Span the World with Friendship Douglas Bourn,Richard Palser,2025-06-02 Within the histories of progressive educational movements and youth work one organisation that rarely gets a mention is the Woodcraft Folk Founded in 1925 it has been consistently at the forefront of promoting radical social change through education It played a role in breaking down the barriers between East and West during the Cold War in promoting a co educational and cooperative based approach to learning and in encouraging environmental activism at a time when it was unfashionable The Woodcraft Folk s evolving approach to education for social change is explored in Span the World with Friendship from a range of disciplinary perspectives including political and social theory cultural history anthropology educational theory and youth work theory Through investigation of published and primary sources including letters meeting records and oral testimonies contributors bring scholarship to a narrative that has often been uncritical Beginning with a biography of founder Leslie Paul chapters study the Folk s relationship to debates in the labour movement the extent to which the eugenics movement influenced its ideas and practices and how the folk songs and dances used within the organisation reflected wider social and cultural trends Internationalism is a key theme running through this book which concludes with a focus on how the Woodcraft Folk s progressive nature is moving it increasingly towards being a youth led movement

Neoliberal Rhetorics and Body Politics Tara Pauliny, 2015-12-17 Neoliberal Rhetorics and Body Politics Plastinate Exhibits as Infiltration uses transnational feminist rhetorical analyses to understand how the global force of neoliberalism infiltrates all parts of life from nation state relationships to individual subject formation Focusing on the hugely popular and profitable exhibits of preserved dissected and posed human bodies and body parts showcased in Body Worlds and BODIES The Exhibition plastinate shows offered by the German anatomist Gunther von Hagens and the US company Premier Exhibitions the book analyzes how these exhibits offer examples of neoliberalism s ideological reach as they also present a pop cultural lens through which to understand the scope of that reach By rhetorically analyzing the details of the exhibits themselves their political and cultural contexts their marketing literature and showcased artifacts and their connection to historical displays of bodies the book articulates how neoliberalism creates a grand narrative while simultaneously permeating daily living As such Neoliberal Rhetorics and Body Politics argues that these public for profit exhibitions offer familiar tangible and rich sites within which to understand neoliberalism s impact beyond the purview of public policy and economics Predicated on the idea that neoliberal practices are not uniform the book not only articulates how neoliberal discourses are embedded in these shows but it also traces the ideological and material consequences of that inculcation It focuses its analysis on the shows rhetorical deployment of necropolitics biopolitics intimacy and affect and details how the exhibits communicate neoliberalism s guiding principles of self reliance individual choice and freedom through market participation In doing so it answers a number of challenges posed by feminist transnational rhetorical studies namely that scholars extend their analyses to understand how information circulates that we pay more attention to the affective aspects of transnational rhetorics and that we recognize how pedagogy functions outside the classroom In attending to these concerns the book ultimately illustrates not only neoliberalism s strong rhetorical force but also reveals its deep cultural infiltration

Fatal Glamour Paul Delany, 2015-04-01 Rupert Brooke b 1887 died on April 23 1915 two days before the start of the Battle of Gallipoli and three weeks after his poem The Soldier was read from the pulpit of St Paul s Cathedral on Easter Sunday Thus began the myth of a man whose poetry crystallizes the sentiments that drove so many to enlist and assured those who remained in England that their beloved sons had been absolved of their sins and made perfect by going to war In Fatal Glamour Paul Delany details the person behind the myth to show that Brooke was a conflicted but magnetic figure Strikingly beautiful and able to fascinate almost everyone who saw him from Winston Churchill to Henry James Brooke was sexually ambivalent and emotionally erratic He had a series of turbulent affairs with women but also a hidden gay life He was attracted by the Fabian Society's socialist idealism and Neo Pagan innocence but could be by turns nasty misogynistic and anti Semitic Brooke's emotional troubles were acutely personal and also acutely typical of Edwardian young men formed by the public school system Delany finds a thread of consistency in the character of someone who was so well able to move others but so unable to know or to accept himself A revealing biography of a singular personality Fatal Glamour also uses Brooke's life to shed light on why the First World War began and how it unfolded

Beyond Documentary Realism Cyrielle Garson,2021-02-22 Verbatim theatre a type of performance based on actual words spoken by real people has been at the heart of a remarkable and unexpected renaissance of the genre in Great Britain since the mid nineties The central aim of the book is to critically explore and account for the relationship between contemporary British verbatim theatre and realism whilst questioning the much debated mediation of the real in these theatre practices

Generation Tarantino Andrew J. Rausch,2025-07-10 In iconic films like Reservoir Dogs and Pulp Fiction Quentin Tarantino personified the spirit of 90s filmmaking boldly forging his own opportunities rather than waiting for the movie industry to come knocking on his door He and his fellow travelers directors like Richard Linklater Dazed and Confused John Singleton Boyz n the Hood Guillermo del Toro The Devil's Backbone David Fincher Seven Robert Rodriguez Desperado Kevin Smith Clerks Noah Baumbach Kicking and Screaming Wes Anderson Rushmore Paul Thomas Anderson Boogie Nights Christopher Nolan Following Darren Aronofsky Requiem for a Dream and Sofia Coppola The Virgin Suicides established their maverick style careers by breaking norms creating new standards and building on the techniques of the films that preceded them pushing the artistic boundaries of cinema to new heights Breaking free from the blockbuster bloat of the 1980s Generation Tarantino in some ways recalled the era of an earlier wave of pioneers of Scorsese Spielberg Coppola Altman and De Palma But they were uniquely of their time capturing the attitude of young adults in the 1990s breaking the rules setting new standards mixing tones and genres in a way that no one had before These were directors who wouldn't take no for an answer Generation Tarantino The Last Wave of Young Turks in Hollywood is an examination of the films careers and artistic styles of the most significant filmmakers to emerge during the 1990s With interviews from filmmakers screenwriters cameramen producers and actors this is a book about a generation of directors who raised the artistic bar and changed cinema forever
