Love, Life, and All That Other Shit Arquay, 2015-11-04 Arquay expresses her views on a variety of topics in this poetry collection. Topics explored include love, religion, society, relationships, and her perspective on the African American experience.

Love, Lust, and All That Other Shit Arquay, 2015-05-14 Arquay invites readers on a journey through her youth as she wrote on the experiences of life touching on love, sex, depression, anger, and hurt. She will make you laugh and maybe even revisit fragments of your own past where you had to sift through the love, the lust, and all that other shit. Another Round:

Selected Poems Alli Warren, 2021-06-30 This Selected Poems Alli Warren's first UK collection presents work from her first three full-length books: Here Come The Warm Jets 2013, I Love It Though 2017, and Little Hill 2020. Shot through with clear-sighted hope yet intensely attentive to the specific cruelties of our present epoch, Warren asks who is permitted unhindered breath. This work aims to study the past to denaturalize the present, to reverse the mirrored and self-perpetuating notions of nature and culture, human and animal. Warren knows that poetry can't sing from beyond mediation but insists that poetry can acknowledge mediation's more mendacious disguises and bring them out into the open. Carried through by a prosody alternately razor sharp and capaciously crowded in lines and sentences, harshly yet lovingly aware of the possible future in the tender measure, poet as ventriloquist throws multiple voices to see what's revealed under poetry's light. With glamour and imagination and biting humour in abundance, Warren seeks to walk to the end of the world system, the terror of the totally plausible future at once post-apocalyptic and utopian. When I said I was going to the bar, I meant no death, no death. Such work may begin from economic fact but it's where you go from there that matters. Operating within the flows and constraints of racialised capitalism, a space of horror shared with monsters, Warren's poetry also throws up multiple pleasures, guilty and otherwise, and glimmers of collective possibility of possible futures we can sometimes glimpse and live within. This is poetry written from community, poetic and otherwise, living and dead, and otherwise from Oakland, El Cerrito, San Francisco, from the meadow, from the street, in a car, marching to shut down the port, walking to breathe in a charged air, everyday and Orphic, buoyant and forked. These poems give us the measures, the strength, the breath to propel ourselves through the circumscribed day. ALLI WARREN is the author of Here Come The Warm Jets, City Lights 2013, I Love It Though, Nighboat 2017, Little Hill, City Lights 2020, and numerous chapbooks. She edited the literary magazine Dreamboat, co-curated the New Reading Series at 21 Grand, and co-edited the Poetic Labor Project. She has lived and worked in the Bay Area since 2005. Tupac Behind

Bars Michael Christopher, 2023-03-21 On March 8th 1995 2Pac Shakur, arguably the World's greatest Rapper, arrived at the Clinton Correctional facility in Dannemora, New York, secured in shackles. Tupac walked with his eyes looking forward and his head hung low through the same hardened steel gates of the hundred and fifty-year-old prison that men such as Lucky Luciano and John Gotti had passed through before him. Little has been written or said about Tupac Shakur's time inside one of America's most notorious prisons. He remained incarcerated for seven months until his unlikely release on bail on October

12th of the same year Tupac Behind Bars is a glimpse inside the 2017 Rock and Roll Hall of Fame inductee's tumultuous time in Dannemora. It marked an important period in his life, one during which he got married, met his self-professed biological father, and signed a deal with Death Row Records on a handwritten contract. Herbert Woodward Martin and the African American Tradition in Poetry Ronald Primeau, 2004 Herbert Woodward Martin is a prize-winning poet and performer, an actor and playwright, a singer and opera librettist, a professor and a scholar. Born in Alabama in 1933 and educated in Toledo and New York, Martin has lived and worked most of his life in Ohio. His parents appreciated literature and music and saw to it that their young son was immersed in the arts. The family moved to Toledo, Ohio, when Herbert was twelve years old. He began to write poetry during his undergraduate years at the University of Toledo, from which he graduated in 1964. Herbert Woodward Martin and the African American Tradition in Poetry chronicles the writing and performing career of Herbert W. Martin, focusing on the way his life has informed his art and situating his creative work within the context of the African American tradition in poetry. Author Ronald Primeau examines Martin's place in American literature with particular emphasis on his multidisciplinary talents and his contributions to the arts through his highly regarded performances of poetry, especially that of Paul Laurence Dunbar, and his acting, playwriting, and composing. Even though Martin's work is highly regarded, it has been anthologized. Life...Love...Denials...Delusions: A Book of Urban Poetry & Short Stories Aaliyah Ja'Net, 2012-05-31 This is a gritty look at love and life from the eyes of Aaliyah Ja'Net. Love Don't Come Easy Alex Hairston, 2004-01-01 Eric Brown's seemingly perfect life lacks the one thing he truly desires: a meaningful relationship. But in the wake of their fractured separation, a drained Dean loses all inspiration and succumbs to a whirlpool of addiction and self-loathing. While in

Stöckl,2021-01-18 Despite the recent turn to affects and emotions in the humanities and despite the unceasing popularity of romantic and erotic love as a motif in fictional works of all genres the subject has received surprisingly little attention in academic studies of contemporary drama Love in Contemporary British Drama reflects the appeal of love as a topic and driving force in dramatic works with in depth analyses of eight pivotal plays from the past three decades Following an interdisciplinary and historical approach the study collects and condenses theories of love from philosophy and sociology to derive persisting discourses and to examine their reoccurrence and transformation in contemporary plays Special emphasis is put on narratives of love s compensatory function and precariousness and on how modifications of these narratives epitomise the peculiarities of emotional life in the social and cultural context of the present Based on the assumption that drama is especially inclined to draw on shared narratives for representations of love the book demonstrates that love is both a window to remnants of the past in the present and a proper subject matter for drama in times in which the suitability of the dramatic form has been questioned

Declaration of War Christopher Greenfield, 2021-11-27 Vanity is an iron curtain cursed upon those who choose to wield it So reads the last line in the foreword to Christopher Greenfield's newly renowned Declaration of War Influenced by the anti normative likes of Charles Bukowski the visionary idealism of Albert Camus the ruthless cultural critique of Friedrich Nietzsche and the naturalism of David Hume Greenfield calls into question via a series of short stories and poems the essential tenets of the human condition what it means to truly be free why we desire love and belonging wherein hatred and bigotry are rooted when we seemingly desire quite the opposite and the subliminal functions of power and authority that relentlessly work to keep us enslaved to our own primal self destructive tendencies in the midst of a society that has far outgrown the need for them Knowing first hand what it's like to be deemed the black dog rebel and the heretic of social circles Christopher Greenfield was intrigued by the curious fascination of his friends and colleagues The collection of works contained in the Declaration of War are based on real conversations debates and experiences that serve to allude to the grander image of human strife will power and the nature of one's own suffering that which if able to be harnessed may be used to create something beautiful beyond the absurdity of the superficial and mundane

Finding the World's Fullness Robert Cording, 2019-11-20 Forty years as a poet has kept Robert Cording looking at the details of everyday experience That long labor has brought him face to face with the inescapable complexity of a world that is full of suffering and injustice And grace This journey has convinced him that as Czeslaw Milosz puts it poetry embodies the double life of our common human circumstance as beings in between the dust that we are and the divinity to which we would aspire Cording's task has therefore been to evoke what he calls the primordial intuitions of Christianity that we live in a world we did not create that God's immanent presence is capable of breaking in on us at every moment that most of the time we cannot taste and see that presence because we live in a world of mirrors that only by attention can we live in the world but outside of our existing conceptions of it The reflections in Finding the World's Fullness comprising not only thoughts on metaphor but also close readings of poets ancient and modern including George Herbert Robert Browning Elizabeth Bishop and Stanley Kunitz suggest that as Richard Wilbur puts it The world's fullness is not made but found
