The first NAV page is the default NAV page. This page may be quickly selected (NT) using the NAV key.

select the NAV group and display the default NAV page, press and hold NAV default NAV page displays a graphic course deviation indicator (CDI) across the top of the page. Unlike the angular limits used on a mechanical CDI coupled to a H.S. receiver, full scale limits for this CDI are defined by a GPS derived $\pm 0.3, 1.0$ or 3.0 nm, as indicated at both ends of the CDI. By default, the scale will automatically adjust to the desired limits based upon the current altitude, en route, terminal area or approach. You may also manually select and scale setting as outlined on pages 141-143.

A graphic CDI shows your position at the center of the indicator, relative to your desired course (the moving course deviation needle). As with a traditional analog CDI, when you're off course simply steer toward the needle. The CDI arrow in the center of the scale indicates whether you are heading to (arrow) the waypoint or if you have passed the waypoint (a down arrow).

The CNC 429 always supports PD support unless the OS switch is set (preventing automatic support upgrading), or you have turned the last component in your Rube cube.
