International Handbook on Education in Southeast Asia Lorraine Pe Symaco, Martin Hayden, 2021-12-23 This International Handbook provides a detailed account of the education systems of 11 Southeast Asian nations including Brunei Darussalam Cambodia Indonesia Lao People's Democratic Republic Malaysia Myanmar the Philippines Singapore Thailand Timor Leste and Vietnam It presents a systematic sector by sector explanation of how these national education systems deliver educational services and respond to national and international issues and challenges With 56 chapters the International Handbook is the region's most comprehensive educational reference source In the first of its chapters the editors introduce the regional context and draw attention to the distinctive characteristics of each of the 11 systems Southeast Asia representing 8.5% of the world's population is as dynamic as it is diverse The International Handbook charts progress and establishes a benchmark for documenting future developments It also provides a stepping off point for more detailed investigations of decision making processes and outcomes across the 11 national education systems

Education in Cambodia Vincent McNamara, Martin Hayden, 2022-05-14 This book is the most comprehensive account yet published about the education system in Cambodia It covers all system levels and draws upon the knowledge and insights of a wide range of leading Cambodian and foreign scholars The book focuses on how the system has developed and is making progress Significant achievements over the past two decades are evident but many problems remain including the poor quality of teaching research and institutional management Under funding is an ongoing obstacle but so too is a bureaucratic culture of resistance to change a history of weak governance and an anti reform sentiment deriving from a teacher centred and exam driven curriculum Achieving international standards must now be the system's highest priority To this end the system must rid itself of conservatism complacency and manipulation by parochial vested interests

Globalization, International Education Policy and Local Policy Formation Carolyn A. Brown, 2014-10-13 This edited volume focuses on how international education policy set by international policymakers and donors influences local education policy in developing countries The book's primary purpose is to give voice to scholars from developing countries and regions around the world by inviting them to explore how the international policy invariably linked to international aid influences education policy formation and implementation in their country or region and how this influence does or does not meet the local cultural social economic and political needs A relatively recent and small body of research and commentary supports a discourse that questions how well international education policy mandates such as Education For All serve the needs of developing countries The intent of this book is to advance this discourse by giving voice to local scholars who observe and study the donor process The book will be divided into two sections the first section will set the stage for the discussions in the second section by providing theoretical and historical context for international education policy As a framework for understanding the book adopts the position that international policy does not have either the ability or the intent to serve the widely diverse needs of development around the world International education policy has been formed historically by wealthy nations and agencies dominated by Western theoretical paradigms In recent years donor countries have made an effort to collaborate with developing countries in developing international education policy goals however this collaboration has been limited Following establishment of the context of international education policy section II of the book provides a forum for scholars from around the world to openly discuss and critique the impact of international policy on education in their country or region

Unesco,Howard Hayden,1967 Shadow Education in Asia: Policies and Practices Alam, Md. Bayezid,2024-08-15 Shadow education the practice of private tutoring outside formal schooling has become pervasive in Asia Driven by intense exam competition and dissatisfaction with mainstream education it plays a significant role in the region s educational landscape However its implications and regulatory frameworks still need to be studied and better understood This book Shadow Education in Asia Policies and Practices addresses this gap by comprehensively analyzing shadow education policies and practices in Asia Despite its prevalence shadow education s impact on students families and educational systems is complex and multifaceted The lack of comprehensive research and understanding has led to challenges regulating and integrating shadow education into formal educational systems Policymakers and educators struggle to address issues such as educational equity student well being and the quality of education provided through shadow education This book aims to inform policy discussions and reform efforts ultimately contributing to a more nuanced understanding of this phenomenon and its role in Asia s educational landscape
