Publishing from the South Sarah Nuttall, Isabel Hofmeyr, 2024-11 In 2022 Wits University Press marked its centenary making it the oldest most established university press in sub Saharan Africa While in part modelled on scholarly publishers from the global North it has had to contend with the constraints of working under global South conditions marginalisation within the university budgetary limitations small local markets unequal access to international sales channels and the privileging of English language publishing over indigenous languages This volume explores what the Press has achieved and what its modes of reinvention might look like In widening and deepening our understanding of the Press as an example of a global South scholarly publisher this volume asks how publishing can contribute to a broader understanding of Southern knowledge production Featuring contributions from scholars publishers and authors this multi voiced volume showcases the history of the Press s publishing activities over 100 years from documenting its evolution through book covers and giving credence to some of the leading black intellectuals and writers of the early 20th century and the success of those works in spite of their authors racial marginalisation to the role of women both in publishing and in the spaces afforded to women s writing on the Press s list The collection concludes with essays by contemporary authors who detail not only their experiences of working with Southern publishers but also the politics and influences governing their decisions to choose the Press over a Northern publisher Publishing from the South shows the strategies deployed by the Press to professionalise Southern knowledge making and in the process demonstrating how university presses in the global South support the scholarly missions of their universities for both local and global audiences

The Roads to Hillbrow Ron Nerio, Jean Halley, 2022-06-07 This highly accessible portrayal of a post apartheid neighborhood in transition analyzes the relationship between identity migration and place Since it was founded in 1894 amidst Johannesburg s transformation from a mining town into the largest city in southern Africa Hillbrow has been a community of migrants As the city of gold accumulated wealth on the backs of migrant laborers from southern Africa Jewish Eastern Europeans who had fled pogroms joined other Europeans and white South Africans in this emerging suburb After World War II Hillbrow became a landscape of high rises that lured western and southern Europeans seeking prosperity in South Africa s booming economy By the 1980s Hillbrow housed some of the most vibrant and visible queer spaces on the continent while also attracting thousands of Indian and Black South Africans who defied apartheid laws to live near the city center Filling the void for a book about migration within the Global South The Roads to Hillbrow explores how one South African neighborhood transformed from a white suburb under apartheid into a grey zone during the 1970s and 1980s to become a port of entry for people from at least twenty five African countries The Roads to Hillbrow explores the diverse experiences of domestic and transnational migrants who have made their way to this South African community following war economic dislocation and the social trauma of apartheid Authors Ron Nerio and Jean Halley weave sociology history memoir and queer studies with stories drawn from more than 100 interviews Topics cover the search for employment options for housing support for unaccompanied minors possibilities for queer expression the creation of safe parks for children and the challenges of living without documents Current residents of Hillbrow also discuss how they cope with inequality xenophobia high levels of crime and the harsh economic impacts of COVID 19 Many of the book s interviewees arrived in Hillbrow seeking not only to gain better futures for themselves but also to support family members in rural parts of South Africa or in their countries of origin Some immerse themselves in justice work while others develop LGBTQ support networks join religious and community groups or engage in artistic expression By emphasizing the disparate voices of migrants and people who work with migrants this book shows how the people of Hillbrow form connections and adapt to adversity Hans Heyerdahl Hallen Kathi Holt, Errol Haarhoff, Walter Peters, 2025-10-16

Tracing the life of architect Hans Heyerdahl Hallen 1930 2022 this book reveals the transnational influences that shaped his practice in South Africa and the migratory circles of ideas that defined a new form of subtropical architecture Beginning with Hallen s Nordic and South African roots chapters then explore his practice and studies at the London County Council and Architectural Association where he met with contemporaries such as Jane Drew and Maxwell Fry From here he returned to South Africa with new ideas that challenged the teachings of early modernism instead combining philosophies such as Norberg Schulz s genius loci with African traditional architecture Zulu Kraal to create buildings unique to local communities and topographical conditions This need to embrace vernacular forms was a response to local climate conditions and local materials but also a desire to make cities relevant to the African context In transmuting European teachings within colonial environments Hallen s practice reveals the role of the architect to reflect local communities and to build for their needs and to create spaces for community and resistance Published as part of the Bloomsbury Studies in Modern Architecture series which brings to light the work of significant yet overlooked modernist architects the study features a wealth of previously unpublished archival material to explore the role of the architect in the colonial context The Art of Life in South Africa Daniel Magaziner, 2016-11-09 From 1952 to 1981 South Africa s apartheid government ran an art school for the training of African art teachers at Indaleni in what is today KwaZulu Natal The Art of Life in South Africa is the story of the students teachers art and politics that circulated through a small school housed in a remote former mission station It is the story of a community that made its way through the travails of white supremacist South Africa and demonstrates how the art students and teachers made together became the art of their lives Daniel Magaziner radically reframes apartheid era South African history Against the dominant narrative of apartheid oppression and black resistance as well as recent scholarship that explores violence criminality and the hopeless entanglements of the apartheid state this book focuses instead on a small group s efforts to fashion more fulfilling lives for its members and their community through the ironic medium of the apartheid era school There is no book like this in South African historiography Lushly illustrated and poetically written it gives us fully formed lives that offer remarkable insights into the now clichéd experience of black life under segregation and

Globalization - The Juggernaut of the 21st Century Jan-Erik Lane, 2016-04-22 While some people debate whether globalization really exists it proceeds apace affecting all societies It presents us with unknown challenges and as governments start to discuss what to do about these challenges it is becoming obvious that globalization is not manageable With globalization the juggernaut of the 21st century all countries of the world become interdependent in relation to the coming energy crisis climate change the sharper cleavages between rich and poor countries and people and the emergence of a multicultural social structure This interesting and erudite book adopts a distinctive approach to the multiple dimensions of the globalization debate The impressive coverage of philosophical thought including Popper Weber Habermas Lipset and Hobbes makes a valuable contribution to the debates on globalization

Historical Abstracts Eric H. Boehm, 1999 Afrindian Fictions Pallavi Rastogi, 2008 In the first published book length study of Indian fiction in South Africa Pallavi Rastogi demonstrates that Indians desire South African citizenship in the fullest sense of the word a longing for inclusion that is asserted through an Afrindian identity Afrindian Fictions Diaspora Race and National Desire in South Africa examines Afrindian identity and blurs the racial binary of black and white interaction in South African studies as well as unsettles the East West paradigm of migration dominant in South Asian diaspora studies While offering incisive analyses of the work of the most important South African Indian writers today Ahmed Essop Farida Karodia Achmat Dangor Imraan Coovadia and Praba Moodley among others the author also places South African Indian fiction within broader literary traditions Rastogi's project of recovery shines a light on the rich but neglected literature by South African Indians The book closes with interviews conducted with six key South African Indian writers Here the authors not only reflect on their own writing but also comment on many of the issues raised in the book itself particularly the role of Indians in South Africa today and the status of South African Indian writing Afrindian Fictions is a valuable introduction to South African Indian literature as well as a major interrogation of some of the foundational notions of post colonial literary studies
