A Mouse Cookie First Library Laura Numeroff, 2007-04-24. For the very first time, If You Give a Mouse a Cookie and If You Take a Mouse to School are available in board book form in this package. In the circle story If You Give a Mouse a Cookie, a little mouse runs a small boy ragged as he demands one thing after another when the boy offers him a cookie. The same boy and mouse are back in If You Take a Mouse to School where boy and mouse learn about science, math, reading, writing, skateboarding, and basketball during their day at school.

If You Give . . . Series Guide: An Instructional Guide for Literature Tracy Pearce, 2015-01-01. Would you give a mouse a cookie, a moose a muffin, or even a pig a pancake? This instructional guide for literature covers five different If You Give books, and students will enjoy completing the fun, challenging activities and lessons as they learn to analyze each story. These rigorous cross-curricular lessons and activities work in conjunction with the text to teach students how to comprehend complex literature and help them understand the significance of each story. This resource is packed with tools to teach students how to analyze story elements in multiple ways, practice close reading, and text-based vocabulary, determine meaning through text-dependent questions, and more. This is the perfect way to add rigor to your students' explorations of beginning literature.

The Brain Power Story Hour Nancy J. Polette, 2014-01-10. While many texts explore ways to plan and implement story times in both school and public libraries, until now no work has brought together extensive book talks and follow-up activities specifically designed to develop thinking skills in young children. This innovative study offers age-appropriate book suggestions with related questions and activities tailored to a variety of thinking skills, including verbal or linguistic thinking, divergent and creative thinking, analytical and mathematical thinking, visual or spatial thinking, and many others. The program presented in this volume was successfully developed and implemented in the preschool kindergarten laboratory school of Lindenwood University in St. Charles, Missouri, with 90 percent of the participating children selected for gifted programs in both public and private schools. Ideal for children's librarians, school librarians, teachers of early childhood gifted programs parents and homeschoolers this study provides the tools for making any story hour a brain power story hour
