inequality

Lynn Tang, 2017-07-06 Mental health has long been perceived as a taboo subject in the UK so much so that mental health services have been marginalised within health and social care There is even more serious neglect of the specific issues faced by different ethnic minorities This book uses the rich narratives of the recovery journeys of Chinese mental health service users in the UK a perceived hard to reach group and largely invisible in mental health literature to illustrate the myriad ways that social inequalities such as class ethnicity and gender contribute to service users distress and mental ill health as well as shape their subsequent recovery journeys Recovery Mental Health and Inequality contributes to the debate about the implementation of recovery approach in mental health services and demonstrates the importance of tackling structural inequalities in facilitating meaningful recovery This timely book would benefit practitioners and students in various fields such as nurses social workers and mental health postgraduate trainees

Psychiatric Oppression in Women's Lives

Emma Tseris, Scarlett Franks, Eva Bright Hart, 2024-10-12 This book provides a comprehensive analysis of women's experiences within mental health services demonstrating the need for a radical paradigm shift in how women's distress and experiences are understood Drawing on extensive fieldwork on coercive mental health treatment including interviews participatory action research arts based research and public sociology the book centres the knowledge skills and creativity of psychiatrised women Informed by intersectional feminism and critical mental health theory the book explores the interlocking oppressions of psychiatric harm and patriarchal power alongside women's survivorship and resistances Areas covered include the pathologisation of women's emotions within mental health services violence and deprivations in involuntary treatment the surveillance of mothering and social exclusions arising from psychiatric diagnoses The book highlights the ability of collective and creative research processes to move beyond the task of documenting psychiatric harm towards imagining rich alternatives to biomedical therapeutic and carceral practices in mental health It offers a critique of the notions of benevolence and expertise which are commonly used to justify psychiatric coercion It will appeal to students and scholars working across the fields of critical mental health sociology social work psychiatry mental health nursing and gender studies Emma Tseris is senior lecturer in Social Work and Policy Studies at the University of Sydney Australia researching feminist and critical mental health theory She is the author of Trauma Women's Mental Health and Social Justice

Disability, Avoidance and the Academy David Bolt, Claire Penketh, 2017-07-14 Disability is a widespread phenomenon indeed a potentially universal one as life expectancies rise Within the academic world it has relevance for all disciplines yet is often dismissed as a niche market or someone else's domain This collection explores how academic avoidance of disability studies and disability theory is indicative of social prejudice and highlights conversely how the academy can and does engage with disability studies This innovative book brings together work in the humanities and the social sciences and draws on the riches of cultural diversity to challenge institutional and disciplinary avoidance Divided into three parts the first looks at how educational institutions and systems implicitly uphold double standards which can result in negative experiences for staff and students who are disabled The second part explores how disability studies informs and improves a number of academic disciplines from social work to performance arts The final part shows how more diverse cultural engagement offers a way forward for the academy demonstrating ways in which we can make more explicit the interdisciplinary significance of disability studies and by extension disability theory activism experience and culture Disability Avoidance and the Academy Challenging Resistance will interest students and scholars of disability studies education studies and cultural studies

Reimagining Mental Health and Addiction Under the Covid-19 Pandemic, Volume 3 Dionisio Nyaga, Rose Ann Torres, 2024-07-04 This edited collection is a follow up to Algoma University's inaugural conference on mental health and addiction held at the Brampton campus in Ontario Canada We live in a society where many marginalized communities continue to bear a historically disproportionate burden on their psychological mental and economic well being especially under the Covid 19 pandemic Covid 19 has had a continuing impact on marginalized and racialized communities at all levels We are now witnessing the compounded effects in the form of a worsening mental health and addiction crisis and its subsequent impact on children's education service delivery and overall psychosocial well being Covid 19 has widened the gap and increased poverty disparities between high income and low income individuals Furthermore it has affected the psychosocial resilience of people As communities of scholars practitioners and researchers we have a responsibility to address these existential issues in ways that are ethical and transformative This type of engagement should help mitigate the consequences of the pandemic in an intersectional manner These conversations should assist us in understanding and addressing the trauma and suffering that marginalized communities and individuals continue to endure Together we can work to find answers to mental health and addiction challenges while valuing people s histories and realities within this intersectional engagement This book aims to redefine psychiatric discourse in the age of the pandemic and encourage us to imagine how the world can be reformed in ways that are both ethical and political It has the potential to shed light on the values and realities of communities in discussions of medical sociology particularly concerning the impact of Covid 19 on marginalized communities This book is structured into three volumes Volume one delves into the repercussions of the COVID 19 pandemic on the mental health of various ethnic groups Volume two specifically addresses the impact of the pandemic on the mental health of Afro Black individuals Volume three explores the connections between the COVID 19 pandemic psychological well being and colonialism

What does it mean to claim two decades into the twenty first century that citizenship is on the edge The questions that animate this volume focus attention on the relationships between liberal conceptions of citizenship and democracy on one hand and sex race and gender on the other Who counts as a citizen in today s world and what are the mechanisms through which the rights benefits and protections of liberal citizenship are differentially bestowed upon diverse groups What are the relationships between global economic processes and political and legal empowerment What forms of violence emerge in order to defend and define these rights benefits and protections and how do these forms of violence reflect long histories How might we recognize and account for the various avenues through which people attempt to make themselves as political subjects Citizenship on the Edge approaches these questions from multiple disciplines including Africana Studies anthropology disability studies film studies gender studies history law political science and sociology Contributors explore the ways in which compounding social inequalities redound to the conditions and expressions of citizenship in the U S and throughout the world They give a sense of the breathtaking range of the ways that citizenship is controlled repressed undercut and denied at the same time as they outline people s attempts to claim citizenship in ways that are meaningful to them From university speech policies to labor and immigration policies to a rethinking of the security theatre to women s empowerment in the family and economy and a rethinking of marriage and the family we see slivers of possibility for a more inclusive and less hostile world in which citizenship is no longer so in doubt so on the edge for so many As a whole the volume argues that citizenship cannot be conceptualized as a transcendent good but must instead always be contextualized within specific places and times and in relation to dynamic struggle Contributors Erez Aloni Ange Marie Hancock Alfaro Nancy J Hirschmann Samantha Majic Valentine M Moghadam Michael Rembis Tracy Robinson Ellen Samuels Kimberly Theidon Deborah A Thomas

All Our Welfare Peter Beresford, 2016-01-29 The UK welfare state is under sustained ideological and political attack In All Our Welfare Peter Beresford explores the establishment and trajectory of the postwar welfare state and offers a blueprint for participatory social policy in the future By showing that early welfare policies resulted from popular revulsion against the inequity of the market and associated poor laws Beresford reveals that the welfare state was ultimately undermined by its failure to engage the people it was intended to help Noting the subsequent similar failure of neoliberal social policy to engage people in improving their own welfare Beresford draws on the pioneering theories and practices of current welfare service user movements to outline participatory approaches to social policy theory knowledge development policy practice and support identifying a series of principles that could underpin them and offering inclusive models for sustainable change Also including fascinating vignettes from his own family's experience Beresford demonstrates the value of user knowledge The Legacies of Institutionalisation Claire Spivakovsky, Linda Steele, Penelope

Weller, 2020-07-09 This is the first collection to examine the legal dynamics of deinstitutionalisation It considers the extent to which some contemporary laws policies and practices affecting people with disabilities are moving towards the promised end point of enhanced social and political participation in the community while others may instead reinstate continue or legitimate historical practices associated with this population's institutionalisation Bringing together 20 contributors from the UK Canada Australia Spain and Indonesia the book speaks to overarching themes of segregation and inequality interlocking forms of oppression and rights based advancements in law policy and practice Ultimately this collection brings forth the possibilities limits and contradictions in the roles of law and policy in processes of institutionalisation and deinstitutionalisation and directs us towards a more nuanced and sustained scholarly and political engagement with these issues Exploring Sexuality and Disability Shanna Katz Kattari, 2023-09-01

Offering a current comprehensive and intersectional guide for students practitioners and researchers this book synthesizes existing scholarship on culturally responsive practices that assist in exploring understanding and affirming the sexuality of disabled chronically ill neurodivergent and Mad individuals Drawing on an intersectional framework it integrates insights drawn from an interdisciplinary body of scholarship including psychology social work sociology history political science women and gender studies cultural studies and education along with perspectives from the practitioners who are actively defining the next generation of best practices By highlighting the incredible resilience and resistance of disabled individuals and communities sexuality and sexual well being this book challenges narratives that rely primarily on a one dimensional view derived from the medical model and the view of disability as something to be fixed or at least tolerated rather than celebrated In a world that pathologizes and devalues the sexual existence of disabled individuals it illustrates how to create thriving communities and relationships and how they can organize to find their voice providing a counter narrative of empowerment that fosters hopefulness power and health It will be of interest to all scholars students and professionals across a variety of professions including social work psychology counseling policy healthcare education community organizing and multiple social service settings
