comfortable room He came across a part about climate change The book explained how businesses cars and trees were putting out too much carbon dioxide which was making the Earth too hot Theo was sad and worried about things like people animals and forests on Earth When he looked out his window at the pretty green trees swaying in the wind he became very determined He wanted to say I want to help the Earth I don't want it to get sick because of global warming Theo thought about what he could do and remembered a lesson from school about how trees are good for the environment Like Earth's superheroes trees take in carbon dioxide and let out oxygen which are both necessary for life In addition they clean the air give animals a place to live and block the sun on hot days Theo had a great thought at that point He said I'll start by planting a tree If one tree can do so much good lots of trees can make a huge difference Theo started his task with great enthusiasm When he talked to his parents about his idea they were very welcoming They helped him figure out where in their backyard would be the best place for his first tree Theo decided to adopt a young oak tree after learning that they are strong and can live for hundreds of years Taking a deep breath and a spade in his hand Theo jumped onto the ground He used care to put the young oak in the hole then smoothed it out and added dirt When he watered the new tree he felt like he was giving the Earth a wonderful gift Theo's goal has only just started he planted his first tree He was sure that this tree would get big and strong which would help clean the air and stop global warming That being said Theo knew that one tree wouldn't be enough to solve the problem In his dreams he would start other environmental projects and plant a lot more trees Theo dreamed of a society where everyone worked together to protect the earth and make it a better place for all living things Now that his big idea was taking off Theo was ready to tell everyone about it and encourage them to do the same His neighbors friends and teachers were going to hear him talk about global warming and how simple things like planting a tree might help Theo's journey was far from over but he was still eager to make his dream of a healthier Earth come true His work to slow down global warming by doing things like planting trees to offset carbon emissions was a huge step toward a better future

Chapter 2 The Green Group

Theo was excited to tell his friends about his plans for a better future after his first tree planting project went well He got together with two of his best friends Maya and Jake on a sunny morning They shared his love of the outdoors and new experiences He was very enthusiastic about planting trees and how even one tree could make a big difference in the fight against global warming He also said that if everyone planted trees at the same time the effect would be many times stronger Maya and Jake were impressed by what he said so they agreed right away to support Theo Due to this a group of friends formed the Green Team whose goal was to make their town as green and eco friendly as possible Before their quest began the Green Team planned to put a lot of trees in their neighborhood They knew this wasn't going to be easy and that it would take more than just their own work to really change things They chose to ask for help from their friends family and neighbors To start their big project they made pamphlets and posters that stood out came up with a catchy phrase and even planned a celebration to plant trees As soon as they got other people excited about making their neighborhood greener and healthier a huge group of them joined in Volunteers from the Green Team worked together to plant trees in parks schools and backyards on the weekends and after school For them planting a tree was a win and a small step toward their big goal They put many kinds of trees like fruit trees so that people and animals could eat them maple trees for their pretty fall leaves and oak trees because they are strong and last a long time But they did more than just plant trees as part of their work Along with holding recycling seminars and telling people to use less plastic the group also gave tips on how to save energy and water Things began to change in their town More plants grew in public parks empty lots were turned into bright community gardens and streets with new trees added beauty and shade People in the town started to feel good about their part in making the world healthier after they saw the change People all over the world started working together to protect the earth because of the Green Team s idea The Green Team s three main members Theo Maya and Jake were ecstatic when they won They began with a simple idea but by working together and not giving up they were able to make things better Their city was on its way to becoming the greenest in history showing what can happen when people work together to reach a goal The Green Team wasn t even close to finishing their mission but they had already shown that when a lot of people work together small things like planting one tree can have big effects
