Turner, 2018-03-09 The rise of cognitive neuroscience is the most important scientific and intellectual development of the last thirty years Findings pour forth and major initiatives for brain research continue The social sciences have responded to this development slowly for good reasons The implications of particular controversial findings such as the discovery of mirror neurons have been ambiguous controversial within neuroscience itself and difficult to integrate with conventional social science Yet many of these findings such as those of experimental neuro economics pose very direct challenges to standard social science At the same time however the known facts of social science for example about linguistic and moral diversity pose a significant challenge to standard neuroscience approaches which tend to focus on universal aspects of human and animal cognition A serious encounter between cognitive neuroscience and social science is likely to be challenging and transformative for both parties Although a literature has developed on proposals to integrate neuroscience and social science these proposals go in divergent directions None of them has a developed conception of social life This book surveys these issues introduces the basic alternative conceptions both of the mental world and the social world and show how with sufficient modification they can be fit together in plausible ways The book is not a new theory of anything but rather an exploration of the critical issues that relate to the social aspects of cognition which expands the topic from the social neuroscience of immediate interpersonal interaction to the whole range of places where social variation interacts with the cognitive The focus is on the conceptual problems produced by any attempt to take these issues seriously and also on the new resources and considerations relevant to doing so But it is also on the need for a revision of social theoretical concepts in order to utilize these resources The book points to some conclusions especially about how the process of what was known as socialization needs to be understood in cognitive science friendly terms But there is no attempt to resolve the underlying issues within cognitive science which will doubtless persist Methods in Analytical Political Theory Adrian

Blau,2017-05-18 A guide to methods in analytical political theory offering concrete advice and clear examples of good and bad practice Essentials of Economics in Context Neva Goodwin,Jonathan M. Harris,Pratistha Joshi Rajkarnikar,Brian Roach,Tim B. Thornton,2024-09-25 Essentials of Economics in Context is specifically designed to meet the requirements of a one semester introductory economics course that provides coverage of both microeconomic and macroeconomic foundations It addresses current economic challenges paying specific attention to issues of inequality globalization unpaid work technology financialization and the environment making the text a genuine 21st century introduction to economics Aspects of history institutions gender ethics and ecology are integrated throughout the text and economic analysis is presented within broader themes of human well being and social and environmental sustainability Theoretical expositions in the text are kept close to reality by integrating numerous real world examples and by presenting the material in the recognized accessible and engaging style of this experienced author team Key features include a brand new chapter devoted entirely to economic inequality up to date discussions of the impacts of the COVID 19 pandemic on labor markets inflation and beyond an inclusive approach to economics where the economy is analyzed within its social and environmental context including a greater focus on topics outside of the United States a focus on goals of human well being stability and sustainability instead of solely focusing on market activities This text is the ideal resource for one semester introductory economics courses globally The book s companion website is available at www.bu.edu/eci/essentials Remembering from the Outside Christopher McCarroll,2018-06-01 When recalling events that one personally experienced one often visualises the remembered scene as one originally saw it from an internal visual perspective Sometimes however one sees oneself in the remembered scene from an external observer perspective In such cases one remembers from the outside This book is about such memories Remembering from the outside is a common yet curious case of personal memory one views oneself from a perspective one seemingly could not have had at the time of the original event How can past events be recalled from a detached perspective How is it that the self is observed And how can we account for the self presence of such memories Indeed can there be genuine memories recalled from the outside If memory preserves past perceptual content then how can one see oneself from the outside in memory This book disentangles the puzzles posed by remembering from the outside The book develops a dual faceted approach for thinking about memory which acknowledges constructive and reconstructive processes at encoding and at retrieval and it uses this approach to defend the possibility of genuine memories being recalled from the outside In so doing it also elucidates the nature of such memories and sheds light on the nature of personal memory The book argues that field and observer perspectives are different ways of thinking about a particular past event Further by exploring the ways we have of getting outside of ourselves in memory and other cognitive domains the book sheds light on the nature of our perspectival minds

Revelatory Events Ann Taves,2016-11-08 A leading scholar sheds critical light on the seemingly revelatory events behind new religions and spiritual movements Unseen presences Apparitions Hearing voices Although some people would find such experiences to be distressing and seek clinical help others perceive them as transformative Occasionally these unusual phenomena give rise to new spiritual paths or religious movements Revelatory Events provides fresh insights into what is perhaps the bedrock of all religious belief the claim that otherworldly powers are active in human affairs Ann Taves looks at Mormonism Alcoholics Anonymous and A Course in Miracles three cases in which insiders claimed that a spiritual presence guided the emergence of a new spiritual path In the 1820s Joseph Smith Jr reportedly translated the Book of Mormon from ancient gold plates unearthed with the help of an angel Bill Wilson cofounded AA after having an ecstatic experience while hospitalized for alcoholism in 1934 Helen Schucman scribed the words of an inner voice that she attributed to Jesus which formed the basis of her 1976 best selling self study course In each case Taves argues the sense of a guiding presence emerged through a complex creative interaction between a founding figure with unusual mental abilities and an initial set of collaborators who were drawn into the process by diverse motives of their own A major work of scholarship this compelling and accessible book traces the very human processes behind such events The Burning Saints Dimitris
