Made For Goodness And Why This Makes All The Difference:

Made For Goodness Desmond Tutu, Mpho Tutu, 2010-05-25 In Made for Goodness Archbishop Desmond Tutu explains that though we sometimes act out of depravity and despair we do know in our heart of hearts that we are not as we were meant to be and were created to be so much more The truth of human goodness can get hidden under the fear that we cannot live up to its demands or it can get buried under faults or failures or it can just get forgotten In this thoughtful and important book the Archbishop with his daughter Mpho Tutu shows how we can find our way back to goodness by changing our attitudes by practising forgiveness and by prayer Then we will begin to see the goodness and beauty of others If our view changes this in turn alters the way we act And how we act towards each other affects not only ourselves but everything in our world for the better Journal of Moral Theology, Volume 14, Issue 2 M. southern Africa and beyond could and should be further explored under the label of sentient conservation Contributors are Malcolm Draper Vupenyu Dzingirai Jan Bart Gewald Michael Glover Paul Hebinck Tariro Kamuti Lindiwe Mangwanya Albert Manhamo Dhoya Snijders Marja Spierenburg Sandra Swart Harry Wels      The Self Patricia Kitcher, 2021 The Self A History explores the ways in which the concept of an I or a self has been developed and deployed at different times in the history of Western Philosophy It also offers a striking contrast case the interconnected self who appears in some expressions of African Philosophy The I or self seems engulfed in paradoxes We are selves and we seem to be conscious of ourselves yet it is very difficult to say what a self is Although we refer to ourselves when we try to find or locate ourselves the I seems elusive We can find human bodies but we do not refer to ourselves by referring to our bodies we do not know that we are raising our hands or thinking hard by looking at our arms or catching a glimpse of our furrowed brows in a mirror The essays in this volume engage many philosophical resources metaphysics epistemology phenomenology philosophy of psychology and philosophy of language to try to shed needed light on these puzzles      Public Intellectuals and the Common Good Todd C. Ream, Jerry A. Pattengale, Christopher J. Devers, 2021-01-26 In the midst of a divisive culture public intellectuals speaking from an evangelical perspective have a critical role to play within the church and beyond Representing the church higher education journalism and the nonprofit sector these world class scholars and practitioners cast a vision for intellectuals who promote human flourishing      Making All the Difference Martha Minow, 2016-10-01 Should a court order medical treatment for a severely disabled newborn in the face of the parents refusal to authorize it How does the law apply to a neighborhood that objects to a group home for developmentally disabled people Does equality mean treating everyone the same even if such treatment affects some people adversely Does a state requirement of employee maternity leave serve or violate the commitment to gender equality Martha Minow takes a hard look at the way our legal system functions in dealing with people on the basis of race gender age ethnicity religion and disability Minow confronts a variety of dilemmas of difference resulting from contradictory legal strategies strategies that attempt to correct inequalities by sometimes recognizing and sometimes ignoring differences Exploring the historical sources of ideas about difference she offers challenging alternative ways of conceiving of traits that legal and social institutions have come to regard as different She argues in effect for a constructed jurisprudence based on the ability to recognize and work with perceptible forms of difference Minow is passionately interested in the people different people whose lives are regularly mis shaped and mis directed by the legal system s ways of handling them Drawing on literary and feminist theories and the insights of anthropology and social history she identifies the unstated assumptions that tend to regenerate discrimination through the very reforms that are supposed to eliminate it Education for handicapped children conflicts between job and family responsibilities bilingual education Native American land claims these are among the concrete problems she discusses from a fresh angle of vision Minow firmly rejects the prevailing conception of the self that she believes underlies legal doctrine a self

seen as either separate and autonomous or else disabled and incompetent in some way In contrast she regards the self as being realized through connection capable of shaping an identity only in relationship to other people She shifts the focus for problem solving from the different person to the relationships that construct that difference and she proposes an analysis that can turn difference from a basis of stigma and a rationale for unequal treatment into a point of human connection The meanings of many differences can change when people locate and revise their relationships to difference she asserts The student in a wheelchair becomes less different when the building designed without him in mind is altered to permit his access Her book evaluates contemporary legal theories and reformulates legal rights for women children persons with disabilities and others historically identified as different Here is a powerful voice for change speaking to issues that permeate our daily lives and form a central part of the work of law By illuminating the many ways in which people differ from one another this book shows how lawyers political theorist teachers parents students every one of us can make all the difference
