On violence in South African higher education: An ideological perspective

Abstract

South Africa is inherently a violent country. From the service delivery protests, rise in murder rates, gender-based violence, and an increasingly violent higher education sector; South Africans are increasingly feeling vulnerable and despondent about the future. In this paper, I attempt to provide a conceptual understanding of violence in higher education. Through Gramsci's idea of the organic crisis, I propose two kinds of violence that need urgent attention if we are to realise higher education transformation and decolonisation. Firstly, I propose a focus on what I see as the deeply embedded and well-entrenched epistemic violence in higher education. This violence operates at the level of curricula and knowledge production, and occasions the need to displace the dominance of Eurocentric thought in curriculum design. Secondly, I propose a focus on social violence, which operates at the discursive level of the institutional culture. This relates to the growing frustrations, anguish, and depression among Black academics and Black students who continue to see, read and experience higher education in South Africa as inherently anti-Black, anti-women, and increasingly anti-poor. I end the paper with some concluding thoughts on the need to adopt a broader conception of violence, and the epistemic/ontological/methodological possibilities this gives us in transforming the higher education sector in South Africa.

1. Introduction

At least 20 people were brutally killed in Diepsloot, north of Gauteng in Johannesburg, in the first three months of 2023; making this area one of the most dangerous places to live in South Africa (Chabalala, 2023). In 2020, Tshegofatso Pule, a 28-year-old woman who was eight months pregnant at the time, was found with gunshot wounds on the chest, hanging from a tree in Roodepoort (Seleka, 2020). Her estranged lover, Ntuthuko Shoba, was sentenced to life imprisonment for orchestrating her murder (Seleka, 2020). Babita Deokaran, the chief director for financial accounting in the Gauteng Department of Health, was assassinated outside her home on 23 August 2021 (Silenced, 2023). It is alleged that Deokaran was brutally murdered for being

Between Hope and Despair Rajeev Bhargava, 2022-12-28 India s collective ethical identity is under duress We don t seem to currently agree on what our collective good is Some groups believe that India is finally rediscovering its Hindu identity and becoming a great nation state For others this change has brought us on the verge of losing our civilisational character of being inclusive but not any less Hindu or Indian Rajeev Bhargava believes that the legitimate concerns of all those disenchanted with the idea of an inclusive pluralist India can actually be addressed within the basic framework of India s constitutional democracy Through these short elegant and lucid reflections he takes the readers back to the founding narrative of the republic suggesting that if we get the fundamentals of our original ethical vision right then we might yet save our country from further polarisation and may even heal some of its divisions

Terrorist Recruitment and the International System Hanna Samir Kassab, 2019-11-13 Recruitment is key to a terrorist network s survival strategy Steady enrollment is needed not just to fight against perceived injustice but to keep the network s grand strategy alive When a weak state fails to protect its territory and implement the rule of law because of corruption or incapacity it results in the creation of power vacuums Terrorist networks thrive within power vacuums and opportunistically fill the space where a weak state could not maintain control This destabilizes the international system and forces great powers to intervene Historically interventions are ineffective in combatting terrorism and have actually increased recruitment through regional political destabilization Further interventions have drained the capabilities of states allowing for shifts in the distribution of power thus changing the international order Understanding recruitment mechanisms is key to developing strategies to combat recruitment in the short and long term

Discourse, Media, and Conflict Innocent Chiluba, 2022-04-28 Bringing together contributions from a team of international scholars this pioneering book applies theories and approaches from linguistics such as discourse analysis and pragmatics to analyse the media and online political discourses of both conflict and peace processes By analysing case studies as globally diverse as Germany the USA Nigeria Iraq Korea and Libya and across a range of genres such as TV news channels online reporting and traditional newspapers the chapters collectively show how news discourse can be powerful in mobilizing public support for war or violence or for conflict resolution through the linguistic representation of certain groups It explores the consequences of this framing effect and shows how peace journalism can be achieved through a non violent approach to reporting conflict It will therefore serve as an essential resource for students scholars and experts in media and communication studies conflict and peace studies international relations linguistics and political science Handbook of Critical Whiteness Jioji

Violent Intimacies Asli Zengin, 2024-01-02 In Violent Intimacies Asli Zengin traces how trans people in Turkey creatively negotiate and resist everyday cisgender normative violence Drawing on the history and ethnography of the trans communal life in Istanbul Zengin develops an understanding of cisgender normative violence that expands beyond sex gender and sexuality She shows how cisgender normativity forms a connective tissue among neoliberal governmentality biopolitical and necropolitical regimes nationalist religiosity and authoritarian management of social difference As much as trans people are shaped by these processes they also transform them in intimate ways Transness in Turkey provides an insightful site for developing new perspectives on statecraft securitization and surveillance family and kin making urban geography and political life Zengin offers the concept of violent intimacies to theorize this entangled world of the trans everyday where violence and intimacy are co constitutive Violent intimacies emerge from trans people's everyday interactions with the police religious and medical institutions street life family and kinship and trans femicides and funerals The dynamic of violent intimacies prompts new understandings of violence and intimacy and the world making struggles of trans people in a Middle Eastern context

Language of Conflict Natalia Knoblock, 2020-06-11 Exploring the ways in which language and conflict are intertwined and interrelated this volume examines the patterns of public discourse in Ukraine and Russia since the beginning of the Ukrainian Crisis in 2014 It investigates the trends in language aggression evaluation persuasion and other elements of conflict communication related to the situation Through the analysis of the linguistic features of salient discourses and prevalent narratives constructed by different social groups Language of Conflict reflects competing worldviews of various stakeholders in this conflict and presents multiple often contradictory visions of the circumstances Contributors from Ukraine Russia and beyond investigate discursive representations of the most important aspects of the crisis its causes and goals participants and the values and ideologies of the opposing factions They focus on categorization stance framing de legitimization manipulation and coping strategies while analysing the ways in which the stress produced by social discord economic hardship and violence shapes public discourse Primarily focusing on informal communication and material gathered from online sources the collection provides insight into the ways people directly affected by the crisis think about and respond to it The volume acknowledges the communicators active role in constructing the often incompatible discursive images of the conflict and concentrates on the conscious and strategic use of linguistic resources in negative and aggressive communication

Marginalities in India Asmita Bhattacharyya, Sudeep Basu, 2017-09-20 This volume engages with the renewed focus on various forms of persisting and new marginalities in globalising India The persistence of hunger in pockets of India forcible land acquisitions and their impact on deprived sections of society the effects of urban relocations material deprivation of minority groups and tribes as a result of conflicts continuing caste discrimination reported cases of atrocities against lower castes and tribes regional disparities gendered forms of exclusion and those related to disability and many other conditions suggest the need to rethink notions and practices of marginality and exclusion in India This volume critiques the principal ways of thinking about marginalities which primarily consist of a focus on normative principles and brings into focus the chasm between such principles and subjective notions and experiences of marginality and injustice The uniqueness of this edited volume is that it connects theoretical perspectives with empirical case studies and discussions and cases of exclusion are discussed within an overall inclusive and integrated framework This is a valuable resource for researchers scholars students public policy formulators and for social innovators from private sectors and non government organisations

Despotism in Iran Hassan Ghazi Moradi, 2017-02-13 Despotism in Iran Translated by M Reza Abrishamchian Written by Hassan Ghazi To realize just why it is necessary to understand despotism in Iran you only have to remember that despotism has a 2500 year history To believe that it can be quickly abolished is nothing but a naive dream In Despotism in Iran the how of despotic rule is dissected rather than the why The why is related to the history of Iran and is not a concern in our time In modern times there is no historical necessity for this type of government to rely on Many of the assertions in Despotism in Iran apply to other nations and countries with similar backgrounds who have suffered or currently suffer under despotic regimes

Counterterrorism Graeme Colin Stracey Steven,Rohan Kumar Gunaratna,2004-09-14 An up to date analysis of the wave of terrorism in the post Cold War era and the ways in which states and societies are responding Counter Terrorism A Reference Handbook outlines the threat of terrorism and ways to combat it Written by two expert insiders in the field this extensive examination surveys a wide range of diverse terrorist groups from the Provisional Irish Republican Army PIRA to Al Qaeda It shows how key trends and patterns in domestic and international terrorism such as suicide bombings require counter strategies and tactics including surveillance and reconnaissance Case studies of terrorist organizations in Europe Asia Africa Latin America the Balkans and the Caucasus and profiles of terrorists like Khalid Sheikh Mohommad alias Mokhtar The Brain who masterminded the Al Qaeda attack on 9 11 illustrate the growing network of groups and leaders harnessing the forces of globalization Finally the authors suggest lthat no single state can act effectively on its own to confront terrorism instead a wide range of strategies needs to be adopted by all

Forgiveness, Peacemaking, and Reconciliation David K. Ngaruiya,Rodney L. Reed,2020-12-31 In this fifth volume from the Africa Society of Evangelical Theology contributors explore forgiveness peacemaking and reconciliation as necessary prerequisites for human flourishing Ranging from biblical studies and church history to medical ethics and public theology this collection offers a rich diversity of voices and perspectives as each author reflects on God s heart for conflict alleviation within the contexts of their own communities nations histories and academic disciplines Taken together these contributions offer profound insight into both the particularities and generalities of God s transformative healing work in the world and how we the church are called to partner with that work in Africa and beyond

Think Like a Terrorist to Combat Terrorism and Radicalization in Prison William P. Sturgeon,Francesca Spina,2022-07-20 Think Like a Terrorist to Combat Terrorism and Radicalization in Prison provides guidelines for hardening facilities training staff preparing for radicalized terrorist inmates incarceration and monitoring these inmates after their release The book combines practitioner experience with scholarly insights to offer practical suggestions bolstered by research The authors offer suggestions for housing programming security and staff training with the ultimate goal of keeping correctional facilities staff and other inmates safe from radicalization and spreading terrorist doctrines and terrorist acts which requires examining and potentially changing prison and correctional officer policies and procedures hiring and training suitable staff and ensuring technology is available Correctional facilities can curtail the recruitment and radicalization of inmates by developing staff training de radicalization programs management methods techniques and practices that address the recruitment issues associated with this threat The need for understanding and the role line correctional officers and first line supervisors play in preventing radicalization is critical in this process It is also vital to connect with and maintain communication with appropriate security and intelligence agencies as needed Key

Features Outlines common terrorist and extremist activities in prison using relevant real world examples Instructs on how to detect and recognize such efforts as recruitment and radicalization and how to curtail and prevent such activity Provides guidance on establishing de radicalization programs within prison facilities Presents recommendations on collecting analyzing and disseminating intelligence to correctional law enforcement and intelligence agencies on potential terrorist activities and recruitment efforts
