If I Die In A Combat Zone:

If I Die in a Combat Zone Tim O'Brien, 1999-09-01 A classic from the New York Times bestselling author of The Things They Carried One of the best most disturbing and most powerful books about the shame that was Vietnam Minneapolis Star and Tribune Before writing his award winning Going After Cacciato Tim O'Brien gave us this intensely personal account of his year as a foot soldier in Vietnam The author takes us with him to experience combat from behind an infantryman's rifle to walk the minefields of My Lai to crawl into the ghostly tunnels and to explore the ambiguities of manhood and morality in a war gone terribly wrong Beautifully written and searingly heartfelt If I Die in a Combat Zone is a masterwork of its genre Now with Extra Libris material including a reader's guide and bonus content If I Die in a Combat Zone , A Trauma Artist Mark A. Heberle, 2001-04 Based on recent conversations with Tim O'Brien previously published interviews and new readings of all his works including Tomcat in Love this book is the first study to concentrate on the role and representation of trauma as the central focus of all O'Brien's works Book jacket American Myth and the Legacy of Vietnam John Hellmann, 1989-11-17 American Myth and the Legacy of Vietnam If I Die in a Combat Zone Tim O'Brien, 1979 If I Die in a Combat Zone Tim O'Brien, 1999-09-01 A candid view of the American military establishment and the Vietnam conflict as witnessed by a foot soldier in the late sixties The Norton Book of Modern War Paul Fussell, 1991 Selections from poetry and fiction describe the 20th century's major conflicts Companion to Literature Abby H. P. Werlock, 2009 Praise for the previous edition Booklist RBB Twenty Best Bets for Student Researchers RUSA ALA Outstanding Reference Source useful Recommended for public libraries and undergraduates Rotating Back to the World James McKenzie, 2021-09-20 Why do people go to war To test themselves to prove themselves to hurt themselves to hurt others And what happens when they come home According to Tim O'Brien the award winning Vietnam veteran storyteller they are fundamentally and irredeemably changed Tim O'Brien makes the argument that war is very much like ordinary life There are moments of greatness and moments of cowardice There are moments of success and failure trust and betrayal celebration and regret victory and defeat O'Brien depicts the true cost of war At the end of the day there is healing but so often too there is irreparable damage All of this can be found in the novels and stories of Tim O'Brien Rotating Back to the World is an examination and re-evaluation of the work of Tim O'Brien and his so-called war stories By drawing upon a number of artistic psychological and real world phenomena James McKenzie investigates the intersections between O'Brien's subtle and complex narrativizations of the Vietnam War and current trauma theory Through a close analysis of O'Brien's four Vietnam war novels McKenzie examines how O'Brien successfully navigates the writerly pitfalls of representing trauma without betraying the manifold and incommensurable nature of individual traumatic experience In particular McKenzie pays attention to O'Brien's ludic art of storytelling and his increasing use of narratological experimentation and metafictional commentary McKenzie examines these literary practices in order to consider how they are deployed as an artistic means of representing the full range of combat experience and its traumatic aftermath This study also explores O'Brien's own paradoxical relationship with his readers manifested through a depiction of the seemingly insurmountable challenge of expressing the inexpressible Finally McKenzie returns to the main idea that in the desire to both relate and understand traumatic experience as O'Brien concludes stories can save us James McKenzie is a former infantry soldier and now senior lecturer in Anglophone Literature at the University of Hildesheim

How to Revise a True War Story John K.

Young, 2017-01-11 You can tell a true war story if you just keep on telling it Tim O'Brien writes in The Things They Carried Widely regarded as the most important novelist to come out of the American war in Viet Nam O'Brien has kept on telling true war stories not only in narratives that cycle through multiple fictional and non-fictional versions of the war's defining experiences but also by rewriting those stories again and again Key moments of revision extend from early drafts to the initial appearance of selected chapters in magazines across typescripts and page proofs for first editions and through continuing post-publication variants in reprints How to Revise a True War Story is the first book-length study of O'Brien's archival papers at the University of Texas's Harry Ransom Center Drawing on extensive study of drafts and other prepublication materials as well as the multiple published versions of O'Brien's works John K. Young tells the untold stories behind the production of such key texts as Going After Cacciato The Things They Carried and In the Lake of the Woods By reading not just the texts that have been published but also the versions they could have been Young demonstrates the important choices O'Brien and his editors have made about how to represent the traumas of the war in Viet Nam The result is a series of texts that refuse to settle into a finished or stable form just as the stories they present insist on being told and retold in new and changing ways In their lack of textual stability these variants across different versions enact for O'Brien's readers the kinds of narrative volatility that is key to the American literature emerging from the war in Viet Nam Perhaps in this case you can tell a true war story if you just keep on revising it

The Hell of War Comes Home Owen W. Gilman Jr., 2018-02-09 Owen W Gilman Jr stresses the US experience of war in the twenty first century and argues that wherever and whenever there is war there will be imaginative responses to it especially the recent wars in Afghanistan and Iraq Since the trauma of September 11 the experience of Americans at war has been rendered honestly and fully in a wide range of texts creative nonfiction and journalism film poetry and fiction These responses Gilman contends have packed a lot of power and measure up even to World War II's literature and film Like few other books Gilman's volume studies these new texts among them Kevin Powers's debut novel The Yellow Birds and Phil Klay's short stories Redeployment along with the films The Hurt Locker American Sniper and Billy Lynn's Long Halftime Walk For perspective Gilman also looks at some touchstones from the Vietnam War Compared to a few of the big Vietnam books and films this new material has mostly been read and watched by small audiences and generated less discussion Gilman exposes the circumstances in American culture currently preventing literature and film of our recent wars from making a significant impact He contends that Americans inclination to demand distraction limits learning from these compelling responses to war in the past decade According to Gilman where there should be clarity and depth of knowledge we instead face misunderstanding and the anguish endured by veterans betrayed by war and our lack of understanding
