Silent Partners in Multicultural Education Tuija Itkonen, Fred Dervin, 2017-02-01 This volume aims to stimulate interest in the under researched role of silent partners SPs in multicultural education Silent partners include formal and informal places spaces in schools e g architecture classroom facilities libraries corridors playgrounds canteens objects e g teaching aids furniture wall decorations and overall interior design interactive technologies use of devices and applications but also often taken for granted and not immediately visible patterns of thought ideologies and assumptions People involved in education all engage and work with a number of SPs that contribute to the delivery of curricula but also to social life and well being in and out of schools The way places spaces objects and technologies influence the school community s experiences of learning well being and social justice is rarely observed and problematised in education hence the adjective silent in the term silent partners This book not only fills a significant empirical gap but it can also inject public debate over future working environments in schools for multicultural education It will be relevant to both researchers interested in developing their knowledge on these issues from a different perspective but also educators in search of inspiration for multicultural education

Praise for Silent Partners in Multicultural Education How to organize your classroom s configuration in such a manner that all pupils feel welcome and comfortable While most of those invested in multicultural education focus on the optimization of various linguistic aspects Itkonen Dervin and their colleagues give voice to the non verbal aspects of education In this book they elaborate how formal and informal places spaces in schools can unintentionally reflect ideologies and cultural assumptions They illustrate this perspective with telling examples that come from what is widely perceived as one of the best educational systems in the world This book is an important innovative contribution to the question of inclusion of all pupils in our school systems It provides an eye opening perspective to researchers in the field teachers principals and stakeholders willing to work for social justice in their schools

Emmanuelle Le Pichon Vorstman Researcher and Assistant Professor Languages Literature and Communication Department Utrecht Institute of Linguistics

Congratulations are in order for this ground breaking and significant book As the editors and authors convey convincingly and often poignantly multicultural education is an increasingly politicised phenomenon that needs all the friends and allies that it can garner The book s coverage of silent partners in education objects and technologies operating in specific places and spaces is therefore timely Yet as the book also highlights these silent partners can exert negative power as well as positive influence on educational outcomes The book presents a compelling account of the fundamental ambivalence framing these partners and formal educational provision more broadly Rendering these silent educational partners visible and open to scrutiny is a significant scholarly achievement by the Education for Diversities Research Group in the Department of Teacher Education at the University of Helsinki Finland building on their well deserved reputation for exploring the implicit and tacit and yet impactful dimensions of intercultural education and understanding The book is appropriately diverse and inclusive in its concerns with attention being directed at education in Finland France and the United States Likewise the coverage traverses international and national schools higher education teacher education and productive methodologies for researching silent partners This innovative and thought provoking volume is highly recommended for its originality in helping us to see education for diversities in a new and powerful light

Patrick Alan Danaher Professor in Educational Research in the School of Linguistics Adult and Specialist Education Associate Dean Research and Research Training in the Faculty of Business Education Law and

Arts Toowoomba campus of the University of Southern Queensland Australia Adjunct Professor in the School of Education and the Arts Central Queensland University Australia Silent partners do not only reflect the ways we conceive of education but they also influence our practices as educators Being silent they are often taken for granted The strength of this book lies in its critical questioning of the notion of silent partners The chapters enlighten about the untold and the effects they have in an educational environment The readers especially in the fields of education and social justice will definitely acquire a more sensitive perception of how silent partners affect our approaches to multicultural education Dr Regis Machart Senior Lecturer Universiti Putra Malaysia Adjunct Professor University of Helsinki Finland Routledge International
