Accounting Basics

Accounting Standards

- Accounting principles have been in existence since the late 1400s when Giovanni Lami Paroli, an Italian mathematician, first wrote about them.
- Modern-day accounting principles in the United States are collectively accepted accounting principles (GAAP). These principles guide the work of accountants and auditors.
- The U.S. Securities and Exchange Commission (SEC) has regulatory authority over accounting principles used by public corporations.
  - The SEC is a federal agency responsible for enforcing the federal securities laws and regulating the securities industry.
  - It is responsible for the development of GAAP in the accounting profession via the Financial Accounting Standards Board (FASB).
- The FASB develops new standards to deal with new activities that allow input from those who use and prepare financial statements.
- The International Accounting Standards Board (IASB) develops global accounting standards.
  - Multi-national companies follow IASB standards.
  - The IASB works with other key global accounting standards bodies to create a single source of accounting standards.
- The Government Accounting Standards Board (GASB) sets state and local government standards for accounting.
  - The GASB is a private, non-governmental organization subject to oversight and funding by the Department of Education (DOE).
  - The federal government follows standards set by the GASB when performing accounting for its state.

Concepts & Principles

- Entity concept
  - An enterprise must stand apart from other organizations as a separate economic unit.
  - Assets and obligations must be accounted for separately from the personal assets and obligations of its owner.
- Going concern concept (i.e., continuity assumption) The entity will continue to exist long enough to meet its contractual obligations and carry out plans.
  - Businesses should report information on regular intervals.
  - Annual reports show income for the last 12 months and end on the last day of the fiscal year. Therefore, annual reports show the financial position as of the last day of the fiscal year.
  - Public companies report financial information quarterly (3-month time intervals).
- Reliability principle
  - Accounting records must be based on the most reliable data available.
  - Reliable measurements in amounts, objectives, methods, and verifiability.
- Relevance principle
  - Accounting information must be timely.
  - Accounting information in production provides feedback and helps decision making.
- Cost principle Assets and services acquired are recorded at actual historical cost unless their market value.
- Conservatism
  - Loss must be recognized to avoid overvaluing assets and overstate and understate expenses and liabilities.
  - Accounting estimates should be based on conservative assumptions.
- Revenue principle
  - Revenue should only be recorded when earned.
  - Revenue is earned when the business has completed rendering services to the customer.
  - The amount to record is equal to the cash value of services or goods.
  - The collection of cash must be reasonably assured or credit sales.
- Matching principle
  - Expenses must be matched against revenues in the same accounting period.
  - Costs incurred in previous periods in a period are recognized as expenses.
- The accounting period
  - The accounting period is the period connecting the business activities.
  - It is usually 1 year ending on Dec. 31 (called the fiscal year in the calendar year).
  - Other fiscal year ends will use any other date of the year elected by management.
- Cost basis accounting
  - The impact of costs is not recognized until cash is paid or received.
  - Revenue is recorded when cash is received; expenses are recorded when cash is paid.
  - This method is adequate for small companies that don't report to external parties, but it is not acceptable under GAAP.
- Accrual basis accounting
  - The impact of costs is recognized as they occur.
  - Revenue is recorded when earned; expenses are recorded when incurred.
  - Transactions are recorded when cash has not been received or paid.
  - This method is required by GAAP.

The Accounting Equation

Assets = Liabilities + Owners' Equity

Assets

- Assets are economic resources acquired to benefit the company in the future; they would have been investments.
  - Current assets include cash, accounts receivable, and inventory.
  - Accounts receivable (AR) or trade receivables usually arise from sales made on account.
  - Notes receivable (NR) are written promises to receive cash.
  - Prepaid expenses (PE) usually arise from payments made in advance for services or goods to be received.
  - Inventory includes the ending levels of merchandise in stock.
  - Supplies include the ending amount of the business; examples include office and customer supplies.
  - Prepaid expenses (PE) include the goods and services to be received in the future.
  - Land (L) is the business property and land on which the business operates.
  - Buildings (B) are the structures and equipment used in the business.
  - Equipment (E) includes the ending levels of equipment in stock.
  - Assets are listed on the balance sheet in order of liquidity.
- Assets are listed according to whether they are long-term assets.
  - Liabilities (L) include obligations or debts payable (debts) of assets resulting from past transactions.
  - Accounts payable (AP) or trade payable is the debt that arises from credit purchases.
  - Notes payable (NP) include the company must pay as a result of signing a promissory note for goods or services.
  - Owner payable (OP) is the debt that arises from credit purchases.
  - Capitalized expenses include assets that are not listed as liabilities on the balance sheet.
- Owner's equity (OE) is the difference between assets and liabilities.
  - Contributed or paid-in capital (C) is the amount invested in the company by its owners.
  - Retained earnings (RE) is the amount of earnings that have been retained in the company.
  - Dividends (D) are the amounts of cash or assets that have been paid to the owners.
  - Retained earnings (RE) is the amount of earnings that have been retained in the company.
  - Retained earnings (RE) is the amount of earnings that have been retained in the company.

Financial Statements: Formal Reports of an Entity

Balance Sheet (Statement of Financial Position)

- Assets are listed on the left side of the balance sheet and liabilities and owner's equity are listed on the right side.
- Prepared after the income statement and the statement of retained earnings.
- Current assets
  - Cash and other resources expected to be cash, sold, or used up during the current operating cycle of the business (usually 1 year).
  - Current current assets: Cash, accounts receivable, inventory, supplies, and prepaid expenses.
- Noncurrent assets
  - Assets that are not current assets.
  - Current noncurrent assets: Buildings, equipment, furniture, fixtures, land, natural resources, and intangible assets (patents and copyrights).
- Current liabilities
  - Obligations that will be paid within the operating cycle (usually 1 year).
  - Typical current liabilities: Accounts payable, notes payable, short-term debt, current taxes, and current interest.
- Noncurrent liabilities
  - Obligations that are not current liabilities.
  - Typical noncurrent liabilities: The noncurrent portion of payables, notes payable, long-term debt, pension benefits obligations, and long-term obligations under product or service warranties.
- Equity
  - The difference between assets and liabilities.
  - Typical equity: Capital contributed by owners and retained earnings.
