professor s journey from inside and beyond academe In the summer of 2014 Steven Salaita was fired from a tenured position in American Indian Studies at the University of Illinois for his unwavering stance on Palestinian human rights and other political controversies A year later he landed a job in Lebanon but that too ended badly With no other recourse Salaita found himself trading his successful academic career for an hourly salaried job Told primarily from behind the wheel of a school bus a vantage point from which Salaita explores social anxiety suburban architecture political alienation racial oppression working class solidarity professional malfeasance and the joy of chauffeuring children to and from school An Honest Living describes the author s decade of turbulent post professorial life and his recent return to the lectern Steven Salaita was practically born to a life in academia His father taught physics at an HBCU in southern West Virginia and his earliest memories are of life on campus and the cinder walls of the classroom It was no surprise that he ended up in the classroom straight after graduate school Yet three of his university jobs Virginia Tech the University of Illinois and the American University of Beirut AUB ended in public controversy Shaken by his sudden notoriety and false claims of antisemitism Salaita found himself driving a school bus to make ends meet While some considered this just punishment for his anti Zionist beliefs Steven found that driving a bus provided him with not just a means to pay the bills but a path toward freedom of thought Now ten years later with a job at American University at Cairo Salaita reconciles his past with his future His restlessness has found a home yet his return to academe is met with the same condition of fugitivity from whence he was expelled an occasion for defiance not conciliation An Honest Living presents an intimate personal narrative of the author s decade of professional joys and travails

The Context Marketing Revolution Mathew Sweezey,2020-03-24 In a world of limitless media noise how can businesses break through to customers Context We are in the midst of a massive media revolution For the first time in history ordinary people around the world have the ability to create distribute and consume content instantly from anywhere using connected devices The massive increase in media noise created by these consumers and devices creates an entirely new situation that makes conventional marketing models obsolete And yet countless companies and marketing organizations continue to rely on traditional models assuming that their campaigns will sway customers They couldn t be more wrong In this provocative and practical book Salesforce marketing maven Mathew Sweezey boldly outlines this new infinite media environment and poses a profound question In a transformed world where customers shape their own experience what is the key to breaking through and motivating them to buy It is context the close linkage between an individual s immediate desires and the experiences a brand creates to fulfill them Drawing on new research and new insights into current consumer psychology Sweezey defines the five key elements of context Customer experiences must be Available Helping people achieve the value they seek in the moment Permissioned Giving people what they ve asked for on their terms Personal Going beyond how personal it is to how personally you can deliver it Authentic Combining voice empathy and brand congruence simultaneously Purposeful Creating a deeper connection to the brand beyond the product Sweezey uses vivid examples to highlight a new marketing model used by high performing brands big and small The final part of the book shifts to execution providing a new rule book for context based marketing The Context Marketing Revolution will change forever how you think about the purpose and practice of marketing
