

The background of the book cover is a painting of Jesus walking on water. Jesus is depicted with a halo, wearing a blue robe with a red cloak draped over his shoulders. He is walking on a turbulent sea, with a small boat and several people visible in the background. The scene is set at night with a full moon in the sky.

Terrot Reaveley Glover,2020-02-27 I regard it as a high privilege to be associated with this volume Many who know and value Mr Glover s work on The Conflict of Religions in the Early Roman Empire must have wistfully desired to secure from his graphic pen just such a book as is here given to the world He possesses the rare power of reverently handling familiar truths or facts in such manner as to make them seem to be almost new There are few gifts more precious than this at a time when our familiarity with the greatest and most sacred of all narratives is a chief hindrance to our ready appreciation of its living power I believe that no one will read Mr Glover s chapters and especially his description of the parable teaching given by our Lord without a sense of having been introduced to a whole series of fresh and fruitful thoughts He has expanded for us with the force the clearness and the power of vivid illustration which we have learned to expect from him the meaning of a sentence in the earlier volume I have alluded to where he insists that Jesus of Nazareth does stand in the centre of human history that He has brought God and man into a new relation that He is the present concern of every one of us and that there is more in Him than we have yet accounted for In accordance with its title the single theme of the book is The Jesus of History but the student or exponent of dogmatic theology will find abundant material in its pages I commend it confidently both to single students and to those who nowadays in happily increasing numbers meet together for common study and I congratulate those who belong to the Student Christian Movement upon this notable addition to the books published in connection with their far reaching work RANDALL CANTUAR LAMBETH Advent Sunday 1916 The Jesus of History T.
