A close-up photograph of a knife with a blood-stained blade lying on a blue, textured surface. The knife is positioned diagonally from the top left towards the bottom right. The background is a dark, textured blue surface, possibly a car's interior or a piece of fabric, with some lighter blue areas and small white specks. The overall tone is gritty and suspenseful.

He isn't bothered by the daily news reports of the Christchurch Carver who they say has murdered seven women. Joe knows though that the Carver killed only six. He knows that for a fact and he's determined to find the copycat. He'll punish him for the one then frame him for the other six. It's the perfect plan because he already knows he can outwit the police. All he needs now is to take care of all the women who keep getting in his way including his odd overprotective mother and Sally the maintenance worker who sees him as a replacement for her dead brother. Then there's the mysterious Melissa the only woman to have ever understood him but whose fantasies of blackmail and torture don't have a place in Joe's investigation. Originally published in 2006 in Cleave's native New Zealand where it was a finalist for the prestigious Ned Kelly Award for Best Fiction. The Cleaner is a chilling and darkly funny thriller that will leave you clamoring for his next.

Joe Victim Paul Cleave, 2013-09-03 NOMINATED FOR THE 2014 EDGAR AWARD FOR BEST PAPERBACK ORIGINAL Sometimes reality can really get in the way of a good story. Joe Middleton's story is this. He doesn't remember killing anyone so there's no way a jury can convict him of serial murder. He calls himself Joe Victim trying as he awaits trial to convince the psychiatrists that he wasn't in control of his actions trusting that the system will save him in the end. But others know Joe as the infamous Christchurch Carver and they want to see him dead. There's Melissa Joe's accomplice in one of the murders who plans on shooting him on his way to the courthouse before he gets a chance to start talking. Then there's Raphael whose daughter was one of the Carver's victims. Though he's tried to move on with life as the leader of a counseling group for grieving family members he'd like nothing more than to watch Joe pay. Finally there's Carl Schroder the ex-detective who locked Joe up and is determined to put things right for the case of his career. To extract himself from this epic mess Joe has come up with a desperate plan involving a television psychic who's looking to get rich by making people believe just about anything. It's a long shot but it had better work before he becomes the poster boy for a death penalty that may be reinstated in New Zealand which isn't quite the dramatic ending he is hoping for.
