Renn, John Owen, 2015-02-05 Killing Sin is John Owen's Puritan classic Mortification of Sin updated for today Owen tackles the age old challenge for the Christian how to put to death the power of sin over our lives This is something that is impossible through man centered self help or self denial But with God all things are possible Though we will never be completely free of sin while alive in this world by putting our faith on Christ with an expectation of His help the Holy Spirit will bring the His cross into our hearts with all its sin killing power Owen tells us why it is imperative for the Christian to be killing sin in his life what it actually means to kill sin why only a Christian can do it why it is only possible through the power of the Holy Spirit and how we can avail ourselves of the power of the Spirit to kill sin through gospel faith in the death and resurrection of Christ Owen's original Mortification of Sin was written in 17th century English that is extremely difficult to understand This Killing Sin translates Owen into contemporary English that is easy to read without dumbing it down so people today can read this very important book on a most critical topic Killing Sin Lisa Bedrick, 2018-06-13 Here are the chapter titles for this book I pray it will bless you a lot if you read it Chapter 1 Killing Sin Chapter 2 Addictions Chapter 3 Walking Out the Walk Chapter 4 The Possibility of Falling Away Chapter 5 Drinking Soda is a Sin Chapter 6 Regarding Original Sin Chapter 7 How to live a Holy and Good Life Chapter 8 Demonic Power in Music Chapter 9 Homosexuality is a Sin Chapter 10 Don't Love Money Chapter 11 God's Laws Lead to Life Chapter 12 Be Radical For God Chapter 13 Cures for the 7 Deadly Sins Chapter 14 Increased Demonic Activity on Halloween Chapter 15 Our Narcissistic Generation Chapter 16 Weapons of Self Destruction Chapter 17 Can Christians Have Evil Spirits Chapter 18 Stay in God's Grace Chapter 19 Personal Convictions Chapter 20 Depression Is Chapter 21 Doctors Chapter 22 What is Faith The Mortification of Sin John Owen, 1996 Killing Sin Before Sin Kills You William Gibbs, 2014-11-03 This book is for believers who struggle with sin Those who are comfortable with sin are in trouble because they have not matured enough for sin to bother with them But if they have grown at all in knowledge and grace then they have surely been introduced to the law of sin and have learned that for every step forward they take sin increases its efforts to pull them back To beat sin believers need ALL of God's resources This book tells how to access them Of the Mortification of Sin in Believers John Owen, 2018-11-24 John Owen writes as a pastor concerned that the present spiritual state of professing Christians left them ill equipped to deal with temptation and sin In these pages he boldly unfolds the necessity and nature of killing sin with characteristic precision With Romans 8:13 as the foundation of his thesis Owen challenges every believer with the duty to constantly be doing the work of killing sin empowered by the indwelling Holy Spirit and emboldened by the truth of the gospel of Jesus Christ Throughout he offers practical applications for how to deal with the guilt of indwelling sin in submission to Christ instead of our own strength and warnings for neglecting this work in our Christian lives This edited version of Owen's Mortification seeks to provide a fresh easy to read experience of the great Puritan preacher's insight and wisdom How to Overcome Sin and Temptation John Owen, 2014-01 John Owen is widely recognized as one of the premier theologians of the post Reformation. One need not balk at placing his name alongside giants of the faith such as Augustine, Aquinas, Luther, Calvin, and Edwards. His ministry was vast and varied: preacher, statesman, political advisor, advocate, author, polemicist, and defender of faith. But perhaps his greatness is most clearly seen in his pastoral works on mortification, temptation, and sin. Since their original publication in the seventeenth century, Christians have valued Owen's writings on sin and temptation for their uncommon insight into the wonderful depths and wild deceitfulness of the heart. These devotional writings were the product of a man who made it his chief design in life to promote the mortification of sin and the pursuit of personal holiness for the glory of God and the adornment of the gospel of Jesus Christ. In a day of empty purpose statements, this may not mean much. But for Owen, overcoming sin and temptation was his life, a fact confirmed by his younger colleague David Clarkson, who at Owen's funeral sermon in 1683 stated, "I need not tell you of this who knew him, that it was his great design to promote holiness in the life and exercise of it among you." In other words, Owen preached what he first practiced. Though written over three hundred years ago, this volume is relevant for any tired soul aching for victory over the inner struggle between the Spirit and the flesh. Conquest will not come easy. This civil war within is a daily battle. As Owen states, "The choicest believers who are assuredly freed from the condemning power of sin ought yet to make it their business all their days to mortify the indwelling power of sin." p. 50. And how is triumph found? Set faith at work on Christ for the killing of your sin. His blood is the great sovereign remedy for sin-sick souls. Live in this, and you will die a conqueror; yea, you will, through the good providence of God, live to see your lusts dead at your feet. Time and again in these three works, Owen outlines a battle plan for attacking sin by affixing our attention on Christ.

Diehard Sins Rush Witt, 2018 Not committing murder check. Not committing adultery check. Not being lazy check. Not being gluttonous check. Not being inconsiderate or insensitive check. Come on, Everybody, does those. What does God really expect? He expects us to be killing sin, or it will kill us both: the big obvious sins as well as the commonplace familiar sins. And those subtle elusive sins often slip most easily into our character without our knowing it, making them the hardest to kill of all. Here, pastor and counselor Rush Witt introduces you to this problem of diehard sins and provides a helpful doctrine of sin in general, before laying out a method for change. Learn how you can enter into your struggle against destructive daily habits, understand your needs in the fight, and bring Christ and his provisions to bear upon your beliefs and desires, equipping yourself to gradually kill the slippery sins that seem so unkillable. How Do I Kill Remaining Sin? Geoffrey Thomas, 2014-04-22 Are you dying? If not, then you have not yet begun to live. The Bible teaches us that when God forgives a person by the death of Jesus Christ, He starts a process in him of dying daily, putting his sinful habits to death as he lives in union with Christ. Though being born again brings fundamental changes in a person's soul, every Christian has sin remaining in him. Pastor Geoffrey Thomas explains how Christians can fight and conquer sin in their lives by the grace of Christ, so that they grow to be more like Jesus, living wholeheartedly for the Lord one day at a time.
