The Columbia Guide to Asian American Literature Since 1945 Guiyou Huang,2006-08-08 The Columbia Guide to Asian American Literature Since 1945 Twentieth-Century American Fiction in Circulation Matthew Vechinski,2019-10-17 Twentieth Century American Fiction in Circulation is a study of the twentieth century linked story collection in the United States It emphasizes how the fictional form grew out of an established publishing model individual stories printed in magazines revised and expanded into single author volumes that resemble novels which creates multiple contexts for the reception of this literature By acknowledging the prior appearance of stories in periodicals the book examines textual variants and the role of editorial emendation drawing on archival records drafts and correspondence whenever possible It also considers how the pages of magazines create a context for the reception of short stories that differs significantly from that of the single author book. The chapters explore how short stories appearing separately then linked together excel at representing the discontinuity of modern American life, convey the multifaceted identity of a character across episodes, mimic the qualities of oral storytelling, and illustrate struggles of belonging within and across communities. The book explains the appearance and prevalence of these narrative strategies at particular cultural moments in the evolution of the American magazine, examining a range of periodicals such as The Masses, Saturday Evening Post, Partisan Review, Esquire, and Ladies Home Journal. The primary linked story collections studied are Sherwood Anderson's Winesburg, Ohio (1919), William Faulkner's The Unvanquished (1938), Mary McCarthy's The Company She Keeps (1942), John Barth's Lost in the Funhouse (1968), and Amy Tan's The Joy Luck Club (1988).

American Novelists, 1910-1945 James J. Martine, 1981. Contains biographical sketches of the men and women who have done their most important work in the novel during the period from 1910-1945. African American Literature and the Classicist Tradition T. Walters, 2007-10-29. This is a groundbreaking study exploring the significant relationship between western classical mythology and African American women's literature. A comparative analysis of classical revisions by eighteenth and nineteenth century Black women writers Phillis Wheatley and Pauline Hopkins, and twentieth century writers Gwendolyn Brooks, Toni Morrison, and Rita Dove, reveals that Black women writers revise specific classical myths for artistic and political agency. The study demonstrates that women rework myth to represent mythical stories from the Black female perspective and to counteract denigrating contemporary cultural and social myths that disempower and devalue Black womanhood. Through their adaptations of classical myths about motherhood, Wheatley, Ray, Brooks, Morrison, and Dove uncover the shared experiences of mythic mothers and their contemporary African American counterparts, thus offering a unique Black feminist perspective to classicism. The women also use myth as a liberating space where they can speak the unspeakable and empower their subjects as well as themselves. American Literature John Nichol, 1882.

The Oxford Handbook of Twentieth-century American Literature Leslie Bow, Russ Castronovo, 2022. A collection of essays situating twentieth century American literature in a global frame. This volume reads US literature through a range of critical lenses including critical race and indigenous studies, disability and care studies, environmental criticism, gender analysis, and media studies.

A Book of American Literature Franklyn Bliss Snyder, Edward Douglas Snyder, 1927.

Women's Studies Quarterly (96:3-4) Liza Fiol-Matta, Myrna Goldenberg, 1996-08. A focus on the state of women's studies in two-year community colleges, presenting the results of two curriculum transformation projects that took place at over twenty community colleges.

The Western Women's Reader Lillian Schlissel, Catherine Jane Lavender, 2000. This groundbreaking anthology compiles writing and photography from women who have called the American West home for the past three centuries. These women helped shape the nation's history by leading protest movements and making their voices heard.

Putnam's monthly magazine of American literature, science, and art, 1857. American Literature Through
